EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The Center for Survey Research at the University of Virginia conducted the 2019 Reston Community Center (RCC) Community Survey during the summer of 2019 to assess awareness and support for RCC; to understand current and projected use of programs; to identify barriers to RCC use; to assess the level of support for a performing arts center; and to identify accessible sources for information on leisure activities. Highlights of responses are identified below.

A total of 1,906 community members participated in the survey; 1,089 of these completions were probability-based and 817 were non-probability. A probability sample ensures that results reflect the community across demographic categories and present more accurate reflections of the community's attitudes. A non-probability sample offers the opportunity for anyone who is interested to offer their views, but also may reflect views that are not representative of the community taken as a whole. Across these samples, the survey was able to capture the wide range of experiences and opinions of Reston community members. In particular, the probability sample successfully reached residents relatively new to Reston (34% have lived in Reston less than 5 years) as well as residents with a range of experiences in using RCC. While the probability and non-probability samples vary somewhat in demographics and experiences with RCC, the two samples often responded comparably on opinion items, including on support for a new arts venue.

Because of the scientific methods used to recruit the probability sample, statistical results from the probability respondents can be generalized to the Reston population with a certain level of confidence (95%). For results based on the probability sample, the margin of error due to sampling is +/- 3.7%. Because of this, highlighted findings focus on responses from the probability sample, though there is occasional reference to the non-probability results as well. For complete responses across both samples, please see Appendix B of this report.

AWARENESS OF RESTON COMMUNITY CENTER

There were high levels of awareness and support for RCC.

- More than four out of five (84%) probability respondents said they were “very familiar” or “somewhat familiar” with RCC. This figure jumps to 96% of non-probability respondents.
- Strong majorities said RCC makes Reston a more attractive place to live (90%) or have a business (76%); these figures are nearly identical among the non-probability sample. Nearly half (47%) of probability respondents said that RCC is “very important” to the overall quality of life in Reston; 62% of non-probability respondents consider RCC “very important” to Reston.
- Over half of probability respondents (54%) said that they or a family member have participated in an RCC-sponsored event or class in the past twelve months. Among the respondents whose households had not attended RCC in the past year, 52% had attended an RCC program or event at some point in the past. In contrast, 81% of non-probability households had attended RCC in the past year, and among the households who had not attended in the past year, 73% had attended at some point in the past.

USE OF PROGRAMS

- Community events (40%), the Professional Touring Artist Series at the CenterStage (31%), drop-in swim (23%) and rental of RCC space (22%) were the most widely used programs/services among probability respondents. These were also the same top four used programs/services by non-probability respondents, though with higher rates of participation.
- Among probability respondents, lifelong learning had the highest level of potential interest (63%) yet only 17% participation. Similarly, land-based fitness and wellness programs were of interest (61%) with relatively low actual participation (17%).

Three in four probability respondents (76%) expressed a desire to participate in RCC programs more than they currently do, with classes being the area of greatest interest. Eighty percent of non-probability respondents would like to participate more than they do.

BARRIERS TO PARTICIPATION

Across samples, respondents express being “too busy” as the primary reason for not participating in RCC programs as much as they would like. In addition, they selected “current programs are scheduled at inconvenient times” and “lack of awareness of existing programs” as the other top reasons for not participating more.

SUPPORT FOR A PERFORMING ARTS CENTER

The topic of a performing arts center has drawn wide public attention with Reston residents holding passionate views. Survey findings suggest:

- There is widespread support for this type of center in Reston. Two-thirds (68%) of probability respondents were at least somewhat interested in Reston having a larger venue for performing arts, with half being either interested or very interested. These proportions of support are closely matched among non-probability respondents as well.
- Over 80% of probability respondents were at least somewhat supportive of RCC operating the arts venue if it were built by a developer; 68% of respondents were either supportive or very supportive of this. Support was again very similarly reported within the non-probability sample.
- The majority of probability respondents (56%) were supportive of RCC financing the building of a new arts venue by means of a bond issue, though support was comparatively lower than other scenarios. Nearly 40% of probability respondents were either supportive or very supportive of this financing route, and these percentages are comparable among non-probability respondents as well.

COMMUNICATIONS

RCC is committed to serving the entire Reston community and was interested in the types of media respondents regularly use, as well as respondents' sources for finding information on recreational activities.

- Online and print journalism, radio, broadcast television, and Facebook were the most widely used media, with approximately half of respondents regularly using each of these media.
- The RCC seasonal program guide was the most widely used source for information about RCC programming.
- Friends, family, and internet searches were the most widely cited source for general leisure/recreational information, followed by social media and local newspapers.

I. Introduction

About the Survey

The 2019 Reston Community Center Community Survey was conducted by the Center for Survey Research (CSR) during the summer of 2019. The purpose of the survey was to assess awareness and support for RCC; to understand current and projected use of programs; to identify barriers to RCC use; to assess the level of support for a performing arts center and to identify accessible sources for information on leisure activities.

The 2019 survey follows the 2009 Reston Community Center Citizen Satisfaction Survey, which CSR conducted for RCC in the fall of 2009. Since that time, the Reston population, like much of Northern Virginia, has grown¹. The total Reston population has increased by over 10% in the last decade, with the number of adults and households also increasing. The proportion of residents who are renters increased from 31% in 2009 to 39% in 2019. The population is also older, with a higher proportion of residents aged 65 and older. In addition, there is now a higher proportion of residents who identify as Hispanic or Latino than there was in 2009. Finally, the population's annual household income is higher, with a greater proportion in 2019 of households with an annual income over $150,000, adjusted for inflation.

In addition to these demographic shifts, Reston has experienced significant changes in infrastructure. In 2014, the Silver Line officially opened, which facilitated travel in and out of Reston. Following the Silver Line extension, new zoning areas have been established that permit higher densities of mixed-use and residential building. With these changes, ongoing development, and increased population size, Reston residents continue to face high traffic congestion. Reston Community Center itself has undergone changes since the last survey, including the Aquatics Center renovation undertaken at the start of 2019. As RCC considers its plans for the next ten years, the results of this survey are intended to provide RCC with greater understanding of the current community's practices, needs, and priorities as they relate to recreation, leisure-time and culture.

Survey Methodology

The RCC's Board of Governors Long Range Planning Committee developed a conceptual outline to serve as the basis of the questionnaire. Using the conceptual outline and previous surveys conducted by the Center for Survey Research with residents of the Reston community, a questionnaire was developed and later pretested by a focus group convened at RCC on June 4, 2019. During the focus group, participants were first asked to individually complete the questionnaire. In group discussion, they were then given the opportunity to provide feedback on the content of the questionnaire and ask questions regarding the intent of the survey. Based on pretest feedback, significant edits were made to the questionnaire, including clarification of the survey's purpose, reformatting of the questionnaire, and reorganization of questions to improve flow and facilitate conditional logic, or skip patterns within the questionnaire. See Appendix E for a copy of the final questionnaire.

To support community-wide participation and maintain statistical integrity, the survey followed a mixed-probability and mixed-mode design. More specifically, the final sample was acquired through both probability and non-probability methods, and data were collected through both mail-in paper questionnaires as well as an online option. The questionnaires across sample types and modes were identical in terms of their content.

The probability sample was based on a stratified address-based sample (ABS) of 5,500 Reston households, meaning the probability survey was only available to Reston residents. These participants were first mailed an advance letter followed by a questionnaire packet that contained a cover letter and postage-paid return envelope. Non-respondents were sent a second questionnaire packet that provided instructions to participate in the survey online as an alternative to the included paper questionnaire. A closeout postcard was sent as a final reminder to non-respondents from the probability sample.

Non-probability participation was available to any individual over 18 who sought out the survey. RCC posted to their website a publicly available, open-access link to the online questionnaire. In addition, RCC made available 400 paper survey packets that community members could pick up, complete, and mail back directly to CSR.

For both samples, the questionnaire was available online in English and Spanish, and was available on paper in English, Spanish, Chinese, Russian, and Arabic.

Data collection for probability and non-probability responses ended on September 16, 2019. CSR managed the tracking of responses and performed data entry for all paper completions. Data entry validation was performed on 15% of submitted questionnaires.

Survey Response

A total of 1,906 complete responses were collected, 1,089 of which were probability-based and 817 were non-probability. The survey response rate (based on completions from the probability sample) was 19.8%, with a margin of error of ± 3.7 percent at the 95 percent level of confidence². For a detailed discussion of the survey methodology, including sampling design and weighting procedures, please see Appendix H.

Demographic Overview

An early task in the analysis of any survey data is comparing the demographics of the survey sample with the demographics of the population being studied. For example, surveys often over-represent women and people in higher socio-economic categories. When there are discrepancies between the demographic characteristics of the survey respondents and the full population, it is wise to “post-weight” the data in order to compensate for these differences. In post-weighting, greater statistical weight is assigned to respondents who are in categories under-represented in the survey results compared to the population, whereas those in over-represented groups are given lesser weight. Put differently, applying weights allows the survey sample to more closely mirror the demographics of Reston.

These weights are calculated by matching the survey sample’s percentages to the population percentages on selected variables. The weighting procedure leads to small differences in the survey results but increases their accuracy by making them more reflective of the actual study population.

The probability survey data were post-weighted to the population (Reston residents) on a single characteristic: homeownership status by race. This means that survey responses from individuals in under-represented race/homeowner categories will be given greater weight so that the final data file more closely matches the distribution of these categories in the population. The non-probability results cannot be weighted because it is unknown what population this sample represents (e.g., some non-probability respondents live in Reston while others work in Reston but live elsewhere, others may live and work in a nearby area but still attend RCC events, and so on). For a complete description of the weighting procedures, including the base weighting conducted to counteract the effects of the probability sampling design, see Appendix H.

Table 2 provides the proportion breakdowns across racial/ethnic affiliation and homeownership within the samples and population. The first column shows the count and proportions of these variables among the non-probability sample, which as noted, cannot be weighted. The second column of the table shows the results from the probability sample prior to any weighting. The third column shows the results of the probability sample after all weighting has been applied. The narrative of the report focuses on the weighted probability sample as it is this data that provides the study’s ability to draw statistical inference and generalize survey results to the population of Reston. The fourth column presents estimates of the Reston population, when available. These population estimates are from the U.S. Census Bureau’s American Community Survey 5-year Estimates.

As seen in Table 2, renters were under-represented across racial/ethnic affiliations, and White homeowners were over-represented. Post-stratification weighting helped to bring the probability sample in closer alignment to the Reston population on this measure. Specifically, the percentage of White homeowners in the weighted probability sample was brought down to 52%, and the percentage of White renters was brought up to 28%. The percentages of African American/Black renters, Asian renters, and Multiracial/Other race renters were also brought up to more closely match the Reston population.

While the post-stratification weighting only incorporated race by homeownership, other demographic proportions within the weighted probability sample were impacted. The following demographic overview discusses additional characteristics of the weighted probability data. Complete demographics for the full sample can be found in Appendix B.

As seen in Table 3, approximately 61% of the weighted probability respondents were female. The non-probability sample had an even larger portion female (78%). Slightly more than a third of the weighted probability respondents (34%) were over 64 years old, 29% were between the ages of 50 and 64, 13% were ages 40 to 49, and 24% were under 40 years of age. The probability respondents were slightly younger than respondents from the non-probability sample, though both still skewed older than the population. The average age of the weighted probability sample was 55 years old.

Approximately 62% of weighted probability respondents were married, with 21% of weighted probability respondents reporting that they had children living in the household. Both the probability and non-probability samples reflect the population well in the proportion of households with children.

Five percent of probability respondents identified themselves as being of Hispanic or LatinX origin, which is a greater proportion than represented in the non-probability sample, though both show underrepresentation compared to the population of Reston.

Nine in ten weighted probability respondents (92%) reported English to be the primary language spoken in their household, compared to 73% in the population. Of those reporting languages other than English, nearly one-quarter (24%) reported Spanish and an additional one-fifth (20%) reported Chinese as the primary language spoken in their household.

As seen in Table 4, 54% of weighted probability respondents were working full-time, an additional 9% were either working part-time or were self-employed, and 28% percent were retired. Of those reporting their income, 12% had annual household incomes less than $50,000, over one-quarter (28%) earned $50,000 to $100,000, one-fifth (22%) earned $100,000 to $150,000, and two-fifths (39%) earned $150,000 or more. The survey samples did skew toward a higher average income than the general population, though representation is fairly well matched in the middle-income categories from $50,000 to $149,999.

Approximately 15% of weighted probability residents' highest achieved educational level was some college or less. Twenty-nine percent had attained a four-year college degree. Over half (56%) had done some graduate work or completed a graduate program. Both survey samples did skew toward more education than the general Reston population.

Turning to measures specific to the survey, over two-thirds (69%) of the employed weighted probability respondents had a job located somewhere other than Reston (Table 5); this proportion was much lower among the non-probability respondents, where there was a more even split. About one-third of weighted probability respondents (34%) were relatively new to Reston, having lived there for less than five years. Fifteen percent had lived in Reston five to nine years, 24% had lived there 10 to 24 years, and 27% had lived there more than 25 years. The non-probability respondents had generally lived in Reston longer.

Ninety-four percent of the weighted probability sample had heard of RCC, and 54% had someone in their household who participated in or attended an RCC program or event in the past 12 months. RCC use was much higher among the non-probability respondents with 81% having had someone in their household participate or attend an RCC event in the last 12 months.

For complete frequencies of the probability sample, see Appendix A. For additional comparison between the probability and non-probability samples, see Appendix B.

Analysis

Open-end Responses Coding

To provide respondents ample opportunity to fully share their experiences and opinions with RCC, the survey questionnaire contained multiple open-ended questions where respondents could write-in their answers. CSR performed thematic coding across all the open-ended responses, which entails an inductive and iterative process. When a similar or related response appears repeatedly for a given question, a code is assigned to represent that response category. These codes were tracked, assigned, and tallied using Microsoft Excel. Coding schemes were also reviewed by a second analyst to improve integrity of the subjective coding process.

For the close-ended questions that contained an open-end answer choice (e.g., an “Other, please specify”), new categories were added to the quantitative data file and analysis was rerun when the new category had a critical mass of cases (typically at least five cases). If an open-ended response was given by just one case, then a new category was not added to the data file because the count size would be too small for meaningful analysis. Additionally, if a respondent gave an open-ended response that matched one of the existing categories, their response was reassigned to the existing category.

For the free-form open-ended questions (e.g., “What programs or facilities would you like to see RCC offer that it does not currently?”), a summary is provided in the narrative of the recurrent common themes that emerged across those responses. The complete list of open-ended responses, by question, can be viewed in Appendices F and G.

Group Comparisons

For this study, two types of comparison analysis were prepared: cross-tabulations and means comparisons. Across both types of comparison, statistical significance tests were performed to verify the existence of statistical differences among various subgroups. For the cross-tabulations, Chi-Square tests of independence were used to determine statistical significance; t-tests were run to determine statistical significance across the means comparisons. Put simply, if a survey result is found to be statistically significant, then we can confidently expect the same finding to exist in our population (i.e., Reston).

The cross-tabulation analysis examines most of the attitudinal and behavioral measures by five demographic variables:

- Age
- Zip code
- Homeownership status
- Length of residence in Reston
- The presence of children in the home

The results of the demographic cross-tabulation analysis are presented in Appendix C.

The means comparison analysis breaks down a subset of attitudinal and behavioral measures by the following demographic variables:

- Marital status
- Gender
- Education
- The presence of children in the home
- Length of residence in Reston
- Homeownership status
- Zip code
- Age
- Employment status
- Location of job
- Ownership status of commercial/rental property in Reston
- Ownership status of a business in Reston
- Primary language spoken in the home
- Hispanic identification
- Racial/ethnic identification
- Annual household income

The results of the means comparison analysis can be found in Appendix D.

Unless otherwise noted, the analysis and summary of findings in this report are based on weighted probability responses only, which provide the measures of prevalence and enable inference to the larger Reston community.

While the scientifically drawn probability sample provides the statistical inference for the study, it was still vital to include non-probability data collection as well for several reasons. First, unlike the probability sample, the non-probability method allowed non-residents of Reston to participate in the survey. This is especially important as RCC serves not just those who live in Reston but all members of the Reston community, including those who work in Reston but may live elsewhere. Additionally, the non-probability design permitted additional household members to respond, not just those selected from the ABS sample, making the survey process more inclusive. Finally, the non-probability design provided the opportunity for any individual to express their experiences with and opinions about RCC. Because of that, the non-probability platform very well may have attracted more active and involved respondents, compared to the probability cases, as these were individuals who sought out the survey.

For complete non-probability responses, see Appendix B, which includes a comparison of non-probability respondents to probability respondents across all responses, and see Appendix G for non-probability respondents' open-ended comments.

II. Familiarity and Awareness

To begin, respondents were asked whether or not they had heard of Reston Community Center (RCC). Overwhelmingly, respondents indicated that they had heard of RCC, with 94% answering “yes” to this question. Only respondents who had heard of RCC were asked the remaining questions. Respondents who had not heard of RCC were asked to skip to the last section of the questionnaire – demographics.

Respondents who had heard of RCC were then asked about their familiarity with RCC’s program offerings. Approximately four out of five respondents (83%) were at least somewhat familiar with RCC programming. There were several statistically significant demographic differences regarding familiarity. Residents who have children at home, own their homes, and/or are retired are more familiar with RCC programming. Additionally, familiarity increases with age as well as length of residence in Reston. See Appendix D (Mean Comparisons) for additional comparisons.

Importance of RCC

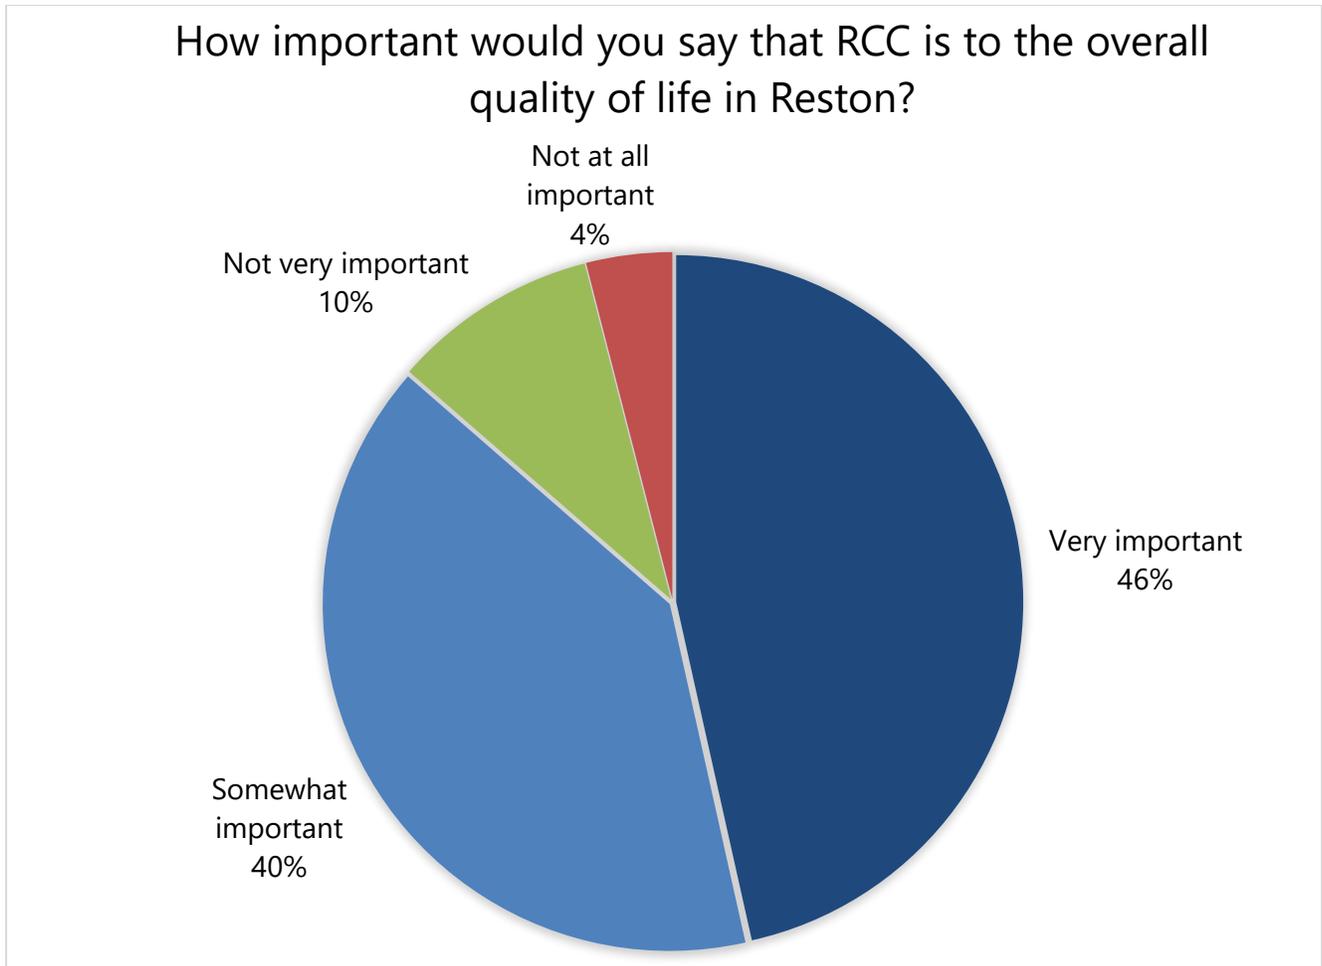

To gauge the general importance of RCC to the Reston community, respondents were asked a series of questions about RCC’s impact on the quality of life in Reston and the extent to which RCC makes Reston a more attractive place to live and/or work.

Quality of life in Reston

When asked how important they consider RCC to the overall quality of life in Reston, respondents overwhelmingly agreed it was important (Figure 1). Nearly half of respondents (46%) said RCC was “very important,” and an additional 40% said “somewhat important.”

Reported importance was highest among residents who are older, work in Reston, speak a language other than English at home, whose household income is below $50,000, and/or those who have lived in Reston for longer than 24 years (Appendix D).

Reston as a more attractive place to live

Nine out of ten respondents (90%) think RCC makes Reston a more attractive place to live. Agreement to this sentiment was highest among respondents who are younger than 29 and those older than 49 (Appendix C).

Reston as a more attractive place for businesses

In addition to RCC’s impact on Reston as a place to live, respondents were asked their opinion on RCC’s impact on Reston as a place for businesses. Three-quarters (76%) of respondents reported that RCC makes Reston a more attractive place for a business to locate.³ Respondents over 64 years old and those without children agreed with this sentiment at a statistically higher rate (Appendix C).

³ The 76% who answered “yes” reflects the valid percent, meaning between respondents who answered “yes” or “no,” 76% said “yes.” Two other answer categories were available for respondents – “it depends” and “don’t know.” These categories are excluded from the valid percent calculation, but counts and percent totals for all four categories are presented in Appendix C. It is worth noting that sizeable portions of respondents did select one of these two other categories.

III. Participation and Interest in RCC Programming

Use in Past Twelve Months

To assess current participation, respondents were asked, "In the past 12 months, have you and/or a household member attended a performance, class, workshop, or event at RCC or RCC-sponsored event?" Approximately half of respondents (54%) indicated that they or a household member had attended RCC in the last 12 months.

Participation in RCC programs in the past 12 months did vary by select demographic characteristics. Older respondents reported recent household participation at a higher rate than younger participants did. Rate of participation also increased with length of residence and the presence of children in the home (Appendix C).

Age of participants

Respondents who indicated their household had used RCC in the past 12 months were asked the ages of all household members who had recently participated. Over 40% of respondents reported a household member older than 65 who had used RCC, and this was the most reported age group. Participants ages 50 to 65 (reported by 33% of respondents) were the second most common age group of household RCC participants. For the complete age breakdown, see Appendix A.

Frequency of participation

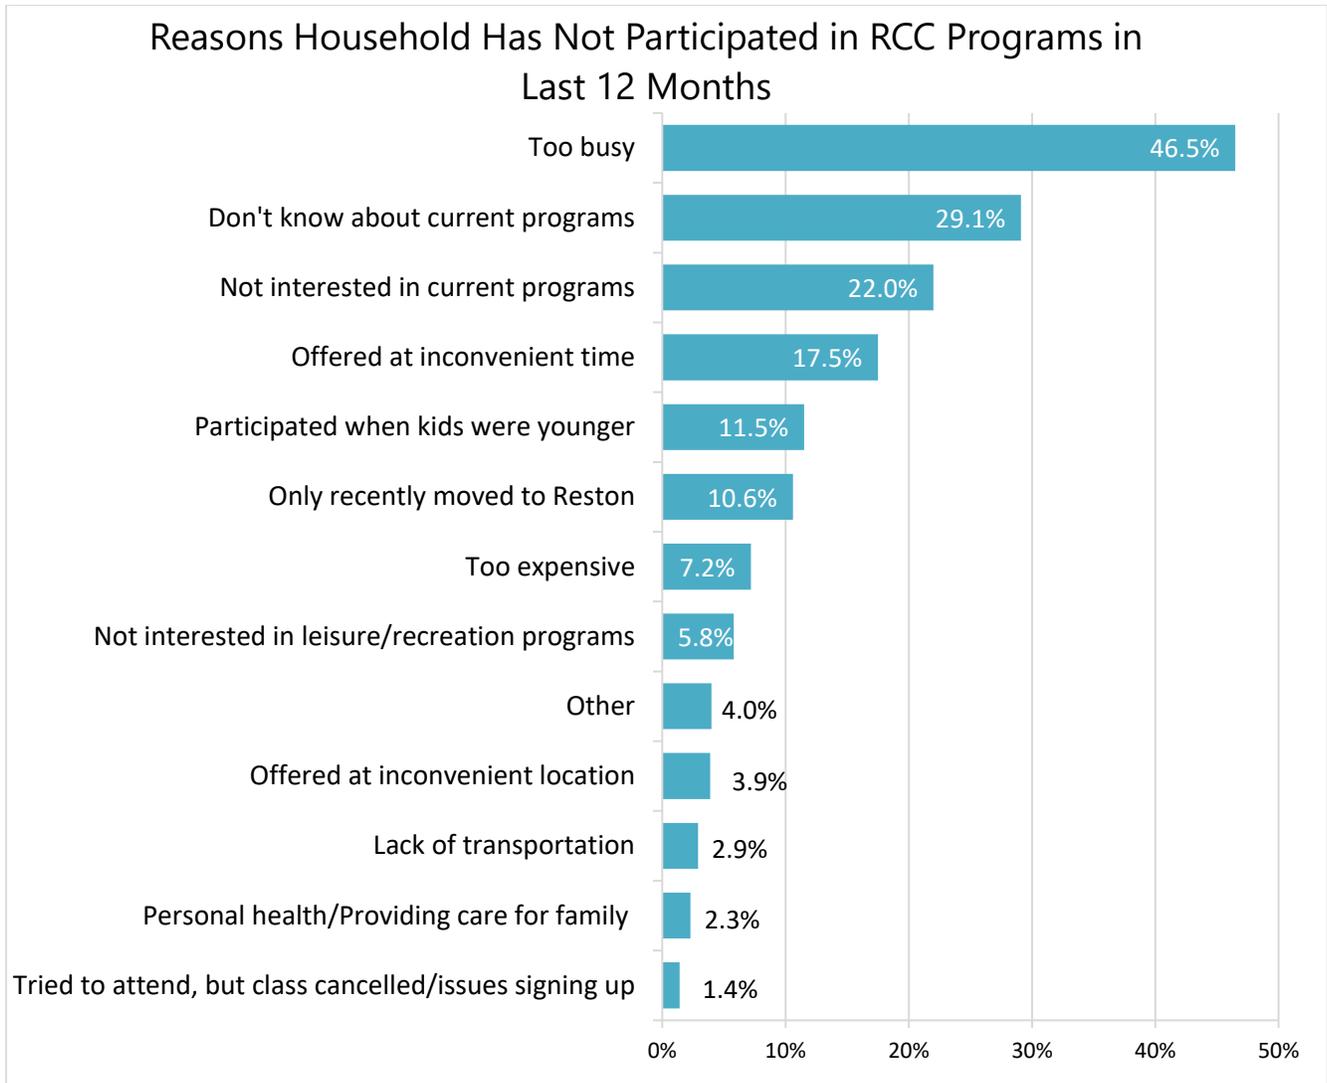

Respondents whose households had used RCC programs in the last 12 months were also asked how frequently they or their household members participated. Most respondents (64%) indicated that they/their household members participate only occasionally. Seventeen percent participate a few times a month, 9% participate once a week and 10% participate multiple times a week.

Reasons for not attending in past twelve months

Respondents whose household had not participated in RCC programs in the past 12 months were asked the reason(s) for having not attended.⁴ As can be seen in Figure 2, being too busy was the most widely reported reason, with nearly 50% of respondents providing this answer. The next most common reason for not attending was a lack of awareness about current programs (29%), followed by a lack of interest in current RCC program offerings (22%). Percentages in Figure 2 total to more than 100 percent because respondents could offer more than one reason for not attending.

Figure 2. Reasons household has not participated in RCC programs in last 12 months

Lifetime participation

Respondents who indicated they had not attended or participated in an RCC or RCC-sponsored event in the last 12 months were then asked if they or members of their household had ever attended an RCC program or event. Of these respondents, slightly over half (51.6%) indicated that they had participated in RCC at some point in the past.

Participation and Interest per Program Type

To assess use of different programs, all respondents were asked to rate their participation or interest across a series of program types. Specifically, for each program, the respondent could indicate if they "Have participated/currently participate," "May be interested in participating," or were "Not ever interested in participating." The list of programs was:

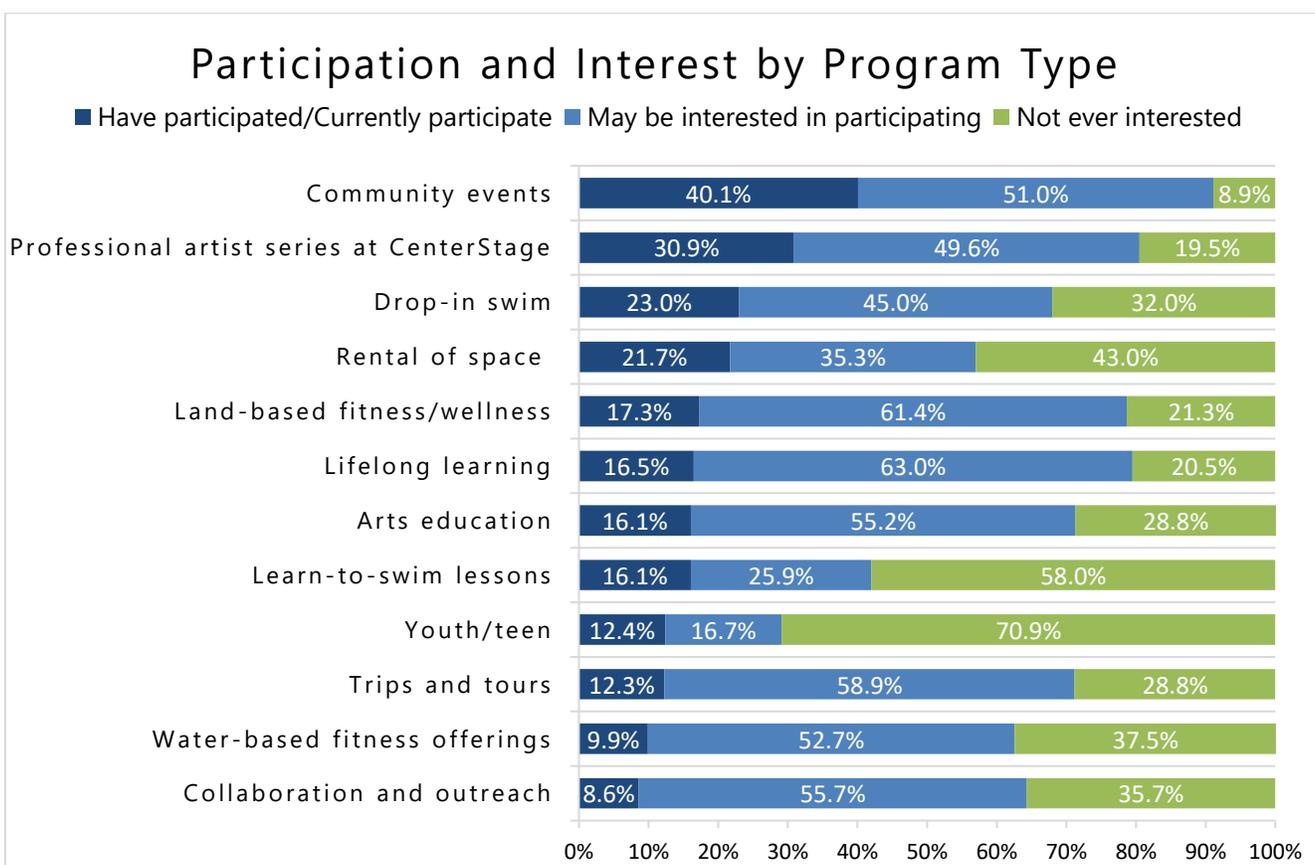

- Rental of space
- Drop-in swim

- Learn-to-swim lessons
- Water-based fitness offerings
- Arts education
- Community event
- Professional Touring Artists Series at the CenterStage
- Youth/teen
- Lifelong learning
- Land-based fitness/wellness
- Collaboration and outreach
- Trips and tours

As seen in Figure 3 below, community events are the most widely used program type with 40% of respondents' households having attended an RCC community event. An additional 51% of respondents are potentially interested in participating in a community event.

The Professional Touring Artist Series was the second most participated-in program type (31%), followed by drop-in swim (23%). It is worth noting that during 2019, swimming at RCC was prevented by the year-long renovation of the aquatics venue.

Figure 3. Participation and interest by program type

In terms of programs with high interest but relatively low participation, both lifelong learning and land-based fitness/wellness each had over 60% of respondents express interest.

Specifically, 63% of respondents reported potential interest in lifelong learning, while just 17% had participated in that program. Sixty-one percent of respondents expressed potential interest in land-based fitness/wellness with only 17% having participated. These two program types are followed closely in terms of potential interest by trips and tours, with 59% of respondents reporting interest compared to just 12% of respondents having participated.

Most relevant existing programs

Based on the previous list of program types, respondents were then asked in an open-ended question which programs they consider the most relevant to their household. Of the 854 respondents who answered this question, at least 25% each included community events, lifelong learning, land-based fitness, and/or the professional touring artist series in their response of programs most relevant to their household. Water-based fitness offerings and arts education were also popular choices, with both appearing in one in five respondents' list of programs. If one includes non-probability responses in the analysis of open-ended response, these same six program types are the most frequently cited. The complete lists of open-ended responses can be viewed in Appendices F and G.

Programs residents would like to see offered

Respondents were quite varied in their responses to the open-ended question, "What programs or facilities would you like to see RCC offer that it does not currently?" The most common responses included more age-specific programming, fitness/sports programming, and additional lifelong learning/educational courses.

Approximately one in five probability respondents who answered this question referenced age-specific programming. In terms of which age range(s) respondents wanted to see programming geared towards, answers were again varied. Many respondents mentioned senior programming specifically, while others suggested "adult only" programming aimed towards middle-aged adults. With respect to programming for youth and teens, it seemed that respondents were interested in more highly targeted programming for specific age groups. For example, one respondent cited a lack of programming for children under the age of 7, while others saw a need for infant care specifically. Other respondents mentioned programming specific to "tweens" (10-12 years old). Thus, while RCC has youth/teen cohort-specific programming already, respondents would like to see a greater number of programs, as well as programs that cater to specific, narrower, age ranges.

Fitness/sports programming and additional lifelong learning/educational courses each accounted for approximately 10% of responses. In terms of fitness/sports, some respondents listed specific sports/activities (tennis and yoga were among the more popular suggestions) while others simply suggested more of the existing fitness programs. Yoga came up in these responses as well, with a few respondents indicating that the current yoga offerings are too infrequent and are often full. A subset of respondents also requested fitness classes catered to individuals with limited mobility. Lastly, respondents also suggested offering fitness/sports programs that cater to working adults, mentioning either early mornings, later in the evenings, or more weekend fitness/sports programming. For lifelong learning/education courses, responses were highly varied with little consistency. The suggestions for lifelong learning ranged from real estate classes, to cooking classes, to STEM training, to gardening, to various craft classes.

Lastly, a substantial number of respondents who answered this question (over 20%) indicated that they had no additional suggestions or were not sure what else RCC could offer. Given the other responses, it may be that some respondents are satisfied with the type and variety of programs already offered, but perhaps would like more varied hours or additional offerings of existing programming. The full list of open-ended responses from probability respondents can be reviewed in Appendix F, and the non-probability responses in Appendix G.

IV. Access and Barriers to Participation

Desired Frequency and Type of Participation

The next series of questions examined respondents' intended use of RCC facilities and programs. First, respondents were asked how often they would like to participate in RCC programs and activities. Approximately one-quarter (27%) of respondents would like to participate regularly, over one-third (37%) would like to participate occasionally, and one-quarter (26%) are interested in a few times a year. Only one in ten respondents (11%) had no current interest in participating.

When asked if they would like to participate in RCC programs/activities more than they currently do, over three-fourths (76%) of respondents said they would. In response to a follow-up question on the kinds of programs/activities that respondents would like to participate in more,⁵ nearly four in five respondents (79%) said they would like to take a class. Over 50% of respondents said either a workshop or performance. Participating in an RCC trip was the fourth most common response with 39% of respondents indicating interest in participating in these more. For the complete frequency, see Appendix A.

Barriers to Participation

Reasons for not attending as frequently as desired

Given that three in four respondents (76%) would like to participate in RCC more than they currently do, it is important to examine the factors preventing desired participation. To that end, respondents were given a list of potential barriers and asked to rate each item on a scale of one to five, with one representing "Not at all a barrier" and five indicating a "Significant barrier." The list of items was:

- Cost/too expensive
- Lack of transportation
- Locations of programming too far/not convenient
- Duration of commitment, not enough time/too busy
- Current programs are scheduled at inconvenient times
- Program schedule is inconsistent
- Classes/programs that respondent wants to take overlap
- Lack of awareness for existing programs
- Difficulty with registration
- Classes/programs always full
- Something else⁶

⁵ Additional categories were added in post-coding of open-ended responses: "Swimming/pool related" and "Fitness/sports activity."

⁶ The category of "Something else" was excluded from the graph because the number of responses was far fewer than for other categories, and the resulting percentages were then misleading. To review the frequency table for "Something else" and the other categories, see Appendix A.

Not having enough time/being too busy had the highest average rating (3.19), meaning it was the most widely reported barrier. Over 50% of respondents rated being too busy as either a four or five on the barrier scale (Figure 4). Respondents who have children, who are employed, and/or are between 30 and 64 years old rated this barrier significantly higher than did other respondents.

The scheduling of current programs at inconvenient times was the second most widely reported barrier, based on the average of 2.92 on the one to five scale. Over a third (37%) of respondents rated this barrier as either a four or five. This barrier was rated significantly higher by respondents who are between 30 and 64 years old, whose educational level is less than a 4-year college degree, and those whose annual income is less than $50,000.

A lack of awareness for existing programs was the third most cited barrier (mean of 2.61) with 36% of respondents rating this barrier as a four or five. This barrier was rated significantly higher by respondents who have lived in Reston for less than 10 years, work full-time, and/or are 30-39 or 50-64 years old.

Many other barriers' ratings also significantly differed by demographic characteristics. Of note, lack of transportation was rated significantly higher by respondents who are retired and/or over 64 years old. Additionally, cost was a highly rated barrier by respondents who have children, are renters, whose educational level is less than a 4-year college degree, and/or whose household primarily speaks a language other than English. Unsurprisingly, the rating of cost as a barrier had an inverse linear relationship with household income. In other words, families with lower income rated cost as a greater barrier than did families with higher income. For the complete analysis of barrier ratings by demographic characteristics, please see Appendix D.

Strategies to Enable Participation

After respondents identified potential barriers to participation, they were then asked in an open-ended question, “What could RCC do to enable you or your family to use RCC more?” Approximately one in three respondents indicated that a wider range of classes and scheduling of programs would enable greater participation. The variety of this category of responses closely mirrored the program suggestions from the previous section. Again, respondents mentioned offering programming at additional times to accommodate working adults as well as age-specific programming.

In addition to a wider range of classes and a more accommodating schedule, approximately a quarter of respondents indicated that better communication would also enable greater participation. Multiple respondents indicated that they would like event alerts, either through text or through email. Online communication and advertising also came up regularly, with respondents encouraging RCC to better promote programs and activities around the community (using library billboards, etc.) and perhaps to implement some kind of regular newsletter that would allow potential participants to stay up-to-date on RCC events and programs. Some respondents also suggested using Facebook or other social media platforms. Complete responses can be found in Appendices F and G.

V. Facilities

Current Demand

Respondents were asked the extent to which they think the existing recreational and cultural facilities in and around Reston meet the current demand. Most respondents reported that existing facilities either “definitely” (18%) or “probably” (57%) meet current demand.

However, in a separate question, respondents were asked if they had encountered any difficulty signing up for RCC programs specifically, due to classes/facilities already being full. Over 40% either had encountered difficulty trying to sign up or hadn’t even bothered to try because they anticipated issues with demand being too high. RCC may consider adding additional classes/programs for high demand offerings in order to fully accommodate that demand.

Desired Facility Updates

Respondents were asked how important they consider it for RCC to continue to update existing facilities and carry out renovations. Over two-thirds of respondents considered RCC updates to be either “important” (35%) or “very important” (32%), and an additional one-fourth (26%) consider it either “somewhat” or “slightly” important for RCC to continue performing updates.

With a few exceptions, this opinion did not differ significantly by most demographic characteristics. However, it is worth noting that respondents who were newer to Reston (had lived in Reston less than five years) and/or worked in Reston did place significantly more importance on RCC updates and renovations.

Respondents who reported RCC updates and renovations being carried out as either “very important,” “important,” or “somewhat important,” were then asked an open-ended follow-up question as to what updates or renovations they would like to see done at either RCC facility.

Regarding the Hunters Woods facility, the most common response (reported by approximately one-quarter of respondents) dealt with expansion and/or renovation of the performing arts space, fitness rooms/locker rooms, and casual lounge areas. Regarding the current performance space, respondents specifically requested improvements to the acoustics and seating. The survey results don’t offer enough detail to determine if respondents were referring to the performance attributes of the CenterStage or the Community Room, but based on utilization, those comments likely pertain to the Community Room. The second most common comment referred to the pool, with respondents eager for the reopening following the improvements already underway.

Other recurrent responses were nonspecific routine maintenance/upkeep (20%) as well as updates related to aesthetic improvements (18%), like painting, landscaping, replacing the carpet, and updating the lighting and furniture. Additionally, one in ten respondents requested improved parking/access and increased security of the parking lot and area surrounding the Hunters Woods facility, especially at night.

Similar themes emerged in the requested updates to the Lake Anne facility. The most common response again referred to expansion and/or renovation of existing facilities (26%). Specifically, respondents would like to see larger fitness spaces that are more private, larger and improved meeting spaces/classrooms, and renovated bathrooms. Approximately 19% of respondents described general upkeep, 11% requested aesthetic improvements, and 10% would like more parking available at Lake Anne.

Performing Arts Center

In order to assess the Reston community's perspectives on expanding RCC's cultural and arts venues, respondents were asked a series of questions about their cultural consumption, interest in a larger performing arts venue, and level of support for different funding scenarios of a new performing arts center.

First, respondents were asked about the types of art content that their household likes.⁷ The most reported preferred art content was music, dance, and theater from America and Europe, which was liked by two-thirds of responding households. Documentaries (61%) and independent films (56%) were the second and third most cited types of art content. For the full range of responses, see Table 5 on the following page.

Respondents overall were interested in Reston having a larger venue in which to see music, dance, film screenings, and other types of performances, with two-thirds (67%) being at least somewhat interested (Figure 6). More specifically, half (49%) of respondents were either “very interested” or “interested,” and an additional 12% were “slightly interested.” Eleven percent of respondents are not at all interested, and another 9% think RCC’s existing facilities are sufficient.

Regarding the construction of a performing arts center, there was broad support for a scenario in which a developer builds the venue and RCC operates the venue on behalf of the community (Figure 7). Four in five respondents (82%) were at least somewhat supportive of this scenario, with two out of three (68%) being either "very supportive" or "supportive." Twelve percent of respondents are "not at all supportive" of this scenario.

Respondents were asked about their support for an alternative scenario in which there is not a developer and instead RCC undertakes a bond referendum to obtain authority from Reston to borrow funds in order to build the new facility. The majority supported this scenario, though at a lower rate than if the venue were constructed by a developer, and there was a much larger share of respondents who are not at all interested in this route of construction. While over half of respondents (56%) were at least somewhat supportive of RCC financing the building of a new arts venue by means of a bond referendum, almost one-third (32%) of respondents were not at all supportive of this scenario (Figure 8).

RCC Financing

To measure the public’s awareness of RCC’s funding mechanism, respondents were given a brief description of the property tax and tax rate used to fund RCC and then asked if they were aware of this. Less than half (46%) were aware of RCC’s funding structure prior to the survey.

Respondents were then presented with the following scenario and question: “When property tax values rise in our area, revenues raised from property taxes go up, too. If more tax money was available to RCC due to new revenue, which of the following statements comes closest to your view? RCC should..." Listed answer categories were:

- Increase the number/types of programs
- Increase accessibility to programming by lowering prices/fees
- Add features to programs and facilities
- Something else

Respondents who selected "something else," had the space to write in an answer. CSR reviewed and coded these other responses, and established four additional categories:

- A combination of the first three listed categories
- Lower property taxes/return funds to taxpayers
- Maintenance of current facilities
- Build a new/additional facility

Approximately 34% would like RCC to use the new revenue to increase accessibility to programming by lowering fees. An additional 32% would like to see RCC increase the number and types of programs, and 23% would like RCC to add features to their programs and facilities. Just 4% of respondents would like RCC to lower property taxes or return the funds to taxpayers. For the full frequency, see Appendix A, and for the complete lists of write-in responses, see Appendices F and G.

In the context of funding and fees, respondents were also asked the extent to which they support RCC continuing to offer an income-based fee waiver program to help people with limited means participate in RCC programming. Respondents were overwhelmingly supportive of this program, with nearly 90% being at least somewhat supportive. Only 4% of respondents were not at all supportive of the fee waiver system. For the full frequency, see Appendix A.

Approximately two percent of respondents provided a write-in "Depends" response to this question. Among these respondents, a portion explained they simply needed more information about the current fee waiver program and requirements. Others felt the program needed modification or were accepting of the program so long as the applicants were effectively vetted, and benefits had limits. The complete lists of responses can be viewed in Appendices F and G.

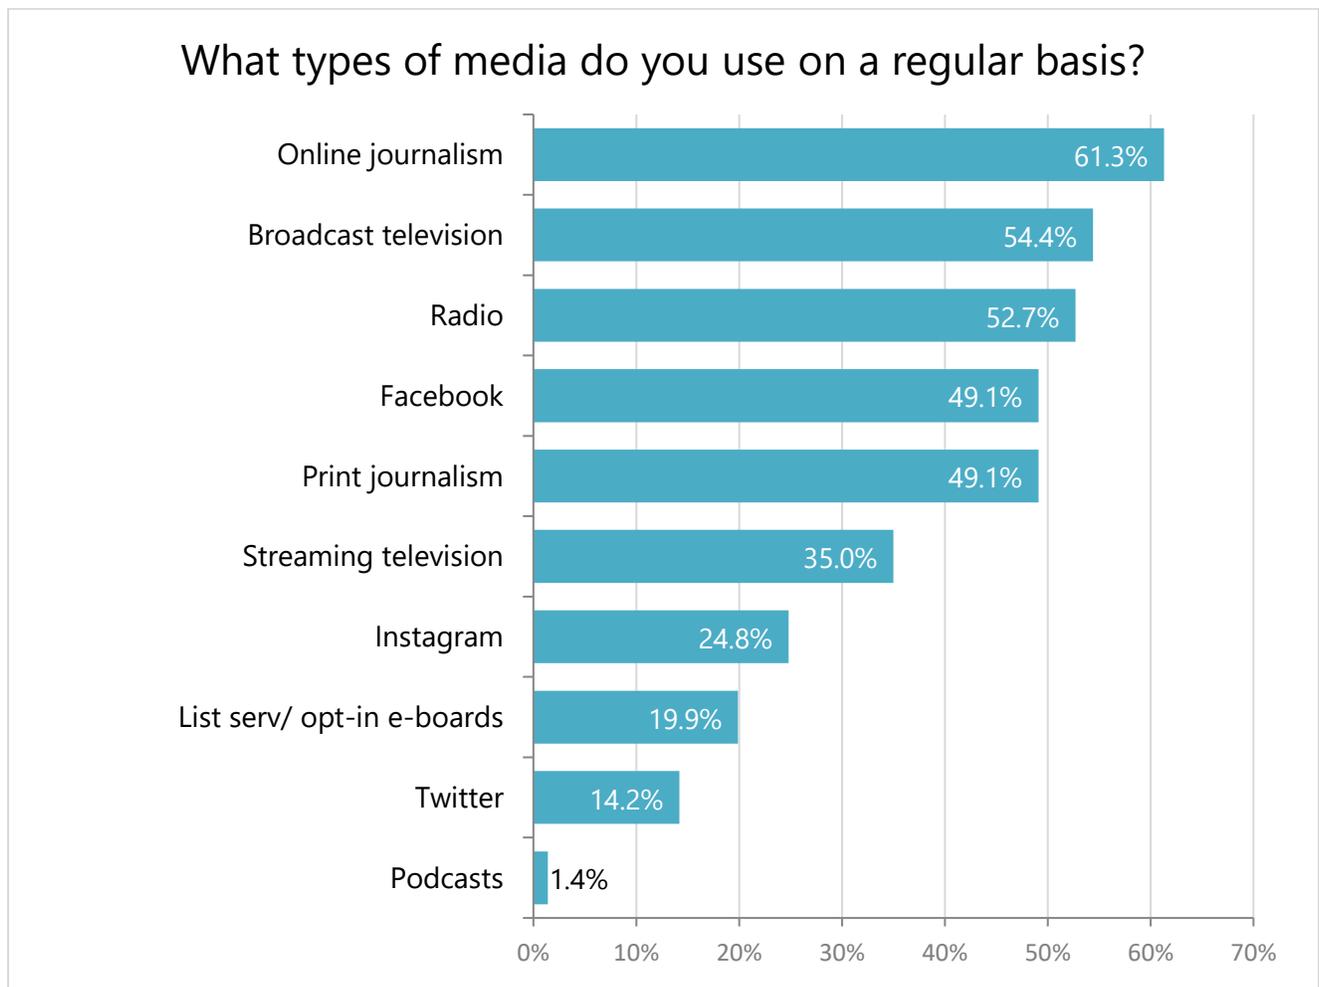

VI. Communications and Outreach

To be sure that RCC is effectively sharing information with the Reston community, RCC was interested in learning about residents’ media habits and current sources for information on leisure and recreational activities.

Regularly Used Media

Respondents were asked about the types of media they use on a regular basis, and they could select multiple media types.⁸ As seen in Figure 9 below, online journalism was the most commonly consumed media (61%), followed by broadcast television (54%), radio (53%), Facebook (49%) and print journalism (49%).

The types of media regularly used by respondents did significantly vary by several demographics.

⁸ Additional categories were added in post-coding of open-ended responses: “Non-media activity/source,” “local publications,” “email,” “Internet searches/other websites,” and “podcasts.”

Online journalism use varied by age but did not follow a linear pattern. Instead, use of online journalism was highest among middle-aged adults, with three in four respondents (75%) age 40-49 regularly reading it, which is the highest of all age groups. Respondents with children reported higher use compared to respondents without children in the home. Additionally, use of online journalism was highest among residents who were newer to Reston, with use of this type of media decreasing in prevalence among residents who have lived in the area longer.

Broadcast television significantly increased in prevalence with age. Just 13% of respondents aged 18-29 reported regularly watching broadcast television; in contrast, 75% of respondents over 64 reported regularly watching. Regular use of broadcast television was also higher among homeowners, residents who have lived in Reston longer, and those without children in the home.

Listening to the radio was higher among homeowners than renters but did not significantly vary by other demographic traits.

Regular use of print journalism varied by age, with older respondents regularly reading it at a higher rate than younger respondents. Regular consumption of print journalism was also higher among homeowners and residents who have lived in Reston longer.

Facebook use was more common among younger respondents, with over 70% of those 18-29 years old using the platform compared to just 32% of respondents over 64 years old. Perhaps related to age, use of Facebook also varied by length of residence in Reston, with use highest among respondents who have lived in Reston less than five years. Respondents with children were also more likely to regularly use Facebook. For additional demographic comparisons of media use, please see Appendix C.

Broadcast Television/News Outlets

Respondents were also asked about their use of specific stations and news outlets within the broader media categories. Regarding local broadcast television,⁹ NBC 4 was the most widely watched channel (45%), followed by CBS 9 (31%), ABC 7 (20%), and FOX 5 (20%). For local news outlets, the most widely read outlet was the Washington Post/WP Weekender (47%). In addition, the Reston Association-published Reston magazine was regularly read by over a third of respondents (34%), followed by Reston Now (28%), Reston Patch (28%), Reston Connection (27%) and Around Reston (27%).¹⁰

While respondents reported a large variety of radio stations,¹¹ a handful were regularly listened to by sizable portions of the sample. Channel 103.5 WTOP was the most widely listened to station (36%), followed by 88.5 WAMU (34%), and 90.9 WETA (26%). For the complete tables

⁹ Additional categories were added in post-coding of open-ended responses: “PBS/WETA/WAMU,” “Cable” “Other broadcast station.”

¹⁰ Additional categories were added in post-coding of open-ended responses: “Non-local news outlet” and “non-print/online media outlet.”

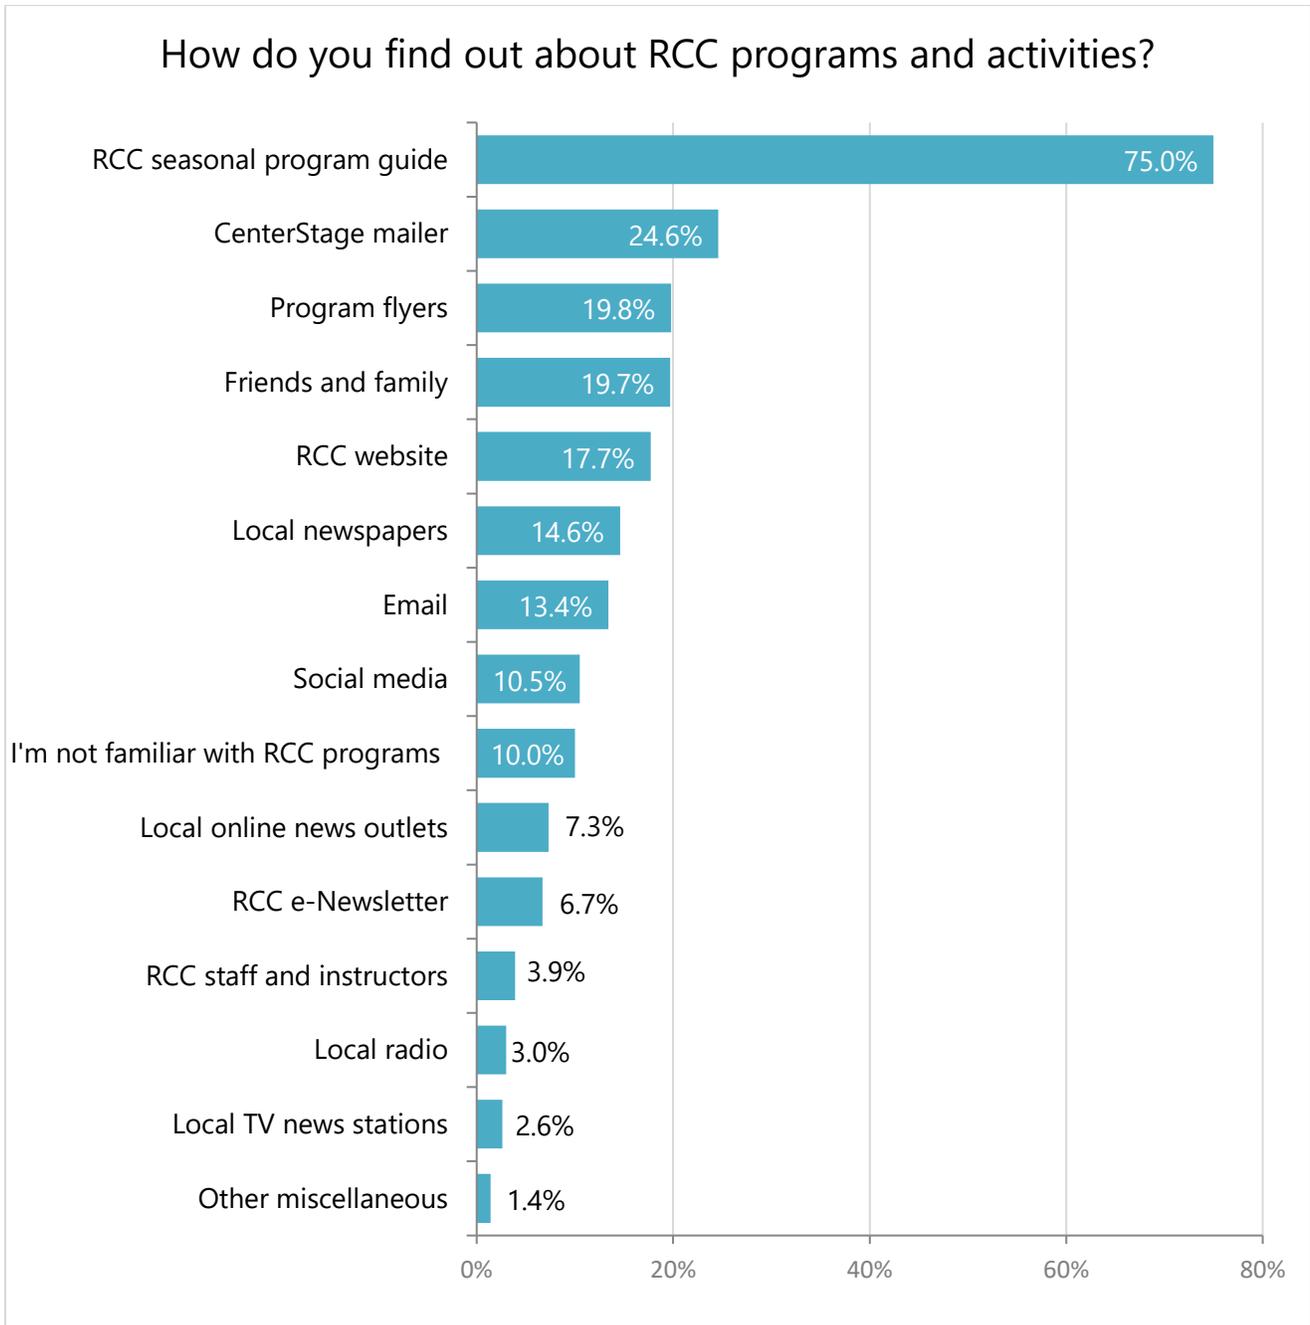

¹¹ Additional categories were added in post-coding of open-ended responses: “101.1(WWDC),” “SiriusXM,” “97.1(WASH),” “89.3(WPFW),” and “91.9(WGTS).”

of frequencies for radio stations as well as news outlets and broadcast television, see Appendix A.

Sources for Leisure/Recreation Information

Respondents were asked how they find out about RCC-specific programs and activities. By far the most widely reported source was the RCC seasonal program guide, which three in four respondents (75%) selected as a source for their RCC information (Figure 10). The CenterStage Professional Touring Artist Series mailer was the next most commonly cited source for information (25%), followed by program flyers (20%), friends and family (20%), and the RCC website (18%).

The prevalence of these different sources of information did vary by demographic characteristics. Perhaps unsurprisingly, the groups for which these top sources are most widely reported are also the groups already involved at RCC: respondents who are older, have lived in the area longer, have children at home, and are homeowners.

Respondents were also asked how they find out about leisure-time activity options generally,¹² outside of RCC programs. As seen in Figure 11, the top sources of information for leisure activities were friends and family (51%), internet searches (51%), local newspapers (33%) and social media (33%).

Prevalence in use of these different sources of information did vary significantly by demographic traits. Friends and family as a source of information on leisure-time activities was most common among homeowners and respondents with children. Use of local newspapers as a source for leisure information was highest among older respondents, homeowners, long-time residents and those without children in the home. Both internet searches and social media were more widely used by younger respondents, residents who have not lived in Reston as long and those who have children.

Should RCC wish to direct program information to younger respondents or residents newer to the area, they should ensure their information is readily available online and regularly promoted on social media. This effort could be in addition to their ongoing printed publications (RCC seasonal guide and CenterStage mailer), which appear effective in reaching respondents who are older, long-time residents and homeowners.

VII. Summary

The Reston Community Center Community Survey was designed to assess awareness and support for RCC, current and projected use of programs, barriers to use, level of support for a performing arts center, and accessible sources for information on leisure activities.

Awareness of RCC

In general, there were high levels of awareness and support for RCC. More than four out of five respondents (83%) said they were “very familiar” or “somewhat familiar” with RCC. In addition, strong majorities said that RCC makes Reston a more attractive place to live (90%) or to have a business (76%). Approximately half (47%) of respondents said that RCC is “very important” to the overall quality of life in Reston.

Over half of respondents (54%) said that they or a family member have participated in an RCC-sponsored event or class in the past twelve months. Among respondents who have not recently used RCC, the most common reason for not attending was being too busy (47%), followed by a lack of awareness about current RCC programs (29%). Respondents also cited inconvenience of scheduling as an impediment (18%).

Use of Programs

In evaluation of use across different types of RCC programs, community events were the most widely participated in program type, with 40% of respondents reporting having attended an event. An additional 51% reported possible interest in attending a community event in the future. The second most widely attended program type was the Professional Touring Artist Series at the CenterStage (31%), followed by drop-in swim (23%) and rental of RCC space (22%). Lifelong learning was the program type with the highest level of potential interest (63%) but only 17% participation, indicating great potential for growth in participation. Land-based fitness and wellness programs had a comparable ratio of interest (61%) to actual participation (17%). These two program types may be areas RCC should further explore and consider in terms of greater promotion and more flexible scheduling for the Reston community.

Barriers to Participation

Three in four respondents (76%) expressed a desire to participate in RCC programs more than they currently do, with classes being the area in which respondents are most interested in increasing their participation. The barriers cited for not attending RCC as much as one would like mirror many of the same reasons given by respondents who had not attended RCC in the past year. Reston residents express being too busy as the primary reason for not participating more in RCC, followed by finding RCC programs to be scheduled at inconvenient times and being unaware of existing programs.

And while three-quarters (75%) said that existing recreational facilities of all types in and around the Reston area meet the current demand, 43% of respondents either experienced difficulty trying to sign up for RCC programs or had not even bothered to try due to high demand. RCC could explore ways to adjust their programming schedule to better accommodate potential patrons.

Support for a Performing Arts Center

The topic of a performing arts center has drawn wide public attention with Reston residents holding a variety of passionate views. In general, the survey findings suggest there is widespread support for this type of center in Reston. Specifically, two-thirds of respondents (68%) were at least somewhat interested in Reston having a larger venue for performing arts, with half being either interested or very interested. In terms of how that venue could be funded, four out of five respondents (82%) were at least somewhat supportive of RCC operating the arts venue if a developer built it; two-thirds of respondents were either supportive or very supportive of this. As an alternative funding scenario, support was comparatively lower for RCC financing the building of a new art venue by means of a bond issue, and a sizeable portion of respondents were not at all interested in this option (32%). Notwithstanding that, the majority of respondents (56%) were still at least somewhat supportive of this financing route, and nearly 40% were either supportive or very supportive of the bond-issue option.

Communications

RCC is committed to serving the entire Reston community, which necessitates sharing RCC information on programming through a variety of channels in order to reach all Reston residents. As already noted, lack of awareness of the existing offerings and schedule was a commonly cited reason for not attending RCC more recently and/or more often. RCC was interested in the types of media respondents already regularly use and respondents' sources for finding information on recreational activities. Online and print journalism, radio, broadcast television, and Facebook were the most widely used media, with roughly half of respondents (ranging from 49% to 61%) regularly using each of these media. Regarding commonly used sources for information on RCC programming, the RCC seasonal program guide was by far the most widely used; three out of four respondents (75%) cited using it. When respondents were asked where they find out about leisure-time activities generally (not RCC-specific), "friends and family" and internet searches were the most widely cited sources for information, followed by social media and local newspapers. These results indicate that RCC would be well served to continue producing their seasonal program guide, to expand their online presence, and to share RCC program information widely via social media (Facebook in particular) and local news outlets.

Conclusion

The Reston Community Center's mission is to provide meaningful leisure-time and cultural experiences as a means to improve the quality of life for the entire Reston community. In their long-range planning, RCC and the Board of Governors are mindful of including community preferences and patron feedback, which was the impetus for the 2019 Reston Community Center Community Survey. The survey results indicate support for expanded program options and continued exploration of the potential for a new performing arts center in Reston. Findings also show the vast majority of residents would like to attend RCC events and programs more than they currently do. Further, RCC can more effectively reach more community members by expanding the approaches used to communicate with potential patrons. Reston Community Center is a community institution with strong connections to its constituents and capacity for growth, and it will continue to value and incorporate public feedback.

The Weldon Cooper Center for Public Service

In every project we undertake and every community we serve, the Weldon Cooper Center draws on eighty years of experience and expertise from across the organization to support the needs of our clients and partners. Cooper Center professionals embrace mission and impact-driven service to individuals, organizations, governmental bodies, and communities seeking to serve the public good. We conduct advanced and applied research in collaboration with clients so they may make a difference in governance and community life. We offer training programs and expert assistance to public leaders and skill development for political leaders who seek to work cooperatively with others. Our values of access, collaboration, commitment to community, and impact guide our work. We welcome partnerships and invite conversation about your goals and needs.

The Center for Survey Research

The Center for Survey Research opens channels of communication to give voice to the many. By helping governments, organizations, and researchers to measure attitudes, opinions, behaviors and interests, we enable them to serve their communities more effectively. As a full-service facility, we offer customized project design, professional interviewing, data collection and analysis, report preparation and presentation, and ongoing conversation with clients to help put survey findings to work.

Weighted Probability Frequencies

Frequency tables show response distribution across the full range of response options for each question. In these tables, the “Frequency” column shows the number of respondents who selected the corresponding answer. The “Percent” column reflects the percentage of respondents who selected each answer category among the total number of respondents. This includes missing responses—both non-substantive answer categories that have been designated as missing (e.g., “Don’t know”, “Not sure,” “Prefer not to say”) as well as system missing (i.e., blank responses). The “Valid Percent” column reflects the percentage of respondents who selected each answer category among the total number of respondents who provided a substantive answer to the question. In other words, the valid percent calculation excludes missing cases from the denominator. Unless otherwise noted, percentages presented in the narrative report reflect the valid percentages.

The data presented in these tables are based on responses from the probability sample only. The data have been weighted with base weights and post-stratification weights.

Appendix B:

Weighted Probability and Nonprobability Cross-tabulations

Cross-tabulation tables count survey cases in categories defined by two variables simultaneously. These cross-tabulation tables allow the reader to compare the responses of different groups. This appendix compares all survey questions by the sample type: either probability or non-probability.

In these tables, the percentages reflect percent within each sample type that selected the corresponding answer. For example, 98% of respondents from the non-probability sample have heard of RCC, compared to 94% of respondents from the probability sample.

The probability data presented in these tables have been weighted with base weights and post-stratification weights. The non-probability data are unweighted.

Appendix C:

Weighted Probability Cross-tabulations by Select Demographics

Cross-tabulation tables count survey cases in categories defined by two variables simultaneously. For example, how many respondents aged 18-29 have heard of RCC? These cross-tabulation tables allow the reader to compare the responses of different demographic groups. This appendix compares the survey questions by age, zip code, homeownership status, length of residence in Reston, and the presence of children in the home.

In these tables, the percentages reflect percent within each demographic affiliation that selected the corresponding answer. For example, 66% of respondents aged 18-29 have heard of RCC. In contrast, 99% of respondents aged 65 and older have heard of RCC. When the difference between groups for a given variable is statistically significant, those rows are formatted in bold.

When reading these tables, it is important to note the distinction between blank cells and cells with "0" counts. The weighted n in some cells in the table can be less than 1. When a "0" count is shown, that indicates the weighted n has been rounded down to zero. When a cell is blank, there are no cases at all in that cell. The "w%" column indicates the weighted percentage of respondents who answered a particular way, within categories displayed across the top of the table.

The data presented in these tables are based on responses from the probability sample only. The data have been weighted with base weights and post-stratification weights.

* Bold figures indicate significant differences within a demographic group (p<=0.05).

Appendix D:

Weighted Probability Means Comparisons across Demographics

In the following tables, a mean rating with a superscript indicates that the mean is a statistically significantly higher numerical value (at the 95% level of confidence) than the mean in the column that is numbered corresponding to the superscript. In instances where a superscript is not present between a pair of groups, the difference between means is not statistically significant.

In the following example, the mean rating of familiarity with RCC programs is compared across grouping of length of residence in Reston. The numbers in the superscript next to the mean indicate the columns which the mean is statistically significantly higher than. As indicated in Column 4, the mean level of familiarity among residents who have lived in Reston for more than 25 years is 2.37, which is statistically higher than the mean rating provided by all other residents. As seen in Column 3, residents who have lived in Reston between 10 and 24 years report a statistically higher mean of familiarity with RCC than do residents who have lived in Reston 5 to 9 years (Column 2) and residents who have lived in Reston less than 5 years (Column 1). In other words, residents who have lived in Reston longer report greater familiarity with RCC programs as compared to residents who have lived in Reston for less time.

This appendix compares a subset of survey questions by the following demographics: marital status, gender, education, presence of children in the home, length of residence in Reston, homeownership status, zip code, age, employment status, location of job, ownership status of commercial/rental property in Reston, ownership status of a business in Reston, primary language spoken in the home, Hispanic identification, racial/ethnic identification, and annual household income.

The data presented in these tables are based on responses from the probability sample only. The data have been weighted with base weights and post-stratification weights.

The following table contains the values and categories used to calculate the means within this appendix.

Reston Community Center Survey 2019

The University of Virginia Center for Survey Research is sending you this survey request on behalf of Reston Community Center (RCC). Thank you for taking the time to complete this questionnaire that will help RCC best serve the needs and priorities of this community. Your opinions and perspective are very important.

The survey's purpose: We want to understand the preferences and experiences of residents in Reston regarding leisure, recreational, and cultural activities. Specifically, we are interested in how people want to spend their leisure time, how they find out about leisure and cultural opportunities, and how people feel about the potential of a new performing arts center.

Who can participate?

- A resident of Reston who is at least 18 years old.
- If there is more than one adult in the household, we request that the survey be completed by the adult with the next birthday. This helps to ensure a random sample.

Your responses will be kept confidential

- Your responses are completely confidential and will never be publicly identified with you individually. Your name or contact information will not be linked to your survey responses following data collection.
- At the end of the survey, you have the option to provide an email address to share with RCC, which they may use to send you results of the survey.

General instructions

- Circle the number of your response to the question or check the boxes that apply.
- You can decline to take part in the survey or skip any questions you do not wish to answer.
- When you finish answering the questions, put your survey in the envelope provided and drop it in any mailbox. No postage is required.

How long will it take?

- The survey should take about 20-25 minutes to complete.

For more information

- Center for Survey Research: surveys3@virginia.edu, 434-243-5232
- Reston Community Center: Leila Gordon, leila.gordon@fairfaxcounty.gov, 703-390-6142

Your participation in this survey is voluntary, and you may withdraw your submitted responses at any point (contact CSR to do). There are no known risks or direct benefits associated with participating. However, your individual cooperation is very important to the success of this study and is greatly appreciated! We thank you for your time.

This survey has been approved by the University of Virginia's Institutional Review Board for the Social and Behavioral Sciences (Project #2731). Question or concerns? Contact Tonya R. Moon, Ph.D. Chair, Institutional Review Board for the Social and Behavioral Sciences at (434) 924-5999 or irbsbshelp@virginia.edu.

Reston Community Center (RCC) offers more than 2,000 leisure time programs, performances, classes, trips, and events to Reston residents and employees during the course of the year. RCC has two facilities, which include an indoor aquatics center, 290-seat theatre, computer classroom, ceramics studio, art gallery and woodshop, as well as large and small meeting rooms.

RCC is distinct from the Reston Association (RA).

RCC is funded primarily by residential and commercial real estate taxes in Reston (Small Tax District 5), as well as by user fees.

The RCC website has a great deal of information about their programs, services and facilities. You may also register for programs, check room rental availability or purchase tickets on their website at www.restoncommunitycenter.com.

A. Choose who will respond to this survey

A1. Is there more than one person age 18 or older living in this household?

- 1 Yes

- 1. Multiple times a week
- 2. About once a week
- 3. A few times a month
- 4. Only occasionally
- 5. Not sure/Don't know

After answering C1b, please go on to C2, page 5 →

C1c. (If No) Why have you and/or your household not attended a class, workshop, or event at RCC or an RCC-sponsored event in the past 12 months? Please check all that apply.

- Too busy, not enough time
- Too expensive
- RCC programs/activities aren't offered at a convenient time
- Locations are too far away/not convenient
- Lack of transportation
- Family participated when kids were younger, but they're now older
- I don't know enough about current programs/activities RCC offers
- Only recently moved to Reston
- Current RCC programs/activities are not interesting to me/my family
- Not interested in leisure/recreational activities in general
- Other (please specify): _____

C1d. Have you or any member of your family ever attended a class, workshop, or event at RCC or an RCC-sponsored event?

- 1. No
- 2. Yes
- 3. Not sure/Don't know

C2. For each of the following types of programs or services, please indicate if anyone in your household has participated in the program, would be interested in participating, or if it's not of interest. Please circle one answer per program. Refer to Table 1 on the insert for examples of specific programs within each type of programming listed below.

l. Something else (please specify): _____	1	2	3	4	5	9

D2c. What could RCC do to enable you or your family to use RCC more?

E. Facilities

E1. Thinking not just about RCC, in your opinion, do the existing recreational and cultural facilities of all types in and around the Reston area meet the current demand?

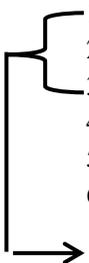

- 1 Definitely
- 2 Probably
- 3 Probably not
- 4 Definitely not
- 5 Don't know

E2. For some of the current RCC programs, space is limited. Have you experienced any difficulty trying to sign up for RCC programs or use RCC facilities?

- 1 No, I haven't had difficulty signing up for programs
- 2 Yes, I have had difficulty when I tried to sign up
- 3 I didn't even try to sign up because of expected demand
- 4 Not applicable- I haven't wanted to sign up for programs
- 5 Not sure

E3. How important is it to you that RCC continues to update existing facilities and carry out renovations?

- 1 Very important
- 2 Important
- 3 Somewhat important
- 4 Slightly important
- 5 Not at all important
- 6 Not sure

E3a. (If "Very important," "Important," or "Somewhat important") What updates or renovations would you like to see done to either of the two existing facilities?

Desired updates to Hunters Woods facility:	Desired updates to Lake Anne facility:
_____	_____
_____	_____
_____	_____
_____	_____
_____	_____
_____	_____

Currently, the CenterStage and Community Room at RCC Hunters Woods host a variety of performances and cultural events, and RCC is interested in the community’s perspectives on expanding these cultural and arts venues. Reston developer Boston Properties has proposed a proffer of land for a new performing arts facility. The following questions ask about your preferences related to cultural events and your level of support for expanding arts venues in Reston.

E4. Which of the following types of art content do you or other members of your household like?

Check all that apply.

- Independent films
- Art films
- Documentaries
- Traditional forms of music, dance, and theatre from America and Europe (e.g., classical music or dance; jazz music or dance; Broadway or similar forms of theatre)
- Contemporary music, dance, and theatre
- Culturally or ethnically-specific music, dance, and theatre; e.g., African, Hispanic, Arabic, Eastern, Asian or mixed content and perspectives with respect to culture
- Visual art exhibits
- Lectures or author events
- Poetry readings
- Standup comedy/improv
- Something else (please specify): _____

E5. How interested would you be in Reston having a larger venue in which to see music, dance, film screenings, or other types of performances that require a big stage to host?

- 1 Very interested
- 2 Interested
- 3 Somewhat interested
- 4 Slightly interested
- 5 Not at all interested
- 6 I think RCC’s existing facilities (CenterStage and RCC Community Room) are sufficient

E6. If an arts venue is built by a developer, to what extent do you support RCC operating that venue on behalf of the community? Assume that it would not result in raising the RCC tax rate.

- 1 Very supportive
- 2 Supportive
- 3 Somewhat supportive
- 4 Slightly supportive
- 5 Not at all supportive
- 6 Not sure

E7. Without a developer contribution, RCC would need to undertake a bond referendum to obtain authority from the community to borrow funds in order to build a new facility. To what extent do you support RCC financing the building of a new arts venue by means of a bond issue?

- 1 Very supportive
- 2 Supportive
- 3 Somewhat supportive
- 4 Slightly supportive
- 5 Not at all supportive
- 6 Not sure

As you may know, since 1979, RCC has been funded primarily by residential and commercial real estate taxes in Reston, as well as by user fees. The current Small District 5 tax rate is 4.7 cents for each $100 of assessed property value, which is in addition to the Fairfax County baseline property tax. For example, if a house or business property was valued at $300,000, the amount of tax going to RCC would be $141 per year. Currently, about half of RCC's tax revenue comes from commercial property taxes and half comes from residential property taxes.

E8. Is your residence located within Small Tax District 5?

- 1 Yes
- 2 No
- 3 Not sure

E9. Before today, were you aware that RCC is supported through this property tax?

- 1 Yes
- 2 No

E10. When property values rise in our area, revenue raised from property taxes goes up, too. If more tax money was available to RCC due to new revenue, which of the following statements comes closest to your view? RCC should...

- 1 Increase the number/types of programs
- 2 Increase accessibility to programming by lowering prices/fees
- 3 Add features to programs and facilities
- 4 Something else (please specify): _____
- 5 Not sure

E11. RCC provides a fee waiver program to help people with limited economic means still participate in RCC programming. Qualifying for fee waiver status is based on income levels. Those participants pay a nominal fee to enroll or purchase tickets or passes. Qualified fee waiver patrons with children may enroll them in as many summer camp programs as desired (paying a nominal fee per offering). To what extent do you favor continuing this type of program to provide economic accessibility to RCC?

- 1 Very supportive
- 2 Supportive
- 3 Somewhat supportive
- 4 Slightly supportive
- 5 Not at all supportive
- 6 Depends (please specify): _____
- 7 Don't know

Appendix F:

Probability Open-ended Responses

The open-ended responses have had identifying information redacted to protect the privacy of respondents and RCC personnel. Otherwise, responses have been left untouched, with the respondent's original spelling, grammar, capitalization, and spacing retained.

CSR thematically coded the open-ended responses for all questions that contained a text response. When the same open-ended response was reported by multiple respondents to a given question, a new category was created to capture that repeated answer. For questions C1c, E4, E10, F1, F2, F3, F4, and F6, additional categories were added and can be viewed in the frequency tables and cross-tabulations found in Appendices A, B, and C. The results of the thematic coding of questions C3, C4, D2c, E3aHW, and E3aLA are discussed in the narrative report.

We have a one-year-old, so mostly age appropriate activities and programs.
We have most enjoyed the swimming programs (currently waiting for pool renovation) but other programs are important as well.
We like the events, Center Stage, and little kid activities, curently. When the acquatics reopens, we will probably participate.
We like to swim and we love the outdoor concerts
We love the pool and would love a fitness center. We also love plays/dance.
We love the summer entertainment series.
We really don't go to the Reston Community Center. I did attend an art exhibit at RCC several years ago as a friend had a piece of art there.
WE USED THE POOLS WHEN THE KIDS WERE WITH US -- THAT WAS 15 - 20 YEARS AGO.
Wellness and fitness learning -> But I have a JOB wellness, exercise, learning, art
We're young adults and most of the programs benefit children.

C4- What programs or facilities would you like to see RCC offer that it does not currently? List all that you wish to include.
Don't know
don't know - we use RCC a lot when our daughters was small (swimming classes, summer camps (excellent), etc)
Don't know but the catalogue you mail out is very complicated, hard to derive needs index so one can understand big picture
Don't know now
Don't know what is offered but trips to D.C. highlights during off season would be nice
Don't understand why ALL land-based physical exercise programs, especially for older adults, are held exclusively at RCC - Lake Ann and not at HW dress rehearsals at Kennedy Center & other theaters (at low cost)- RA or RCC used to offer these.
Drop-in crafting (card making, fiber arts, whatever people are making)
Drop-in swim - better times
DSLR photography classes; science education opportunities; movies on the lawn; community softball league
Due to the aging of RCC members include Daytime center. Stage events. ex: plays. We go into D.C. for daytime stage plays.

I would drive for indoor tennis - outreach to N. Reston. Kids are grown so I wouldn't use those programs
I would like to see RCC include more classes just in general (almost like a community college) and would love to see more daily activities towards seniors, specifically for those seniors that do not necessarily have a strong command of the English language.
I would like to see work out rooms added at Hunters Woods with equipment. Also rec rooms that include pool tables and other games.
I'm sure its difficult to manage, but it is difficult to find evening activities for those of us who still work.
improve on what you have
Independent films
Indoor pool in N. Reston.

C4- What programs or facilities would you like to see RCC offer that it does not currently? List all that you wish to include.

Note: Pay $100/month for 24/7 access to the Reston Maker Space - Many other better alternatives in addition to the Maker Space in Northern Virginia
Mommy (or daddy) & me classes - yoga, swim, music and/or crafts
Mommy and Me education-based groups (not just parent and me swim/play classes)
More adult fitness in evenings – water especially More adults only lap swim time/space (lanes) more art classes for beginners in a variety of media, please.
More at classes for all levels
More cooing classes for all levels
More exercise options such as Tai Chi
More cancel gymnastic classes like Herndon offers - we actually go there for most of our classes now which is disappointing.
More cardio based fitness classes more classes for older youth (i.e. dance, yoga, zumba, hip hop) the dance classes offered seem to age out at 6. I have 2 girls (9 & 12) who are non-competitive that would love to take fun classes cooking classes, art classes for older youth/pre-teen More community activities for adults - most are focused on children or senior citizens.
more cooking classes and language classes - Italian more IT classes- excel, google (not so iphone apple focused) more lectures, higher level arts programs singles events more w/nature center-highlighting and preserving our uniqueness with green space outdoor More current or progressive programs more dancing classes; rock band performances more dog-friendly events
More educational programs for children that are affordable (programming, robotics, language classes for young kids) more evening programs and classes
More exercise classes offered at better times. Later at night and on weekends.
more flexibility with scheduling and classes/programs on weekday nights rather than weekends

C4- What programs or facilities would you like to see RCC offer that it does not currently? List all that you wish to include.
more for teens, more crafts- needlework
More free programs, lectures and local trips (e.g. to D.C.) FOR IMMIGRANTS more gardening & sustainable life style classes

More high quality art shows/exhibitions; social group events; more age balanced wellness programs (eg hip hop dance, chess, classes for all ages, tai chi for all ages, etc.); trips for professionals/singles, etc.
More hobby-related, organized, convenient activities more infant music classes, infant activity classes. Current ones seem to be 3yrs _ "Mommy & me" classes w/babies would be a huge interest.
More kid centered programming more land-based fitness programs
more language classes
More language courses (Korean), photo editing classes
More lectures
More like Herndon Comm. CTR- better exercise classes
More local info sharing, i.e. growth of Reston and its zoning.
More Mommy & Me classes on weekends and evenings.
More movie/theatre classes for adults
More music
More music appreciation more musical and drama performances
More musical plays.
-More of the coordinated classes with Allie
-More focus on courses that teach about other cultures e.g. Iran, Cuba, Turkey
More offerings for children's classes on nights & weekends. Almost everything in which we're interested happens in mornings/afternoons on work days
More offerings for young adults (20's & 30's)
More OLLI Classes
If air conditioning/ventilation were better I'd attend physical activity classes at Lake Anne Center more plays and lectures
More popular concerts, less riche and diversity - focused genres
More preteen programs. Many are only for either young children or 18 (or over). Most do not include 10-12 range.
More private/semi-private swim lessons more programs for kids ages 13-17

C4- What programs or facilities would you like to see RCC offer that it does not currently? List all that you wish to include.
more senior fitness programs - now get full fast more senior programs more senior singles events
More swim lessons available
More technological offerings more teen programs more teen programs with [NAME REDACTE]* although I realize that those are tricky. Introductory Kundalini Yoga trial classes. The two instructors are experts and their classes alleviate pain. More people would join if they could try the experience.
More theatre for kids, tennis, more youth art/life/executive functioning classes
More things for seniors and those who are handicapped (seniors)
More touring artist
more touring artists; greater variety of artists
More town center community events/concerts

none really come to mind.
None that I can think of.
None, It is duplicative
None, I would like to see RCC close down as many programs and facilities as possible to reduce government expenditures.
Not exactly sure, but feeling like something is 'missing'!
not sure
Not sure ??
not that familiar with all offerings to answer but Spanish for younger kids
Nothing more - but would like to see if some art and fitness could be done at RCC-Hunters Woods sometimes.
Nothing to add nutrition for healing offer more activities at the Lake Anna RCC during the day offer more fitness and craft programs after work hours OIL PAINTING CLASS
on site free use gym nature and gardening programs jobs fairs

C4- What programs or facilities would you like to see RCC offer that it does not currently? List all that you wish to include.
One on One training on technology for serious layperson, the ones who want to learn but have no skills and the people in class who have some crush the opportunity for them to learn. Like myself. I went but couldn't understand because of talented participants.
Open water lifeguard training outdoor concerts
Outdoor trail space, Biker rental?, Holiday Programs outreach program that connect youth with elders and preschoolers Painting with acrylics partnership with Reston Association to provide education & programs to area youth on how to better stewards of the natural settings in Reston (i.e. education in area schools, reducing litter along trails).

Ping pong table
Ping-pong table, gyms, clinics, planting area, supermarket near Lake Anne area
Plain entertainment that's not about culture, social welfare, multiculturalism, etc. Nor "high-falutin" Pleased with current offerings pottery for older kids - art on weekends not during school day Produce markets more regularly and cooking lessons.
Professional speaker series, evening music events
Professional theater; Orchestre concerts; independent/cinema arts movies Programs different than RA and FFX County. Otherwise, aquatics is main program to focus on (too much overlap with Fairfax County and RA and RCC becomes a waste of taxpayer $)

C4- What programs or facilities would you like to see RCC offer that it does not currently? List all that you wish to include.
programs for elderly living; classes aimed at assisting elderly 75+; senior citizen classes not relevant for older elderly Programs in the evenings or weekends for over 50 folks. I still work but would participate if I could.
Programs- interactive discussions on current. events/elections social gatherings for over 55, lunch series (lunch and learn), dealing with chronic illness-programs like those offered by stanford university to every county in USA I'd like to see some of the classes offered streaming online or archived for viewing any time.
Programs targeting 30-60 (approx) year old individuals, especially those without children. A majority of programs focus on families and seniors. Things like book clubs, paint and sip, day trips, social events, etc. for this demographic would be great.
Programs/events for my children
Publicize volunteer activities racquet ball court
Racquetball would be cool (indoor).
Racquetball; private/group dance for adults
RCC offers programs I'd like to attend, just not when I can attend them -- more evening classes, especially for older residents -- dancing, fitness, trips/tours (on weekends!), art education.
real estate classes particularly related to NOVA or Reston, expenses to owning a place in Reston Real estate statistics, regression, etc.
real life skills for youth and older
Really don't care.
Regular trips to New York City, more classes on history, genealogy, class especially on DNA, fixing household problems—unable to unscrew things, painting
Reserved time for seniors lap swim
Reston CC needs to concentrate on "young retired". More active programs and social gatherings - world travel, cocktail parties, Kennedy Center evening events, game nights, pot luck dinners - more events to interact not just attend Reston is a multicultural community. We would like to see more diverse cultural activities.
Reston needs a large open space for outdoor programs like a stage and lawn (similar to but smaller than Wolftrap) in a park-like setting an amphitheatre
Reston needs a major indoor performing arts center and more indoor pools
Reston specific adult learning programs that compliment Fairfax County ACE programs

C4- What programs or facilities would you like to see RCC offer that it does not currently? List all that you wish to include.
rolling registration so it doesn't depend on our notification or knowledge of exact registration opening times.
Salt water pool (swim) for drop-in swim, and learn to swim
Screen on green events; larger names at Center Stage
Seems that there are many various activities and entertainments!
Shows; concerts; classes
Social events, sr. driving education, how to improve sr. keep mobilised (?) educational.

C4- What programs or facilities would you like to see RCC offer that it does not currently? List all that you wish to include.
Technology classes for kids tutoring for kids with transportation
Teen trips/outings. Teen creative classes. Teen exercise. Teen = 13-18 so no adults in class.
Tennis
Tennis, pickleball
The #1 reason we don't go to RCC Hunters Woods more often is lack of security. That shopping center has too much crime (including 2 recent murders) and no security/police presence. The thing it needs most is safety!
Things targeted towards people in their teens/20s/30s/40s. Most programs target young kids and seniors.
Think you're doing a great job!
town hall discussions on current events training programs like cooking and cake decorating classes; more evening fitness classes and events Transport for senior trips & tours to places like Baltimore or Richmond
Trips to MGM Grand at Nat'l Harbor & Hollywood Casinos, Luray Caverns
Trips to sporting events, eg D.C. United game

We don't need the RCC - we have access to other recreational, artistic, and musical activities
We regularly attended the Shenandoah Coffee House when they used to perform and would like to see something like that again.
weekend play groups for elementary ages
Weekly or monthly talk about keeping healthy and concerned towards neighbors who can't listen with poor hearing or can't go out to attend and talk.
Wine and beer tasting woodworking
Woodworking (bring back classes)
Workout facility - Gym, sports clinics in gym for kids/adults would be nice.

C4- What programs or facilities would you like to see RCC offer that it does not currently? List all that you wish to include.
Workout facility (gym), basketball court work-out fitness on facilities
Workshops for high functioning disabled young adults Events for high functioning disabled young adults Work and volunteer for high functioning disabled young adults
Would like more opportunities offering of ex;swing dances (illegible)
Would love a class on floral arrangement! Closest one is in Alexandria. Film appreciation too! Photography with an iPhone? Class on local Fauna/Floral?
Would participate of classes held after work or on weekends - but these fill too quickly
Would very much like to see RCC participate in the procurement and operations of a concert hall/performing arts center in the Town Center year round indoor swimming yoga
Yoga classes on weekends; spring (not legible)
Yoga for 55 and older, when it does not interfere with the work day.
Yoga, dog training. Fitness center (gym with equipment and classes, more fitness classes that people who work 9-5 weekdays can take. Open markets with local vendors, outside music and vendor/markets at Hunter Woods on a regular basis.
You do a great job.
Youth basketball(year long) and other children's fitness offerings such as more regular parkour classes
Youth soccer training youth, teen lifelong learning
Zumba toning more than 1X/week; more fitness classes on evenings and weekends

D2c- What could RCC do to enable you or your family to use RCC more?
- Make programs/classes that are of interest to me
-App/to view programs at RCC is TERRIBLE website
(Due to my disability) I would prefer more activities of physical therapy, to help better health, like muscle and body strengthening
* Just moved here so not very familiar.
1. quit limiting programs to times that parents work-we can't bring our children
2. quit putting an age restriction on 55 + trips-if I as a history teacher have an interest, I should be able to participate!
A lot of offering cater to retirees and children. There are a lot of single professionals in Reston as well.
A more attractive Lake Ann activity with mental illness adult
Add more adult classes
Additional musical/concert events adult classes; more awareness
Advertise and expand programs for young children
Advertise better, promote better
Advertise events via email, have a phone app
Advertise in multi-media advertise more , more than just one information booklet at the time of purchasing the house.
Advertise on social media
Advertise online (there is a "Today in Reston" feature I think). Posters with schedules in schools and churches and supermarkets, fliers in doctors offices.
advertise their offerings more broadly/often Advertisement in the community for upcoming events not just in the Reston magazine advertising/outreach alerts of events via text or e-mail
Allow family to create online profile and digitally market to our interest.
always have someone at RCC sites during hours of operation to have someone knowledgeable about all the offerings or have clear and reliable info who to contact Am happy now.
Availability of classes are very restricted.
awareness of programs
Be nice.
Become more aware beetter communication of programs to the community
Better and easier parking
Better and varied performing arts offerings

D2c- What could RCC do to enable you or your family to use RCC more?
Better availability - times for classes and space in class - they are always full (smile emoji)
Better clarification on pool schedule better communication/info access. We receive the magazine with the list of choices but a stronger web presence w/translation capability and more images would be nice, Better information about what's available in timely fashion.
Better notice, more convenient better online communication about programs better outreach programs; "on-(illegible) programs to bring in new households to the org & its programming.
Better prices
Better promotion and marketing i.e. like using library billboards and information center and how about one of those electronic signs out on Colts Neck Road at the openings to shopping center better publicity for events
Better trip locations
Better/more frequent info about offerings; easy registration
Broader range of offerings and family friendly times for classes/workshopt Build a facility that has a gym a d pool. Like Claude Moore in Faudan or the Wakefield and Annandale Build another indoor pool.
Build on RCC near Reston Public Library w/ lap pool and auditorium build racquet ball court
Can't say
Cant think of anything specific Card or game parties, continue bridge opportunities Classes at library?
completion of aquatic project
Concerned about safety in Hunters' woods Parking Lot - shopping center especially at night Continue - offer an open class so I can hands on see what happens in class. Add me to a mailing list telling me what (summary) what (one time) shows, trips, community events are coming up.
continue the programs we already are involved (in arts & fitness) cost
Cost, transportation create facebook events for event and classes, send more material reminders of events
Create more time in our days. (smile emoji)
Daycare? Some performances during the day instead of evenings.
Daytime dances. Having (illegible) art (illegible) on Sat and on Sun.

D2c- What could RCC do to enable you or your family to use RCC more?
determine how efficiently you can see survey answers (illegible word). Also, do more (illegible but might be informal) surveys on line at least two times a year on line - needs change always.
Develop/offer programs and activities for all age groups and include more relevant options for single adults who may or may not have children.
Different performing arts programs digital opportunities; easier access to program guide Direct mailing list or e-mail list to notify of programs.
direct outreach-mail-pamphlets. More than the registration booklet.
DK
Does RCC participate in social media to remind about classes? My random work schedule makes commitment hard until the last minute - would be nice to have reminders of open workshops. I do get some emails listing classes for the month.

Easier registration process online easier to get fee waiver electronic newsletter in email email alerts!
Email newsletter directed at my age group; the Reston magazines just seem like they're full of stuff for kids and 55+.
Email newsletters about upcoming programs
e-mail notifications and explanation of offerings
Email offers based on interest vs. Printed schedules
Email programs like the mailed book
Email reminders of classes that align with our interests.
Email updates.
Establish a workout program with machines geared to elders or those with physical limitations that provide cardio and resistance workouts-AND not just at Lake Anne exercise/yoga classes after work hours exercize classes at the hunter woods facilities Expand concert series; perf. arts center; workout room expand programming of events.
Extend camp hours for working families.
Facebook events geared to my interests
Factor of leisure time Finish pool renovation
for day camps, cater more to working parents

D2c- What could RCC do to enable you or your family to use RCC more?
Free (lap) swim - dedicated time with no concurrent kids' lessons; water aerobics; swim team practice, especially in winter when RA pools shut down.
Game night for kids
General Marketing of events is poorly lacking.
Get rid of online sign-up system
Get rid of the homeless around RCC.
Guards on duty
Handicap access, good programming
Hard to say. I frequently admire the nature programs, but have a busy schedule and treasure my weekends.
Hardly any classes for kids that aren't 0-5 years.
have a gym, pool, group fitness
Have a weekend show or put a booth on every weekend in Reston Town Center, Lake Anne have better registration website and offer more classes for working people have more 1-2 hour classes; provide more lap swimming
Have more for 3-5 year olds at convenient times
Have more mommy and me programs on weekends.
Have more relevant programs - not just for old people. Also make the surrounding area safe to park and walk from.
Have not made much effort in recent years due to other obligations
Have people sign up or provide smaller books/brochures for kids, adults, teens. All ages — too much info that doesn't apply.
Have programs that interest 25-50 year olds at times we can participate. More modern fitness offerings and facilities. More accessible music. More yoga and dog training classes. Outside local markets and music at Hunter Woods.
have public awareness of events
Health awareness programs, sr. driving, social, etc.
I can't think of anything
I check the catalogue when it arrives for ideas. Maybe more frequent updates would remind me. Also - the trips fill up fast so I have to make an almost immediate decision
I don't know
I guess we need to check it out
I have 3 small kids and work full time. Just don't have time — but plan to do more when kids are older/ I retire
I just need to take the time to become familiar with the current offerings.
I know RCC sends the Magazines with their events but I often read those too late and miss the programs. It would be cool if RCC could create a Google calendar that I could add to my calendar so all the events are automatically added and I just have to check my calendar. For

D2c- What could RCC do to enable you or your family to use RCC more?
some of the classes like yoga it would be cool if some of the instructors could do private, in-home lessons - that Way I could make it really fit my schedule
I live alone so going to a activities is not exactly a barrier. I would rather have a group or company to go along.
I need an app or weekly e-mail with classes activities. A promo to get me in the door would help.
I need to work less - I work night shift - hard to match sleep schedule with programs.
I primarily use the pool facilities. Renovation is in process. While I appreciate it, I also feel the work is too little, too late. The facility should have included expansion into the available land behind it. The renovation will not provide additional capacity. This pool cannot meet demand for access.
I think it falls on us to read mailings, etc.
I think it's great!!
I think the new pool will do it! Hunter woods plaza can be semi-sketchy at times. Honestly, I don't like for my wife to travel there alone/with the kids.
I think you do a good job - The booklet sent seasonally is great.
I will when my child gets older
I would like to have some trips scheduled on weekends.
I'd like to see some of the theater offerings, but hard to commit to months in advance. On the holidays are expensive/sell out.
Ida Lee Park Recreation Center like facilities and programs
I'm more than satisfied with the range of offerings,
I'm not sure if Rec's mission but it seems the intended audience is children/retirees?
-improve publicity/ awareness -innovate, keep programs fresh, interesting, not too "safe"
Improve the quality of programming. In this area you need better versions of what is now programmed.
In general, courses weve taken have been great! Cost is more about our priorities right now and Not that fees are too high.
In the past, we were unable to find private swim lessons and had to go to Herndon Community Center.
Increase Lifelong Learning offer, incorporate Tennis/Pickleball/Golf Programs increase senior discount
Indoor tennis
Info – but we're on overload already.
It programs fill-up fast, see if you can schedule additional ones.
it's fine
It's not you, it's me!

D2c- What could RCC do to enable you or your family to use RCC more?
It's up to me to make more time in my schedule for fitness, performing arts and other RCC offerings
Keep doing what you are with the wide variety of classes
Keep doing what you do and more!
Keep it up! I just registered for Boot Camp. 1st time user. Ballroom classesfull 2 years ago.
Keep parking lot safe.
Kid watching - kid only programs
Knock on doors, text me with a calendar monthly
Knowledge of programs; outside activities to do before groceries; STANDUP COMEDY at Safeway Larger social media presence - promotion of programs larger/multiple weekend swim classes for kids
Lower class costs
Lower costs lower price
Lower prices
Lower prices
Mailings on a regular basis w/ events; Social Media posting of events
Make catalog online and subscribe to feed for only things of interest - don't have time to read/___ (illegible) through the other.
Make classes more convenient times and days. Seem to cater to people who are retired or not working Make clear what programs are available make it more accessible
Make it safer. Crime, homeless people, etc. in the area — no security/police
Make pricing more affordable; target programs to people in our age group (15-45)
Make registration and ticket purchasing easier.
Make registration easier. It was cumbersome to get a fitness card.
make sure it's safe and affordable
Make the area safer
Make the pool available
Make the swimming lessons more affordable and have more classes.
Many of the classes are offered during the day on weekdays. I've got a 9-5 pm job.
Map/directions for facilities market programs more than just quarterly program guide. Coordinating with RA newsletter, county publication, etc.
maybe have a showcase where people can come see a sampling of what's available, an open house. If you have this I'm not aware of it.

D2c- What could RCC do to enable you or your family to use RCC more?
Maybe set up an emailing list if one does not currently exist. Also you can use: meetup.com as well, which is an excellent tool for generating awareness of events like what RCC offers.
Minimize cost or fees
More activities for kids (smile emoji)
More advertisement to engage more younger (teens) into programs and crease more interest for them to attend classes. Have working classes in HuntersWoods location more advertising
More affordable (able to pay in multiple payments); more information about current programs; childcare on site.
More affordable, or trial class/membership to see if it is worth the investment
More after school times (though we haven't really looked carefully for upcoming season).
More afterschool/work courses for kids
More age-appropriate classes for kids in the middle grades (4th-8th grades)
More awareness- social media/digital marketing emails reminder it is there More Cemaics offerings more choices of classes
-more class options during the week -childcare options for adult classes during the week more class, camps, and/or activities for kids/families
More classes for all adults, not just the seniors. Shorter durations in number per class (like a 4-hr. long class instead of four 1-hr. long classes.)
More classes offered for preteens and younger children (preschool-k age) more classes on evenings and weekends
More classes right after work and not geared just to families and kids.
more classes, etc for ages 13-17
more classes/seminars on interesting things
More comfortable seats at Center Stage
More communication more convenient times more convenient times; activities and programs for whole famiiy
MORE DAY CLASSES
More daytime entertainment/shows
More email notices
More evening offerings

D2c- What could RCC do to enable you or your family to use RCC more?
More evening/weekend times. Advertise closer to event date - don't tell me in July about events coming up next January.
more family/genderless changing areas for swim classes more fitness classes at Hunters Woods more fitness classes in the evenings and weekends more for school age children more for younger kids under 5
More frequent reminders about programs.
more independent films or film center for films more international performance; new artists more late afternoon rather than evening offerings.
More literature and/or an app - with Daily / weekly updates
More local professional artists
More mainstream performances
More opportunities for teens, especially at LA RCC.
more options for youth more outreach by mail or email more outreach on social media
More pick up areas for trips. Reduce cost for trips and classes
More pleasant, welcoming environment. RCC (HW) smells horribly when just walking in the door.
More programs at RCC Lake Anne more programs for people that work full-time
More programs/activities for young adults (20's/30's); dog-friendly activities
More promotion on cultural events.
More public awareness — we receive programs but then forget
More relevance
More reminders - family wife is busy and needs reminders of what is important more schedule/extra hours for workshop
More Security of Hunters Woods location - day + night. Area sometimes scary, asking for money etc.
MORE SENIOR TRIPS
More targeted awareness (I don't have children, so I don't need to get a bunch of flyers for kids/camps- but classes, dog stuff, yes!)
more time in 1 day more time! Life is so busy
More toddler-friendly classes on weekends and evenings.
More trips to museum where surface is hard not dirt, wheel chair can't do it

D2c- What could RCC do to enable you or your family to use RCC more?
More varied schedules more variety in fitness more weekend classes for kids
More weekend classes vs During the week. not enough choices on weekend classes most is satisfactorily handled.
most of the activities seem to be during work hours Monday-Friday, which does not work for my schedule.
Most things that I am interested in cost too much money for the value they provide to me. More trips/tours.
move child classes on weekends
My schedule is horrific. It's not you, it's me!
My work schedule is an impediment to my participation

Not anything I can think of; our limitations on time are due to our work & business schedules not much more any can do. Just an issue of my time.
Not much, I am recovering from surgery and radiation treatment for cancer, I expect to participate more in future, starting this fall.
Not sure
Not sure - work full time, part time, and have a dog - not enough time.
Not sure at the moment. We did receive the fall brochure in the mail though.
Not your fault. I am working two jobs and just don't have time nothing
Nothing

D2c- What could RCC do to enable you or your family to use RCC more?
nothing
Nothing - I just don't have a time at this moment - I used to swim there, I am planning to come back in the future
Nothing - we use and love it!
Nothing for performances. It is based on what we want to see VS our schedule. We do attend more performance and other events at Reston Town Ctr/more convenient for us.
nothing I can think of Nothing right now. We are new parents and most of our time is dedicated to raising our son. However, we hope to engage once he is a little older.
Nothing! It's up to our schedules.
nothing. We just need to find time.
Nothing. I just wish I had more time.
Offer a greater variety of programs. The classes and teachers are often the same from one year to the next.
Offer a wider variety of courses, conduct a survey that doesn't have inconsistencies and missing information offer classes for those who are still working full time.
Offer classes for youth such as basketball and parkour and gymnastics or rock climbing throughout the year and the summer
Offer classes weekday evenings and weekends.
Offer courses in the evenings or weekends Offer during hot daytime business hours; for popular classes, offer more since they fill up offer events with specific info. Use a good microphone and speak clearly and slowly.
offer game rooms and fitness rooms with equipment. Pool and ping pong tables would be great in game room.
Offer more classes at Lake Anne offer more classes on weekend
Offer more events targeted to under 40 age group.
offer more fun classes for age group.
Offer more in the Lake Ann Center.
offer more of the most popular classes that fill-up quickly

D2c- What could RCC do to enable you or your family to use RCC more?
Offer more programs in early evenings after work hours
Offer more programs on evenings after work and weekends offer more relevant classes/programs. RCC seem to cater mainly to retired seniors or infant/preschool aged children. There really is nothing consistent for ages 5-16 or 20-50 yrs. We have to travel to Herndon and other Fairfax County or Loudon County community centers.
Offer multiple languages.
Offer Pop up Classes that don't go on for weeks at a time offer some arts ed. courses evenings or weekends open stage for community theater troop productions and local musician showcases, other performance artists (comedy, mime, acrobats, etc).
-Open the pool!! -convenient online registration program -economical prices for pool
Open the pool. Offer performances on multiple days. Offer senior programs at night. Many seniors work full-time 9-5 and commute.
Our last child is going to college so we will hopefully have more time to go to performances.
Out reach, for awareness of offerings, to schools and groups
Parking for the Hunters Wood RCC not very convenient if you have a physical disability
Partner with Reston Assoc. Programs
Please evaluate their capability (student) before offering them. Oversmart candidates doesn't allow the new candidates to learn the basic or nothing.
pool availability
possibly add suggested programs
Probably not much; I need to make the effort to attend activities; while I'm working the exercise classes are not practical; I plan to return next year and I'll probably start joining some of the classes then.
Programming more relevant to me.
Programming relevant to us; super-local programming or outreach in my neighborhood - my neighbors' interests are probably more like my own and differ from other areas of Reston with different needs/interests.
Programs, performances, classes of interest. Now seems to be heavily about cultural improvement, social work, multiculturalism, etc vs "just plain fun", e.g. Be 95% about simple fun, not social agenda and "culture". "Culture" "Cultural" "Cultural event" all through here shows the current orientation.
provide more fun activities for older adults; classes are repeated for WILLS, DOWNSIZING, TAXES, MEDICARE, SS, get rid of clutter; BRAIN GAMES, BALANCE. We want some fun stuff.
Provide more indie film events at RCC
Provide more specific information about level (if a class), access (if stairs).
provide transportation

D2c- What could RCC do to enable you or your family to use RCC more?
Providing more information
publicize events
Publicize its programs more.

Single session classes.
Some classes filled fast - hope open multiple sessions with different times ex (illegible)every on (illegible) weekend.
Some classes/events are scheduled for days/times where I would have to take off work (typical weekday shift).Offering Staurday/sunday or evening options for those would help. Also some seem cost prohibitive, especially if something were too suddenly come up as a conflict where I have to cancel and am out the money. Some one time events also seem quite pricey and are a turn off for the younger generations like myself. Something like an under 30 discount could draw in me and other young people to take part in RCC activities in a way that we can afford to partizipate.

D2c- What could RCC do to enable you or your family to use RCC more?
specialty mailer for children and more events scheduled during weekend days Stagger class times (particularly fitness) to meet varied work schedules
Still be there when I retire!
Stop charging us extra tax. The rest of Fairfax County covers all the community centers. We are only ones in special tax district and facilities always under construction or swim closed to residents so masters can swim.
Subsidize trips and tours
Suggest a targeted email alert. Maybe you already have one, but I am unaware. The magazines come in the mail and sit on my table. I'd rather tell you my interests and then get relevant email alerts.
Tai Chi practice space when the RCC center space is available. Overall, keep up all the wonderful programs please!
Tell me where it is? Offer better programs.
Thank you for enabling reduced camp tuition for furloughed government workers. Its finally made the camps affordable and our children have greatly benefited. Thank you!
The book is overwhelming and confusing. Maybe breaking it up into sections or age or events.
the challenge is generally our schedule and not a RCC problem to fix.
There are many activities we'd love to take our kids to, but they're offered only during the week. With both parents working, week-only events are impossible to attend.
They can not shut down the pool for a year plus.
Think it is more our lifestyle at this time. Not due to lack of reaching out. Also think others benefit from this service.
This region is so expensive we are working professionals and still need side jobs to get by. No time b/c we are always working.
Time (Not in RCC contorl)
Class offerings
Time to be flexible.
Timely /effective communication would probably work
Times/Durations, especially with summer programs
Timing/schedule
Update facility + have (Lake Anne) some good music come there Don't like Hunters Woods area.
Update the interior - more clean and modern feel. Offer classes/workshops that spark interest for my age group (older single millennial with a teenager.)
upgrade website so easier to view and navigate; make check out easier
Use of social media more Use to think of it as just for families. Become more aware of pograms for empty nesters.
Variety of activities — change them up
Variety of classes and workshops.

D2c- What could RCC do to enable you or your family to use RCC more?
variety of programs; more challenging walking, shopping
we are happy with RCC
We are newly retired; need to pay more attention to RCC advertising
We are wrking to be more aware of RCC programs since we now have a one-year-old and would like to engage her in local activities.
We have found it difficult to schedule use of the facilities for events. The process is too confusing to us.
We just need to do it.
We simply have a lot of choices. Overlap with RA occurs too, chocies have to be made.
We use RCC a lot!
We used to live in Reston, then moved out, now moved back and we are still re-aquainting with programs. We're still learning about what's available.
Weekend or evening programming after 6:30/7 for kids
When a watercolor class or other class fills up, offer another, additional class.
When I visited RCC a year ago when we first moved to the area, the fronts desk was not very welcoming, didn't "promote" RCC, and just asked us to check the website. Even after I sign-in on web page, I never received any other emails or updates on new programs
When my husband and I get older we will have time to take full advantage of programming
When planning a trip and it gets full for the 1s5 bus, you need to get a second bus and not keep us on a waiting list.
year-round rolling registration. I know some classes fill early.
You do a good job
You may have an email distro, but I don't receive those communications. That would help keep classes top of mind.
You need convenient space to hold programs in town center or easily accessible space.

E3aHW- What updates or renovations would you like to see done to the Hunters Woods facility?
- More open swim time - Longer pool hours -larger facility to increase # class offerings
1. Anxious to see new pool setup! Gravity (no steps) pool are important to us. 2. More sound absorbtion between meeting rooms!
1.) Land based exercise facilities — possibly use Ballet school. 2.) Additional indoor pool options for winter months 3.) I don't know if this is the case but my understanding is the pool renovations will shorten the length of the lap pool. If this is the case, I find that disappointing and shortsighted and strengthens the case for a need for winter swim options/
A proper competition pool with viewing
Acoustics in great room
Add another pool
add gym room
Add more parking spaces for those with handicapped decal/tags
Add-on indoor and/or outdoor playground for children to burn off energy before or after classes
Appealing decor, cleanliness, air - smells awful Appreciate ongoing pool upgrade, continue necessary facility maintenance aquatics architecturally- dark in lobby desn't feel open/welcoming auditorium for cincerts; suitable rehearsal venue
Bathrooms; Think both facilities have been maintained; HW had upgrades; Important to keep the in good shape & up-to-date to encourage participation
Be sure the pool has sufficient lap lanes that are long enough; larger restrooms to accommodate more women. Could you add floors to the facility for more space?
Benches
Better access for handicapped
Better acoustics for music performances
Better large performance venue
Better lighting
Security
better lighting; easier access, security
Better outdoor lighting; more/better outdoor signage
Better parking
Better parking
Better performances venue, ambiance, odors removal better pool
Better Sinage at the Street
Better ticketing system for center stage; More communication to local community both facilities are being kept in excellent condition- including updates ie: pool

E3aHW- What updates or renovations would you like to see done to the Hunters Woods facility?
Build a gym with a pool for swimmers (adult). What has happened to our taxes given to Fairfax County for recreation? Tired of R.A. Payments when only part of us pay. We deserve MORE (RA members).
building mtc; landscape updates; facilities updated cafe like tables where one can eat or work, with availability. Aesthetic updates to make the space look brighter and cleaner (new carpet).
Center Stage
Center Stage seats are very uncomfortable.
Clean and modern interior. More simple, neutral color scheme for furniture, but with interesting local art on the walls.
cleaner, fresher feeling space, improved WIFI access Cleanliness of Outdoor areas
Coffee bar
Coffee Shop Addition
Coffee shop; fitness area
Complete aquatics renovation with improved air quality. Add more plants indoors. Food/Pantry drives throughout the year (not just holidays).
computer classrooms have older versions of software. Would like to see computer room updated Consistent cleanliness continue general upkeep
Continue to keep it fresh and updated. If the building/pool falls apart, no one will want to attend anything.
Continued updates to the pool facility
Continuing renovations to keep facility up to date
Currently not necessary Devoted glass/mosaic lab and kiln!
difficult parking at hunters woods facility
does not effect us.
Dog facilities! More dog parks
Don't know
Don't know live in Lake Newport area, but if RCC doesn't maintain theses areas Reston as a whole goes downhill!
Don't know; I rarely go there.

E3aHW- What updates or renovations would you like to see done to the Hunters Woods facility?
enlarge bathrooms
Enlarge pool capacity and hot tub. Less dead space on top floor.
Enlarge woodworking space, especially the wood storage closet. Add visual arts display cases for wood, mosaic, glass items. Some people do not know a woodshop even exists at RCC
Exercise equipment at RCC Classes at site: exercise art
Exercise facility and complete pool renovation
Exterior needs a new look.
Face lift makes the difference. Currently RCC is doing good job - no issues.
Find a way to tighten cyber security so people can use WIFI with getting "spy warning" from our laptops anti-hardware.
finish pool; deal with pan handlers - unfortunately (illegible); better restaurants - so could do an evening out; seem cramped, but...
Finish swimming pool
Finish the pool!
Finish the pool!
Fitness room. (I used to live near this one - just moved closer to Lake Anne) Fitness/exercise is all at Lake Anne; Fun activities for older adults.
fix the pool
Flooring
For over 65, most of the programs are during the day time. I still work. They need to have evening hours for some of the more popular activities
free meeting rooms
game room, workout/fitness room, gym, sitting areas, kitchen, outdoor area and deck General Maintenance Facility and Pool general modernization
General upkeep
General upkeep to maintain Generations have been paying taxes into these facilities. It would be negligent not to update them.
Gym
Gym equipment/Gym dance rooms
Gym/work-out facilities.
Gymnasium; Fitness Center; Dance/Fitness Studio; Craft/class studio for kids
Have not been - didn't know this existed. N/A Hope pool opens soon!
I don't care for the Hunters Woods area. It seems run down. I wouldn't go there
I don't go there but I should. It feels out of the way for me.

E3aHW- What updates or renovations would you like to see done to the Hunters Woods facility?
I have no input since its been a long time since I've been in either of these facilities. I do remember that Lake Anne was particularly chilly (cold) when I attended a class quite awhile ago.
I have not been inside this location, but given homicide near area that happened a few weeks ago, I'd be concerned for building security and parking lot safety.
I just want to see a continuous investment in our community facilities.
I suspect that current work on aquatics facility will not suffice owing to current management priority.
I'm looking forward to the pool reopening.
Important
Improve accessibility for patrons with disabilities
Improve security — gangs hangout outside, especially at night Improve/clean up Hunter Woods area.
improved parking
In both cases, learn and use Ida Lee Park Recreation Center as a starting point and example to follow.
Indoor exercise room
indoor pool improvements Infrastructure
Interior is in progress
Need to work on exterior
Too many people loiterers around the RCC. It makes it uncomfortable and unsafe to go alone
Interior of facility looks very dated.
Interior update - furniture and carpeting
Is there an exercise room? computer area? game area?
It's just important in general for these spaces to be clean, current, and attractive, or the community won't use them.
Just in general to keep maintaining, perhaps a better outdoor lighting at night
Just in general, keep them in good shape.
Just keep it up. Offer more classes if demand is there.
Just keep them modern and pleasant so we keep having nice neighbors.
Just keeping it cleaned and maintained. Great theater space.
just maintain the facilities to be in good shape.
Keep all up to date.
Keep both in tip-top cleanliness and always spruced- up to a high standard. Continue hiring friendly and professional staff.
Keep everything clean.
Keep facilities updated
More space for classes
Keep it as nice as it is.
keep it from getting shabby

E3aHW- What updates or renovations would you like to see done to the Hunters Woods facility?
Keep it in clean, working order— especially restrooms and public spaces
Keep it safer (security and crime is terrible) keep new/fresh
Keep pool and CenterStage clean and modern Keep safe and current for both
Keep up to date
keep what they have up-to-date
Larger Theater
Land fitness classes here also larger theater
Lighting
Lobby needs better security. I don't feel my children are safe in lobby area or directly outside.
Locker Rooms
Looking forward to aquatics update - not sure how it will turn out (?) lap lanes
-looking forward to pool and locker room
-add gym or fitness classes
Looking forward to pool reopening. Would be nice to have a larger or additional theater.
Maintain
maintain current; excellent upkeep
Maintain pool area
maintain swimming facility, maintain and improve performance space Maintenance
-Make it more modern looking
-Connect it to the shopping Center
-Add fitness facility
-Yoga Studio
-Dog training area for classes and workshops
-More outside events and markets
Make the entire space more appealing with brighter lights.
make the facility more modern. This is particularly important given Reston development.
Make the meeting/class space more modern and sound proofed. Having help HOA meetings at RCC Hunters Woods, it was impossible to conduct a meeting with noise from the large hall area.
Maybe advertise more meetings room
--modern sitting areas
--Better/working vending machines
--Kids play area
Modernize– fixtures, wifi, water distribution (fill station fountains); add table/board game areas for kids
Modernize internal look and more natural light

E3aHW- What updates or renovations would you like to see done to the Hunters Woods facility?
modify building to include a facility for workout programs (a gym). Better parking.
More art classes held here - better rooms
More cultural theater more digital photography classes more exhibition, performance space. Keep the pool clean and available
More hours and better equipment in the woodshop.
More inviting entrance- it's tucked way in weird plaza. I often forget its there. Modern pool for families
More lockerroom/lockers
Dedicated studio for dance
-More lounge chairs -quiet area for reading -game room -basketball court -area for parties (for rental)
more parking
More Parking - Closer Parking
more parking easier access More performances, more fitness more reader friendly areas; install sandwich snack, and drink vending machines
More senior workout opportunities being fit in a community like Reston should not require expensive private memberships not even geared to my age set.
More sewing classes
More space for kids' classes

E3aHW- What updates or renovations would you like to see done to the Hunters Woods facility?
No specific ideas
No specific Suggestions
Non-alcoholic space for people to drop in and chat, as they now do at restaurants none
none at the moment
None at this time
none needed
None; glad that aquatics facility being upgraded.
Not much can be done to the long walk from parking to the facility. Updating pool will be good. I hope there is a heated spa. Add/updated technology for computer courses
not sure
not sure of what is needed
nothing different from current maintenance/renovation
Nothing in particular - but the moment RCC is rundown due to a lack of renovations, it will be a problem. Would like to see a bigger lobby area though. And a larger restroom.
nothing in particular, just keep them well maintained nothing particular in mind
Nothing Specific
Nothing specific Staff is very aware and observant nothing specific, just maintain them
Nothing specific, just regular maintenance
Nothing specifically currently. Just wish for area to be in clean and pleasant condition - especially pool
Nothing! Keep Boston Properties out - they ruined the Town Center!
Offer senior programs
ok as is
Out of date (old)
Dangerous people hang out outside
Outdoor lighting and safety

E3aHW- What updates or renovations would you like to see done to the Hunters Woods facility?
Outdoor lighting; dedicated parking; new flooring; better acoustics in meeting rooms overall modernization; looks/feel dated
Overall update to meet demands and keep current.
Paperwork drop off box (when the office has its metal fence down).
Parking
Parking
Parking is too complicated
Perhaps the theater, etc.
Plaza/way from parking areas is uncomfortable at night. Perhaps sheltered walkway would lead the way undeniable better lighting (without disturbance to neighboring residences)
Pod facilities
Assisted devices for hearing loss, that is, sound systems for telecoils.
Pool
Pool - depressing and creepy - I attend a different pool in the Area Pool (being done)
-Pool already in progress
-Art rooms are okay
Pool and locker room
Pool improvements
Pool improvements
Updates to rental spaces pool is dark and (word not legible) rooms less inviting Pool renovation that is currently underway, additional fitness options
Pool renovations
Pool reopening, children's theatre, clearer sinage Pool repairs
Pool update was good pool; group fitness; gym; kids classes; dance; yoga; karate Public information on renovations.
Put the diving board back in the HW pool. Why was it removed in the first place?
Fix the whirlpool if that's not been addressed already.
Racquet ball volley ball
RCC is not a safe place after dark-long walk from parking lot - area dark
Refresh interior space aesthetic design, resolve noise issues

E3aHW- What updates or renovations would you like to see done to the Hunters Woods facility?
regular updates to equipment
Remodeled. It is old and dirty
Remove carpet, update Renovation
repaint conference room clean and landscape exterior
Replacing anything broken. Computer skills classes-equipment.
Revised layout to better reflect modern community spaces room for land based fitness routine maintenance safety for kids
Seating in theater is not comfortable
Security
Security - more outside lights, etc.
Update floors (remove carpets!)
Security near facility
Security of parking as well as facility. See see D1c response.
See D2c above quality of sound for speaker/music
see remarks in D2c
Seems dated in appearance generally. Overall, good facility.
Some fitness and art classes at HW might be nice to try. Might need to see if increasing pool lap hours is needed, especially for retired people.
Some visibility from parking area. It's possible to be in the Hunter Woods Center parking lot and have no idea that RCC is there.
Sorry can't answer these questions I don't go there anymore. Thanks for your concerns, but still grateful to your efforts to improve the facility. Sincerely yours.
Space for youth active classes: basketball, parkour, gymnastics, rock climbing swim aerobics
Swim class availability, summer camp availability, adult further education swim facility; stage auditorium swim pool Swim pool renovations
swimming pool
Swimming pool area - which is currently under renovation
The aquatics center to open, zumba classes, activities for seniors 55+
The location of RCC is not in any safe neighborhood. There has been a lot of crime in that area.
the pool is going to be smaller? There should at least be a decent fitness room.
the RCC should have it's own parking.
It's hidden.
Ticket office

E3aHW- What updates or renovations would you like to see done to the Hunters Woods facility?
Timely updates A current schedule
Total redo uncertain
Under renovation now unknown
Unsure what is being done.
Unsure, enough to keep the facility looking up to date if needed unsure; make just an overall facelift Update and keep it relevant. Indoor pool is magnificent and not duplicated by RA.
update auditorium
update common areas and classrooms; modern design update to facility and programs is being done very well by RCC Updated pool, expanded art/workshop space Updated studio space, equipment, and supplies for arts and crafts.
upgrade kitchen; needs more security; too much loitering and homeless; side conference room too noisy Upkeep
Variety important, too locked into the usual "activities." Seniors, in particular, need a change of pace.
very excited to see the pool renovation completed.
We don't want to pay more for RA dues. No updates.
weight room
Whatever is necessary
Whatever the tenants feel necessary
Work out room
Work station rental areas. More outdoor patio space.
Workout facility; performing arts center

E3aLA- What updates or renovations would you like to see done to the Lake Ann facility?
- advertise more
- renovation definitely
- forgotten plaza with great potential (close to water!!!)
Overall update to meet demands and keep current.
(Illegible word) important
regular updates to equipment
1) Maintaining public area. Trash, dog poo. 2) Speeding bikes 3) Visitors tend to not know about rules
3D media studio needs more (shallow) shelving and lighting ACC for exercise classes add auditorium or theater
add gym room
add indoor pool in the area for year-round use.
additional fitness spaces
Art classrooms need to be expanded to have 2 classes at the same time.
Back section - may people don't even know what is there.
Bathroom renovation
Bathroom renovations
Bathrooms could be updated.
better air conditioning better lecture facilities; lighting screens; projection equipment; sound equipment, chairs, etc better music equipment for fitness class.
Better parking and update outside look Better parking, updated facility
Better Parking, Want Stand Up Paddleboard Classes.
Better Signage at the Street
Better sound system. better HVAC system. better wiring.
Bigger space for drop-in classes
both facilities are being kept in excellent condition- including updates ie: pool building mtc; landscape updates; facilities updated
Check A/C system
Cleaning clearer sinage
Close -- too out dated. Parking is limited.
Security concerns
Close it!!!
comfortable temperatures; more inviting entry & reception desk Consistent cleanliness; bathrooms - remodel; front desk - remodel
continue general upkeep
Continue to upgrade, rental boats, maintain health of Reston lakes

E3aLA- What updates or renovations would you like to see done to the Lake Ann facility?
Deal with pan handlers - unfortunately (illegible); better restaurants - so could do an evening out; seem cramped, but...
Did not know about Lake Anne facility. Don't use it.
-Dismal atmosphere -Dated -Exercise rooms have no ventilation!!
Ditto
Does not affect us.
Dog facilities! More dog parks
Don't even know what's in Lake Anne. I live very close
Don't go there (direction)

Don't know, don't use
Don't know. It appears that neither facility has room to expand
Don't know; I rarely go there.
Ease of Access
Exercise room/play room, treadmill, ping-pong table exercise rooms are too small for class sizes and therefore hot & humid when exercising Exercise rooms too small for number of attendees.
expand parking availability expansion
Expansion
Fairly sterile and uncomfortable meeting rooms. They should be updated.
Fitness room
Fitness space that is not so completely open Flooring
free meeting rooms
general modernization
General upkeep
Gym
Gymnasium; fitness center, dance studio, art studio for kids
Have a room available for small community meetups
Have not used

E3aLA- What updates or renovations would you like to see done to the Lake Ann facility?
I Do not visit the facility at lake anne, the parking is too tight.
I don't know
I don't know this facility well at all. Same, keep the building fresh and updated.
I have no input since its been a long time since I've been in either of these facilities. I do remember that Lake Anne was particularly chilly (cold) when I attended a class quite awhile ago.
I like the additional program and the updates made several years ago.
I would like the class room a little larger.
I would like to see their area updated
Improve accessibility for patrons with disabilities
improved parking
Improvement of parking lot
In both cases, learn and use Ida Lee Park Recreation Center as a starting point and example to follow.
Indoor Pool, Indoor Gym/Basketball court improve parking lot at Lake Anne Increase space for exercise class such as HiLo & Tai Chi larger space for proforming arts.
Isn't a lot of class space Too much open, unused space
It's just important in general for these spaces to be clean, current, and attractive, or the community won't use them.
Jewelry casting equipment
Just in general to keep maintaining, perhaps better outdoor lighting at night just keep facilities fresh and technologically current Just keep the facility clean
Just keep them modern and pleasant so we keep having nice neighbors.
Keep all up to date.
Keep Boston Properties out - they ruined the Town Center!
Keep both in tip-top cleanliness and always spruced-up to a high standard. Continue hiring friendly and professional staff.
keep from getting shabby
Keep it clean and fresh looking.
keep new/fresh
Keep safe and current for both
Keep the art studio and building as nice as it is.
keep them as nice as they are now!
Keep up to date
keep up with current technologies & equipment keep clean keep safe (no tripping hazards, etc.)

E3aLA- What updates or renovations would you like to see done to the Lake Ann facility?
Lake Anne is too narrow, maybe have more things to do. I would like to see more landscaping.
Lake Anne needs to expand space Lake Anne Plaza, which is not the facility's responsibility, but the overall plaza is rather beaten. Parking lot, especially.
large fitness room larger classrooms, additional craft classes larger clay facility
-Larger facilities for more classes
Larger facility - needs to be more than a "pocket facility" and needs a good catering kitchen.
Larger LA facility with a teen center or something that will be attractive and attract teens.
Lighting
Locker Rooms Chorale Room
Lots.
Maintain - the rooms are very nice maintain current; excellent upkeep
Maintenance
Maintenance
Make entrance larger, more welcoming - less of a hallway.
meeting room/classroom space
Meets needs. Replace items when broken.
Minor updates to fitness rooms - mirror, space
Modernize lake Anna area.
Modernize- see <— (above)
modernize; keep fresh; renovate/invest more area to socialize with classmates after classes like they do at HW
More attractive surroundings; modernization; high end restaurants.
More classes in evening; more space in class.
more classrooms
More courses Additional space
More events classes more exhibition, performance, classroom space with more state of the art technology.
more large spaces for rental; better kitchen
More modern face lift
more parking
more parking
More parking or access more restaurant

E3aLA- What updates or renovations would you like to see done to the Lake Ann facility?
More space (I know it's limited)
More space for kids' classes
more space for the sculpture studio and students' work (separate from ceramics studio student work)
More space, bigger classroom,
More variety of offerings
MPGrade building/space

rejuvenation overall

E3aLA- What updates or renovations would you like to see done to the Lake Ann facility?
renovations; cleanliness (illegible)
Restrooms
Revised layout to better reflect modern community spaces
Revitalize lakefront property. Aesthetic.
Rooms are generally well suited for purposes. Definitely a maze!
routine maintenance
safer children's playground near community center (instead of concrete pyramid)
Same Same answer as previous Same as above
Security - more lights outside, etc. More space for classes security near facility
See C4 comment
Somewhat important
Space for youth active classes: basketball, parkour, gymnastics, rock climbing Space should be expanded including time for events to be extended.
Spiffing up the women's restroom would be nice. Bigger classrooms for drop-in fitness. Could you add floor to the building for more space?
temp control
Temperature Control, Sound System
The same as for Hunter Woods facility
There is not a significant facility at Lake Anne at all. Hah-hah.
There's a Lake Anna Facility?
There's a Lake Anne Facility?
Things/events/programs should be held there.! There should be a visible sign at the entrance.
uncertain
unknown
unsure; don't use this facility – unfamiliar with it update bathrooms, bound of events
Updated fitness space and updated studio space, equipment, and supplies for arts and crafts.
upkeep and as needed
Wash yoga blankets & bolster covers
We used to be able to rent small rooms there.
Well designed and supplied classroom
whatever is necessary
Works well for what is there.
Would be nice if outdoor concerts (take-a-break) could be held on rainy days, but I don't think that's doable.
Would like more available space

E10_4_TEXT: When property values rise in our area, revenue raised from property taxes goes up, too. If more tax money was available to RCC due to new revenue, which of the following statements comes closest to your view? RCC should... "Something Else (please specify)"
1. Return $ to taxpayers or lower fees
2. rainy day fund
3. capital maintenance
a little of everything above (See listing)
a mixture
add game room, deck/outdoor space, add gym
Add more evening classes on various nights
All of the above!
Already said - indoor tennis/pickleball or facility in N. Reston
Apply funds to maintenance (near-term and long-term.)
Ask less. RCC should return the rest audio quality
Become self-funding as an independent, not for profit entity.
bias question. excess tax collections should be refunded and the tax rate lowered.
both #'a 1 and 2
build a centerpiece facility build another additional facility
Close down - Return tax money closely examine long-term fiscal investment combination 1 & 2, add 2 new types of programs. Plus offer financial aid for select programs combine 1 & 3
Comedy
Consider diversifying ???? to the village centers e.g South lake consider lowering tax
Create a performance/arts center similar to the Barns at Wolf Trapp
Create fund to maintain and better plan for upgrades
Cut features/programs and lower taxes.
Decrease my RCC tax burden! I think it's unfair that others who live in Reston but outside of the Tax District reap the benefits of my increased tax burden while I have to work more in order to afford to live here. I would propose to increase the size of the Tax District's boundaries if it is proposed to proceed with this new development.
determine exactly what the community needs/wants and provide it.
Do nothing
donate to local charities that help the homeless
Don't like (illegible) taxes even more. Resting already very expensive.
Don't raise taxes
Don't want STD#5 to go up.

E10_4_TEXT: When property values rise in our area, revenue raised from property taxes goes up, too. If more tax money was available to RCC due to new revenue, which of the following statements comes closest to your view? RCC should... "Something Else (please specify)"
Don't want to increase revenue- furious at disparity between condo prop taxes and commerical prop taxes. Compare taxes from 2009 to 2019 for tax map numbers a) 0172 07 000633 b) 0172 31 1625 or even RCC's at Lake Anne: c) 0172 31 1591A ensure maintenance of facilities and staff well paid Facility maintenance/upgrades fill the everyday life in Reston with art. No need to continue it into buildings.
Gain funding from Fairfax County as other rec centers/facilites do without special district tax get people/programs with a higher profile (which am assuming is more expensive) 2) create a nicer venue give back to taxpayers give to RA for another use gym
Have all owners of property in Reston pay to support RCC
Have more than 1 or a larger venue for theater and musical entertainment Have open market and music at Hunter Woods, Like Lake Ann does.
help low income students take classes
Hold. We are doing well.
I'm not sure ever heard of you guys improve existing facilities
Improve maintenance of existing facilities, not add. Fees are already low enough.
Improve the quality of programs. In light of the many hundreds of dollars in taxes that my neighbors and I pay and our willingness to pay for tickets, the existing quality is unacceptable.
increase class sizes so more people can participate with fewer full-class barriers Increase fitness room size increase quality
Increase security
Increase the quality of programming with highly recognized performances/speakers increased outreach/ads
invest in preserving open space
Just don't do anything stupid with the money.
Large performance venue
Leave it alone
low for Reston members, higher for non-reston Lower costs to district 5 members for stage lower rates
Lower RCC tax rate
Lower tax rate - In the 17 years we've lived here, the taxes have skyrocketed! In real dollars if not %.

E10_4_TEXT: When property values rise in our area, revenue raised from property taxes goes up, too. If more tax money was available to RCC due to new revenue, which of the following statements comes closest to your view? RCC should... "Something Else (please specify)"
Lower taxes so I don't have to pay for a community center that mainly focuses on families and seniors lower taxes, do not expand the programs
Lower the tax rate
Lower the tax rate
Lower the Tax rate for residential properties
Lower the taxes!!
MAINTAIN TRAILS AND PATHS
Make sure there's money available to help lower income residents attend programming. I know you already do a great job of this!
Make the Indoor Pool bigger or add another Lap Pool
maybe update Center Stage
Modernize
NO
No increase
Offer basketball, parkour, gymnastics for youth
Offer free educational programs for underprivileged children during the school year Partner with RA to gain overhead savings preserve green space; limit development programs with broad, very general appeal, not "art", "cultural", etc.
provide access to the less advantaged quality better than quality
Rebate all resident owners
Rebate fund, back
Reduce and eliminate the tax.
Reduce assessment- return to homeowners reduce cost reduce rate!
Reduce Reston Association Annual Fees
Reduce swim pool fees
Reduce tax rate!
Reduce taxes
reduce taxes
Reduce taxes on property
Reduce the 4.7% tax rate. The small District Tax Rate should be canceled. It was never intended to be forever.
reduce the tax
Reduce the tax rate

E10_4_TEXT: When property values rise in our area, revenue raised from property taxes goes up, too. If more tax money was available to RCC due to new revenue, which of the following statements comes closest to your view? RCC should... "Something Else (please specify)"

Reduce the tax rate.

reduction in taxes

Refund the tax revenue to taxpayers

Return funds to tax payers

return the money

Rip off that Reston is penalized while giving to all other areas of NoVa RTC Performing arts center!

Run on a fiduciary and sound financial basis

Same programming, more choices of schedule to avoid selling out too quickly.

Save and invest – program accordingly

save funds for maintenance

save some $

space for teenagers to hang out without a charge

Stay out of our financials

stay the same

Stop over spending just because more money comes in — How about reducing taxes.

STOP TAKING TAX MONEY AND CLOSE DOWN or be sold.

Support most critical needs and also save some of the surplus for emergency or if revenue raised declines.

There should be statistics to support this from polls or community feedback.

Use money efficiently

We need other things; more roads, schools

E11_6_TEXT: RCC provides a fee waiver program to help people with limited economic means still participate in RCC programming. Qualifying for fee waiver status is based on income levels. Those participants pay a nominal fee to enroll or purchase tickets or passes. Qualified fee waiver patrons with children may enroll them in as many summer camp programs as desired (paying a nominal fee per offering). To what extent do you favor continuing this type of program to provide economic accessibility to RCC? "Depends (please specify)"
As long as ability to pay is thoroughly assessed depends on the truthfulness and thoroughness of investigation of "limited economic means".
don't think that Reston is __ under any income restriction as the community is quite affluent.
elderly perhaps
I probably am over the threshold but I am at my limit to spend more on programs - every program adds so I can only choose one, i.e. exercise. I only swim , but I would like to do other exercise classes, too.
If participants are citizens and who will be paying for it!
I'll support fee waiver for activities for children but not for for adults.
Illegal immigrants should not qualify.
income/property values should be much higher for (illegible)
Is oversight done on a regular basis so that we know that people who need this are getting it and others that can pay are doing so?
Is there a cap on the number of participants in this program?
Keeping balance with a certain percentage of available places reserved for nominal fee applicants.
Let''s just not get carried away with handouts. In moderation please.
Needs modified
Never space available for all the children who want summer camp programs so we are taxed anyway even if our grandchildren can't get in.
Often people abuse this program. Please abolish this so that they STOP bragging in the community for paying less or not paying at all.
on public assistance should get free RCC camp for working families.
on what other subsidies they receive from Fairfax County on whether the RCC as an entity continues to operate. If so, all prices should be reduced to provide more equitable participation
Some residents take advantage by registering outsiders as family members somewhat because I believe a better auditing of those applying needs to happen. I know people who take advantage and manipulate income to qualify.
The fee waiver is great and we are beneficiares as I was a furloughed government employee and was able to enroll my 3 children in 3 different camps for $10 each! To me, that nominal fee is too low, its basically free. I would support raising it and/or having a sliding scale so that families such as ours might also benefit.
what are the details of the program? What is the limted access even? What is the nominal fee in actual dollars and cents hw can you support something you know nothing about???? where do they live?

C1c_11_TEXT: Why have you and/or your household not attended a class, workshop, or event at RCC or an RCC-sponsored event in the past 12 months? "Other"
Activities target young and elderly - need more for middle (30's-40's) activities we desire are never offered by RCC
Also just moved here...settling into our routines.

Due to health
everything we do is not in Reston geared towards older people Had a baby had a sick husband have been on a waiting list
Have not made the effort to determine all offerings for those times that I might be available.
Haven't focused on what's offered; wasn't comfortable with the one program I attended.
Haven't taken the time to read the catalogue health hearing deficiency make attending difficult
I get the brochure, but mostly throw it away because it takes up space.
I live at Lake Anne Plaza; I provide the space RCC uses for festivals, as well as insurance, etc. and staff and clean up!
I tend to stay near Lake Anne
I was living abroad illness
I'm a teacher and don't want to spend my time off with students/parents.
I'm in my early 50s, not old enough for 55+ programs but too old/not interested in many of the programs for younger people Interested in classes, but I need one or two, not multiple (illegible) week commitments due to travel.
It feels like these are for retired people.
language barrier
Last time I signed up, a woman questioned whether I was a Reston Assoc member + was doing detective work on internet to make this assertion. Creepy! Big Brother and lack of trust of lack of good information from RA. If RCC and Ra talked this would not have occurred.
Laziness leading to lack of familiarity

C1c_11_TEXT: Why have you and/or your household not attended a class, workshop, or event at RCC or an RCC-sponsored event in the past 12 months? "Other"
Lots of overlap of facilities and programs offered already elsewhere in Reston. For example, Reston Association (RA) has aquatics, camps, tennis! So does the YMCA. Lots of gyms around. Wolftrap has shows and concerts. I just go to RCC to vote now. Used it when kids were young much more frequently.
moved out and moved in recently.
My interest fluctuates
My youngest is autistic and no special programs for him.
Not a safe area
Not able to get into the one(s) I wanted (filled too quickly) not substantive

potential for crime
SCHEDULED SELF-DEFENSE CLASS ONCE BUT IT WAS CANCELLED seems like info is reviewed long before event and I typically don't make plans very far out.
Tennis is my primary activity and you don't have The RA offers plenty of programs (see their quarterly magazine)
This has been a down time for us, but look forward to getting more involved.
Too many performing arts are repeated year after year. Does RCC do an annual analysis of all programming and drop offerings that have little or no draw?
travel
Tried, but staff was not helpful
Wanted to take wood shop class but location + timing didn't work. Very inaccessible.
We enjoy programs when we go, just haven't done so recently. Would like to attend more.
We plan to enroll child in Swimming lessons soon

Appendix G:

Non-probability Open-ended Responses

The open-ended responses have had identifying information redacted to protect the privacy of respondents and RCC personnel. Otherwise, responses have been left untouched, with the respondent's original spelling, grammar, capitalization, and spacing retained.

CSR thematically coded the open-ended responses for all questions that contained a text response. When the same open-ended response was reported by multiple respondents to a given question, a new category was created to capture that repeated answer. For questions C1c, E4, E10, F1, F2, F3, F4, and F6, additional categories were added and can be viewed in the frequency tables and cross-tabulations found in Appendices A and B. The results of the thematic coding of questions C3, C4, D2c, E3aHW, and E3aLA are discussed in the narrative report.

Lifelong learning. But I would go first to any of the many community colleges or online for courses. Reston's courses just aren't interesting enough. The other is swimming since I'm an avid lap swimmer.
Lifelong Learning; land based fitness; water based fitness
LOVE the cache and convenience of a community theater that offers affordable, high quality programming. And though I'm not quite there yet, I am looking forward to becoming more involved in RCC's programming for older adults - especially the lifelong learning activities and crafting classes.

My family would enjoy drop-in swim if the staff and lap swimmers are more open to it. We pay for this facility but the perceived attitude is if you're not there to lap swim, you're not welcome.

RCC is a dump.
RCC IS A WASTE OF TAX PAYER MONEY
RCC Visual Arts classes are the most important to me and my family. Unfortunately the quality and diversity of teachers has dwindled to the point that we no longer participate. This opinion is felt among a great number of my Reston artist friends as well.

We have mostly made use of classes, and highly encourage our friends and neighbors to look at the classes as well. Both fitness and arts classes interest us. We are also looking into facility rental for an upcoming project.
We love the arts and wwe are most interested in theater performances and guest visitors.
When my kids were small, I used to take them to all sorts of RCC activities: swim lessons, YAT (both summer camp and after school programs), the kids' flea market (once). Once we rented space at RCC for a birthday party.
When my kids were young we came to Tot Time over the course of 3-4 yrs. Also did 3-4 different fitness programs. Lots of little kid programs. Love all the activities at Lake Anne Plaza.

C4- What programs or facilities would you like to see RCC offer that it does not currently? List all that you wish to include.
A fitness center with state-of-the-art equipment. The lack of one at RCC is a huge disappointment.
A good evening bridge game. Classical music concerts.
A gym where families could stay fit regardless of wheather conditions. I seeHerndon, Burke and many centers that encourage and facilitate family fitness...RCC only offers the pool.
A large, Accoustically fine performance center for The Reston Chorale. The present multipurpose room is inadequate.
A larger performance venue! More fiber craft classes (knitting, crochet).
A more varied selection of visual art classes and instructors would be most welcome. The art program has suffered greatly since the departure of [NAME REDACTED]. I would happily pay more to take classes taught by professional artists who bring their talent and fresh, new ideas to the arts program. I have not taken any classes in the past two years because the same classes taught by the same artists are repeated each season.
A new and larger performing arts venue
A nice fitness center with child care that could replace our gym memberships. Many other community centers have a more inclusive and higher quality swimming facility with fitness center.
A North Reston indoor pool; an outdoor movie venue, maybe Brown's Chapel area; kids' bird walks
A true performing arts center
A workout facility/gym; activities for tweens and teens (more than the after school activity at LHMS); activities for adults under 55; more offerings at Hunters Woods
Additional fitness programs on weekends; Pilates program with different instructors; drop in yoga
Additional yoga classes
Adult beginner dance classes
Adult Dance
Adult swimming lessons.
Aerobics classes, lifelong learning
After school fitness and crafts for kids. Example: parkour, historic swordsmanship, origami Afterschool with transportation/pickup from nearby schools such as Hunters Woods Elementary.
aikido classes
Another swim facility/CC outside of Hunterswoods Shopping Center Arts related
Autism/twice exception work program or camps. More we'll known productions for YAT (include live musicians for an instrument camp) Personal trainers for those of us who hate gyms
Babysitting training class

C4- What programs or facilities would you like to see RCC offer that it does not currently? List all that you wish to include.
Barre class, yoga, Pilates
Barre classes; vinyasa yoga; oil painting for beginners; DSLR hands-on photography classes
Belly dancing Preschool yoga
Better concert venue
Better indoor fitness spaces and offerings. Spaces in LA and Hunter Woods Center are outdated and/or small. Don't feel these are comparable to county-wide recreation centers.
Better quality dance and gymnastics instructions and facilities (eg replace a wall in the dance studio with windows). Herndon has a phenomenal program rivaling private businesses while at RCC the ballet instructor wears sneakers!! Also, there is little programming for preschool ages.
better quality Spanish speaking lessons
Black box theatre for smaller productions.
Boot camp
Broader dance or other enrichment classes for Elementary school aged children
Camps for teen from age 14-16
Can't think of any.
Canasta club, knitting/crocheting classes
Cannot think of any-other than re-vitalization of the Lake Anne Plaza which falls out of their span of control I expect.

Coding, business skills for kids and adults
Comedians/events which cater to millennials who are increasingly living/working in Reston community yard sale, community organization expo computer use classes
Concert hall / performing arts venue designed for musical performances
Continue as you do
Continue to expand the community center offerings "beyond the walls." Focus additional support and leadership in convening partners and efforts to link resources, programs throughout Reston. Additional school-based and child wellbeing work.
Cooking, computer for storing and organizing photos

C4- What programs or facilities would you like to see RCC offer that it does not currently? List all that you wish to include.
Dance Class or gymnastics for girls ages 5-12. Also classes for Autistic or Special needs individuals/kids Dance classes and cooking classes dance lessons for older children
Daytime Spanish and other languages
Discounted room rental for multiday rentals for outside continuing education programs
Dog agility

Enlarge ceramics studio
Environmental awareness programs and opportunities.
Even 5 years ago there were more trips and tours of interest, but those offerings have declined significantly. I wish there were more.
Evening sports
Events which seriously interest seniors.
Exercise classes for older/slightly disable community members. The only ones I have seen occur during the day, which rules out anyone who works standard hours. (Haven't looked in the last few years, but I've been in Reston for a very long time and use to check regularly, never saw a time I could take a class.)
Exercise classes such as Kickboxing, HITT, BodyPump at early AM times like 5:00AM and 6:00AM
Exercise classes that I can do while seated.
Exercise like tai chi in the Hunters Woods Center.
Exercise machines.
Pingpong tables.
Wall for tennis practice.
extended before and after care for summer camp. Lots of families in Reston commute to DC, Arlington, Alexandria and can't get here before 6:30. You'd be more competitive with other camps in the area.
extended senior Tai Chi programs
Film Festival
Fitness center

C4- What programs or facilities would you like to see RCC offer that it does not currently? List all that you wish to include.
Fitness center later like Oak Marr or Spring Hill
Fitness center with equipment and classes like cycling, pilates, and yoga during times that working people can take them. Also, dog training classes.
Fitness Classes at Hunters Woods, cheaper prices to use the pools, and work out rooms
Fitness classes that are more "modern" geared for millennials i.e. barre, HIIT, pilates, cycling. I saw that there is a paddle board fitness class at the pool and thought it was really cool. Also community cook outs or potlucks will be great.
Fitness classes that meet levels and scheduling for younger, working participants (25-55). Fitness equipment (ellipticals, weights, etc.)
Food/wine events and or classes
Foreign Language Classes (ex. Spanish), Music Lessons (drum, bass, guitar)
Free events or food, wine or beer-related events free meeting and/or practice space for Reston residents to use
Free Rentals for civic organizations
Game nights or bridge clubs and fitness drop in classes Games other than Bridge and mah john gardening resources other than plots
Given the richness of the population, would love to see some kind of monthly program where local Reston residents give presentations about topics upon which they can provide unique perspective, depth, or insight. Sort of a mini-TEDTalk xReston? Also, the RCC stage at Hunters Woods seems to experience a lot of down-time ... is there any way we could stage more performances? South Lakes HS jazz band concerts, one-act play festivals, and/or choral events, for instance? Mini-performances by Reston Chorale, Reston orchestra, or local dance groups? Perhaps offer the stage to other local acting companies?
glass kiln fusion
Golf
More Woodshop
Gym
Gym facilities, particularly a weight training room/programs.
Gym....more theater
gymnastics
Handmade craft and arts fair/bazaar; silversmithing class
High qualified swimming pool.
Higher quality concert performers, more famous names
Homeschool arts education (fine and/or performing), Youth/homeschool foreign language (Spanish). Vast improvements and updates needed to both community centers and locations ensuring safety of visitors with recurring crime incidents nearby current facilities. Aquatic facility suitable for competitive swimming and diving practices and competitions.
horticulture; landscape design; floral arrangement classes; etiquette/social skills classes for teens
I am more interested in spending my little bit of free time with family and friends

C4- What programs or facilities would you like to see RCC offer that it does not currently? List all that you wish to include.
I believe you offer some of these programs, however, I want to emphasize programs that target our youth and seniors giving them meaningful opportunities to be engaged in productive activities that allow them to feel connected to others in the Greater Reston Community. I also want to emphasize the need for meeting space within the community that allows programs and organization to engage with community members and to keep them engaged in civic opportunities.
I can't think of anything
I can't think of anything.
I don't know if how RCC is organized and run is relevant anymore. Seems to be stuck in the 1970's, or more of an offshoot of the senior center nearby.
I like the current blend of events and offerings.
I like the programs, but it would be helpful if the schedule for those programs for 55+ be offered at times other than the middle of the day. Many 55+ in Reston still work full time, but could benefit from sine of the classes.
I love that you offer a lot of yoga classes but I wish more of them were available in the afternoon for those of us who work but don't want to do an evening class. Also wish there were more instructors so we'd have more choices, especially for yoga.
I love the events at the RCC
i personally as very interested in as many water aerobics classes as possible. also, it would be nice if there were some weight lifting machines that i could use regularly without having to join a gym.
I think the community center could be updated to be a very vibrant, center of Reston. Right now, it is not that inviting, dated, very quiet, with people kind of lingering around outside and in the lobby,
I think the current offerings are great.
I think there is good variety now
I think they do a pretty comprehensive job. Competition for swimming time at the indoor pool is fierce, the could benefit from another indoor pool.
I think you have a comprehensive list in all areas except adult learning. Would like to see more lectures on timely topics; with all the qualified Folks in DC area this would be more attractive.
I unwittingly bought a punch card for the pool that EXPIRED after I had used it only once or twice. wish there was a non-time limited punch card when the pool re-opens.
I wish programs for senior adults were held sometimes in the evenings. We still work so can't attend things that are at 10 in the morning or 2 in the afternoon. Would love more events at a later time.
I wish there was better pricing for camps. I pay twice as much bc I don't live in Reston but Herndon where I live is on border and my kids will go to South Lakes and kids play in Reston league. Especially the YAT camp. It's good solid camp but expensive for me to pay for two kids
I would like to see maybe some more drop in style crafts or art classes offered for people who can't commit to larger time frames.

C4- What programs or facilities would you like to see RCC offer that it does not currently? List all that you wish to include.
I would like to see more trips to the Kennedy center and outside the wdc area. More for adults as they seem focus more on children nowadays.
I would like to see RCC close up and my taxes refunded
I would like to see the artist series get back to what it was when [Name Redacted] was running it. Performances then were much more interesting, high quality and of a greater variety. .
I'd like to see more art classes. Several of the art teachers have left. They need to be replace. More variety is needed in the art programs. Also, the line dancing teacher left years ago and was never replaced. That was a very popular program. More variety in the trips would also be nice.
I'm good
Individual learn to swim Instrumental lessons??
italic calligraphy, more arts, meditation. does a good job w senior issues but anything else related would be good, gym workout
Kennedy Center practices and minor league baseball were popular but no long seem to be available. A sad omission.
Kickboxing Indoor tennis Sewing
KidRealm Youth Camps
Kids yoga, Kids Zumba.
Knitting and crochet. Current events discussion. Yoga and meditation.
language camps, good variety of after school programs (cooking, sewing, life skills, woodworking, etc.)
Larger auditorium (concert, theater, dance space)
Larger concert hall
Larger concert venue appropriate for Reston Chorale and Reston Community Orchestra. The Community Room has terrible acoustics and seating, and the Center Stage auditorium has to small of a stage to fit either group.
Learn to ride a bike for older children and adults
Lecture series on historical subjects
Lecture series similar to Olli (which is too expensive). There are some fascinating people living in Reston who could give classes for a reasonable fee or as volunteers.
Local History programs and tours, Science and Technology activities local trips where you must go as a group, cannot go as an individual tours of local ethic groceries and less familiar religious institutions tours of places of public services as recycle, electricity, etc talks from authors, exceptionally accomplished Reston residents, professors from local universities as GMU who offers MANY to the community free, more afternoon events

C4- What programs or facilities would you like to see RCC offer that it does not currently? List all that you wish to include.
tours of places that provide public services as recycle, electricity, etc
Low impact exercise for adults, swim exercise, infant/toddler groups, reading circles, craft circles, sewing circles, social support networks
Maker's workshop
Many hobby courses, such as Learning to Play Bridge, are only offered on weekdays. Because I work full time, I'd like to see some of these classes offered evenings or weekends.
Many of the "senior" events take place during the work day and limit participation for those that are still working.
Maybe a rock climbing gym
Maybe if you made programs free to those of us that have lived on Reston for years having to pay extremely high small tax fee I might go. I can barely afford to live here and RCC makes it harder.
Maybe more general education/discussion groups - current events, particularly with an election year coming up.
Modern dance
monthly bingo game
More « green » programs: gardening with native plants, composting, collecting rain water, bike sharing south of the toll road, etc.
More adult dance and fitness classes: example - dance/hip hop/modern, more free-weight classes more and current technology classes
More aquatic fitness programs more art education
More arts programming more card games
more Celtic music
More child activities on weekends such as dance, yoga, preschool sports, classes for under 5 age
More children's sports, fitness, dance, other arts programs especially on weekends for working parents
More classes at Lake Ann and less at the Hunters Woods facility.
More classes for teens
More classical music events like the ones on Sunday at RTC
More community events, like yard sale, fruit markets, more sport activities offered (not only tennis and swimming), more art classes
More community Outreach & Community Education more cooking more day and extended trips
More daytime art classes

C4- What programs or facilities would you like to see RCC offer that it does not currently? List all that you wish to include.
More day-time arts and crafts. More fitness programs for under 55yrs.
More diverse non-aquatic offerings at Hunters Woods more drop in classes, especially land and water fitness.
More drop in fitness classes
More efforts in promoting recycling, composting, things like Buy-Nothing-Reston (Facebook groups) do
More evening open pottery studios Evening pool classes
More exercise classes at Hunters Woods. When we first moved to Reston about 15 years ago, I participated in a weekly aerobics/fitness type class and loved it. Convenient, affordable. Now, I only see them offered at Lake Anne and they are always sold out the day that the class opens.
More exercise for seniors, pilates, tai chi and chi gong,
More fitness at the Hunters woods center
More fitness classes
More fitness classes for kids (toddlers) on weekends. Art classes for kids (toddlers) on weekends. More adult art classes evenings and weekends.
More fitness programs and facilities at RCC HW for all ages. Programs meant for tween and teen set.
More food-related events
More frequent yoga, events specifically for older singles
More Interesting Artist is residence that appeal to young adults & teens. Hip hop dance, and contemporary pop music, also paint nights, Zumba with a lively/energetic instructor that dances well,
More kids cooking classes.. after school?
More swim lessons for kids and adults
Language class for kids (German, French..)
More kids plays
more language classes
More Language Immersion and conversation groups for kids learning languages locally (Spanish and French) Continued dance, multicultural and nature events.
More lifetime learning
More local performing arts organization utilizing the theater
More mommy and me or classes that include infants for working moms
More musical events other than high school noise "music"
More musical guests
More of everything you already do! Expanding accessibility from an equity perspective- partnering with other community groups like Public Art Reston, doing an occasional performance art piece like the one done on Lake Anne years ago.
More OLLI classes

C4- What programs or facilities would you like to see RCC offer that it does not currently? List all that you wish to include.
More OLLI courses would be great. They cover a lot of interests. I think there are companies in greater Reston who have speakers on issues, and they might be worth inviting. Compass Rose Healthplan and other regional organizations might have experts who could talk on topics.
More options for infant swim classes
More painting classes more partnering with 55+ organizations
More programs for kids under 7. There is basically nothing for them.
More programs for seniors more senior trips and tours at lower prices
More shows
More socials for seniors
More speakers, More music
More special needs programming and adapted fitness programming
More sport trips. I know you have done the Nats. What about Capitals, Wizards, Mystics, and arena football...Valor More stand up comedy at CenterStage.
more summer and winter water fitness, theater, more space for pottery, more night exercise classes
More summer camps geared towards tweens and teen; more art education and land-based fitness programs that meet the timing needs to working adults.
more summer camps that are day long
More swim and fitness opportunities for kids and adults in the evening and weekends. Add safety courses to first aid train residents. Advanced yoga classes in a heated room.
More theater
More theatre (drama not musicals), greater variety of language classes, more OLLI offerings more tours, overnight bus trips, budget friendly activities, exercise classes at Hunters Woods facility due to terrible traffic to get to Lake Anne.
More trips and classes for seniors who still work, and cannot attend the M-F 8-5 classes and events more trips for kids more trips,
more variety for seniors
More weekend classes and activities for children to accommodate working parents, more classes and activities for 6-16 year olds.
More woodworking hours more yoga - always sold out
More yoga classes and a fitness center. More free outdoor programs, like they do at Lake Ann and Reston Town Center, I'd like to have a market and outdoor music at Hunters Woods too.
more youth art, more youth cooking, more yoga for youth, more engineering for youth more youth arts education

None
None come to mind. I would like to see Fairfax County contribute to a Reston rec center since we pay Fairfax County taxes and the county provides and funds these kinds of amenities in many other areas of county. My understanding is that Fairfax County doesn't provide these extra amenities in Reston because we already have so many provided through RCC. So we are paying double taxes--to both RCC and Fairfax County. I would be okay with less RCC services in exchange for lower Reston taxes. Hopefully, Fairfax County will eventually try to provide parity of services to our area if we don't have another entity competing with their offerings.

Not sure. I haven't looked at the program.
noteworthy speakers possibly. The Reston library is good at this, but it's space is more limited than yours, so you'd be able to accommodate a larger crowd size. We've attended educational events at the National Cathedral also with key note speakers and panels, that were also quite well attended. Just an idea.

Performing arts center! The lack of space for performing arts, concerts, and other large size entertainments is a major lacking amenity to the local community! Reston is growing and the community center should grow to reflect the new community!
Photography classes, parkour for kids
Ping pong! There should be tables available for play and open play time. This is great for all ages. Also please bring back Crayon Batik classes. Open art studio would be good, too. How about improv theater for teens? And pls continue the forays into storytelling, writing, etc. The multigenerational workshops with GRACE have been great, when at reasonable cost. More one-time workshops in general would be good, for those who can't manage a long-term class. Also nice use of Centrestage to show films of interest at different times; diverse film series are a good and inexpensive offering, and can go with an educational lecture if relevant. McLean CC has silent films with live accompaniment--that's also a great idea.
Please change your water twice a year to reduce the risk of urine-triggered allergy attacks. This is a serious health risk and a current problem with the once-a-year water-change policy of RCC Acquatics. Please see: https://asthma.net/living/swimming-pools-triggers/ to understand the seriousness of this risk to your seniors and asthma-afflicted youth and adults.
Please offer positive reinforcement based dog training classes for ongoing learning! For example: nosework, CGC prep, tricks training, and rally-o are all classes people could take with their pets with any level of prior expertise. Good for beginners but also good for experienced owners to brush up or learning something new. Even a single class with a rotating assortment of topics would be good.

C4- What programs or facilities would you like to see RCC offer that it does not currently? List all that you wish to include.
As a local example, C&C Pals has partnered with the city of Falls Church to offer high dog training classes in the past. Could Reston similarly partner with a local CCPDT certified trainer?
There is a severe lack of group dog training classes in Reston proper--residents must drive to other jurisdictions to find decent options. Perhaps RCC could help fill the void.

RCC needs to attract better quality art instructors. Good teachers leave RCC because the pay is so low. They go teach at Glen Echo, VisArts, or to Alexandria and Loudoun Co. offerings. Restonians are missing out as a result.
Regular themed film programs
Reiki, stress management classes, sandwich generation issues, mental health & wellness classes, social media etiquette.
Reston needs a major performing arts center; also work station rental spaces and increased aquatics facilities
Right now I can't think of one.

The arts program needs to have more variety in courses and in teachers. Four or more painting teachers have left the RCC in recent years which has made the program more weighted to the remaining instructors. As a 50+ I don't want to do things just with other older people, especially ones who have been doing the same thing for 10 years. I get tired of hearing the "We do it this way in Reston..." stuff. It's not very inviting to people who have only recently moved here or who have 'aged into' the 55+ programs.
basketball court
Be more accessible to those who live in Reston who are not in the geriatric or toddler set.
Be more relevant
Beef up offering and have a web program that is easy to use. Have an engaging social media account before, classes 55+ were provided for free. pls resume this practice.
Being able to register and get a class or event directly over the phone. One some events you have to wait and be told at a later time whether you are in a class or event. Makes it more difficult to plan.
Better advertising of offerings
Better advertising of programs.
Better communication of programs and opportunities - especially for kid activities.

Better quality of programming. More up-to-date offerings: skills that could be used in today's economy.
Better scheduling. Sibling/multiple family member enrollee discount.
Better social media advertising. I don't have much awareness of offerings

D2c- What could RCC do to enable you or your family to use RCC more?

Cut down on the length of breaks between sessions; they have been getting significantly longer, and it's difficult to maintain a decent level of conditioning (and avoid injuries) if there are month-long gaps between yoga sessions, in some cases.

Either offer more of the same class or accept more students into the class. More classes during daylight hours.
Email flyers distribution
Email notifications and links to register
Email reminders or reminders via social media of events
Enhance the security of Hunters Woods center with constant police officer presence. This one thing would make a difference for a lot of people.
Ensure variety and perhaps ask people who are interested in a certain class about convenient times
Expand age ranges for kid programs. There are several for which mixed ages would be totally appropriate, and that would make it easier for families with multiple kids to attend. Example: last year Turkey Handprint Plates fell on a day off for FCPS. My kindergartener was sad to go to the program with his 3 year-old brother and not participate. Then the teacher let us pay for him and let him do it, which was great, but it would have been so much better if I could have just registered him to begin with.
Expand enrollment and/or number of available classes for arts/crafts classes.
Expand the facilities
Facilities look run down & are always full Figure out a way to incorporate younger cub scouts in the woodshop area. They want to build their derby cars, etc., not just watch the parents do it.
find way to "pull me in" and let me know about the programs you offer. Right now, I throw away your mailings and course offering catalog because it gets bundled into the junk mail bundle. Also, I don't want to be barraged with emails so I don't offer my email to you. I'll make it a point to check out your social media more.

Finish the pool, which you are and have water aerobics not too early in the day
Fix the pool. Have FCPS build pools in the high schools so RCC is only used by swim teams for emergencies.
For the popular classes like learn to swim on the weekends, offer more classes. Add more fitness classes for kids under 5 years and at times that are not during the work week. For the adults, add more specialty and advanced fitness courses.
Free classes
Free fun classes at variety of times
Get the pool open!
Greater variety of programming; responsive to the growing diversity of Reston.
Intergenerational program opportunities
Have a more streamlined process for registering. The website is old and clunky
Have a printed or pdf summary instead of just searching through Webtrac. Offer afterschool programming with school pickup.
have appropriate water aerobics classes in warmer water on a drop in basis.
Have classes during school hours for adults, explain drop in classes a bit better and how that works for the pool (do we need a separate pool pass?), and locate more classes in North Reston or at other facilities
Have kids programming and fitness classes for after work
Have later class times. Keeping the pool facility clean.
Have more classes and trips for seniors on evenings and weekends
Have more meaningful events/classes directed to all ages. Also, as a family who lives in Small Tax District 5, I feel our money is being wasted. We receive very little in return. There should be a three tiered system of pay: those who live in Reston, those who work in Reston, and those who live/work outside of Reston. It's time to have the facilities for the community-- not small segments of the community. Also, more classes need to be held Hunters Woods. Too many fitness classes are at Lake Anne.
Have more police around Hunter Woods village center. I don't feel safe there and have been harassed by people in the parking lot and sitting on benches. I don't want my kids there.
Have more programs and activities geared to singles.
Have more programs that attract a younger crowd -- ie people in their 20's-40's.
Have more trips
Have more variety in games
Having some pool space available when swim team meets.
Higher quality offers and relevant offers
Hire new artists to teach new and varied classes.
I am physically disabled and unable to work. I receive Social Security disability payments, but you don't offer a discount for people on disability to attend classes. It's frustrating to see you offer discounts for seniors who had their whole life to save for the day they would be on a fixed income, but you offer nothing to people who were disabled early in their life and have to live on a fixed income with huge medical bills. At a minimum, I'd think you could offer the same discount to disabled people as you do to seniors. It would be easy to check because people receiving Social Security disability get Medicare regardless of their age, so a Medicare card could be the requirement to qualify for the discount.

D2c- What could RCC do to enable you or your family to use RCC more?
I don't take senior exercise classes because Silver Sneakers is covered under my insurance and I don't have to pay when I go to the YMCA. Can you make a similar deal with Silver Sneakers and/or insurance programs? I and a lot of my friends have AARP/United supplemental insurance which covers this..
I don't want to take classes that end late at night in the winter. I'd like more daytime or early evening classes - especially art classes
I get info about Reston Choral events because I go to them. It would be nice if, because I have been to choral events there, I also received info about other performances so I don't have to search them out.
I have been singing with the Reston Chorale for [redact years] but live in [redact address]. Our ages and distance make it hard to fully engage in activities. We come to festivals, concerts, theater and a few other events. Can't think of anything else to get us there more often.
I prefer to take classes at either the Lake Anne or Hunters Woods facility. I don't like to travel to other parts of Reston to attend classes.
I really don't know. It's already very good. Thank you!
I still work part-time and although there are wonderful classes offered, a lot of them are in the morning. I would love to see at least a handful of early afternoon classes. I would love to take more yoga classes but so many of them are taught by the same instructor and if you're not a fan of his teaching style, it doesn't leave many other options.
I will walk-in, I'm better face-to-face!
If more than one theater company wished to make use of the RCC stage, we would definitely patronize additional performances throughout the year! Besides that, though we're not there yet, one of the reasons my husband and I will be remaining in Reston after retirement is because of the availability of programming through RCC. Please don't reduce your programming in this area before we have a chance to avail ourselves of it!
If the cost for using the pool was cheaper and there were fitness activities for adults and teenagers at RCC Hunters Woods. Also different types of dance lessons at RCC Hunter Woods
I'm not sure, but I have observed that it seems to be an under-utilized resource in Reston. Personally, I don't find it convenient to travel to Lake Anne RCC for art programs, etc., because of heavy traffic between here & there. All the reston town center & metro stations have choked access for Restonites from north to south, more like 2 distinct communities. It is easier for us to go to Oakmarr than RTC or north Reston. BUT I do not think there is anything that RCC can do @ these issues.
Improve roads from north to south side of Reston. Sometimes it can take almost an hour to get from the lake anne area to RCC for the pool and center stage.
Improve the facilities including the safety of location(s). Offer better (more options and higher quality) programming.

D2c- What could RCC do to enable you or your family to use RCC more?
Increase the pay for instructors slightly to make teaching at the RCC more attractive and competitive.
Indoor fields, gym.
It does not seem welcoming, it's too institutional. Lighten with things like outdoor festivals, flea markets, etc. Have more security in the parking areas.
It is a time and interest problem for me but I don't have an answer. Once I stop working, price will become more important
It's less what you can do than what I need to do to make it work for me.
Just good to know RCC is here in Reston!
Just retired so more time finally--more senior fitness classes would be great. I've been told that the classes at RCC-LA are very full.
just so busy with 3 kids. We live performances and camps except for the lack of before care for camps. That's a big issue.
Keep doing what you do
Kids classes shouldn't be primarily a day-time offering; working families can't attend events before 6p, and we are happy to be active on weeknights.
Knowing what is offered. We don't know a whole lot about RCC and have lived in Reston for 12 years.
Larger concert venue/auditorium space
Let people have open stage time/ or acting classes so actors can hangout longer hours for open ceramics studio, more glaze colors and styles available there Lower costs
lower costs
Lower fees; I already pay the RCC tax, that should be enough!
Lower prices for non-residents. Better concert facilities.
Lower the prices
Make Hunters Woods more safe! Have a big facility in N. Reston. Have more conventional performing acts. Not many are family-friendly.
Make it available
make it cost less; set timing of class better
Make it easier to discover available programs.
Make it easier to register/enroll in classes by month rather than semester
Make more cost effective
Make more performing times available.
Make RCC website and registration process easier. Tried to register for a class but could not get past the on-line registration.
Make Registration Process easier, more user friendly. Current system is faulty.
Make swimming available again sooner: add indoor racquet sports
More access and on site programming.
More accommodating to my pagan lifestyle more activities for mature singles, not everyone over the age of sixty is sedentary

D2c- What could RCC do to enable you or your family to use RCC more?
More art wkshops with good teachers
More at Hunters Woods, do not raise prices if possible
More availability
More awareness of activities, more advertisements to remind me of the fun offerings
More bingo more camp options and time slots more choices after regular business hours. It would be great to have programs after work for adults.
More choices of days/times of classes. More on the weekend for me!
More classes
more classes at after school times (or better awareness of those that exist).
More classes for children on weekends. The classes for younger (under 15) classes on weekends always fill up first. Even as a resident I have to mark registration times on my calendar to get in right away.
More classes.
More classical - show tunes - music - choirs - popular standards music
More good very successful broadway plays
More day-time arts and crafts classes and more day-time fitness classes for all, now it's just classes for 55yrs and older.
More daytime offerings at Hunters Woods as opposed to Lake Anne.
More diversity in programs. Especially for young adults without a family.
More emails
More evening fitness classes
More evening options for seniors since some of us still work. For example good tech offerings but only in the day for some of these.
More events at Lake Anne, or Brown's Chapel
More family events of a wider variety.
More flexibility in schedules more flexible class schedules. A specific class may be scheduled in the same time slot in the same day for years and years.
More funny English classes.
More group walks on black paths with education about our role in keeping a healthy environment. Include the Audubon Society more. Teach more gardening and landscape skills.
More intellectual classes
More kids cycling lessons!!!
More of a discount for senior and Reston resident
More on us then on the opportunities. Sometimes classes are full (YAT, etc.)
More outreach with flyers, emails, social media
More performance options
More plaza area and green space areas around centers would be good; the Lake Anne Center is very poor and uninviting.

D2c- What could RCC do to enable you or your family to use RCC more?
More programming on weekends, expand child activities and programs.
more prominent advertising across mainstream publications like the Washington Post and USA Today.
More publicity
More reaching out to citizens wit sandwich-boards, banners, bulletins
More schedules in evening
More security presence around the building.
More swim lanes for those of us who want to/need to swim regularly for exercise.
More tennis for kids more times for swim lessons, more of popular camps
More times for working parents
More trips; movies
More user friendly site to sign up for kids activities and more times offered.
More variety of classes/workshops. For example, I'd love to see more home improvement type workshops (eg how to tile, how to do light carpentry, etc.)
More variety of programs. More evening programs.
More weekend classes
More weeknight/After school programs not much at this point; we both work two jobs and our time is limited. we love reston and participate whenever we can in community-based activities.

Not much, I would say lower costs, but I know they are what keeps RCC able to offer the great opportunities that it does, and I fully support that. I just can't often afford them. Perhaps raffled swimming passes or fitness passes as prizes at the holiday events or in association with the library reading program. Or even a volunteer-in-exchange-for-credits discount program on passes. I am generally able to afford the classes I want to have my daughter take, but I'm always coming up short when it comes to my own recreation. I would happily scrub bathrooms or fold pamphlets for a few hours to earn a discounted drop-in fitness pass.

nothing, it's a personal scheduling thing.
Offer a nice fitness center with a sauna, hot tub, and gym with classes to workout. I do not need plays and musical acts I have never heard of, there is enough of that in DC already. I would like a fitness center though.
Offer a state-of-the-art fitness center.
Offer different courses. It's often the same selection of courses and teachers from year to year. How about a bit of variety?
Offer free or almost free stuff for low income. South Reston had way too many low income residents Offer more after noon and afternoon technology classes offer more art classes more frequently
Offer more classes (fitness - during the evening and weekend time) Most classes are either in the middle of the day - during work time.
Offer more classes and seminars.
Offer more classes at both locations. Offer classes for youth 11 - 14
Offer more convenient class times for working parents
Offer more relevant (to us) programs.
Offer more relevant courses and amenities. Or, we don't really need the arts in our area anymore, there are plenty of places to see cultural and art events. What we need is the preservation of open and public space, better transportation planning, and sports fields for kids.
Offer more unique classes and seminars. Lots for youth and 55+; not as many offerings of interest for teens to age 50.
Offer programs that take into account working people, single people, and come up with more convenient times.
Offer registration online. Current one is not helpful and doesn't work most of the time. Also allow financial assistance.
Offer Reston resident rate to all Fairfax County residents Offer senior events in the evening.
offer transportation to the kids who participate in the camps

Please add the classes I mentioned above and consider adding different instructors for the visual arts and ceramics. I love the charcoal and oil pastel portrait classes, which [Name redacted] excels at, but he is not a great instructor for the other media/styles in my view. Plus, the trips need a new vendor. I took one trip to Canada years ago with RCC's current

D2c- What could RCC do to enable you or your family to use RCC more?
contractor and it was not great for a number of reasons. The person leading the trip had very personalized opinions for what aspects of a trip make a good trip, and it felt like he catered this particular trip to meet his own needs/interests. It was very pricey for the quality of the experience.
Please offer dog training classes.
pool available into late evening. non-time limited punch card for pool drop in.
prices have increased dramatically in recent years, especially for art type and cooking classes program more activities for seniors
Propose activities/schedules to attract more young professionals/families with young children. I believe most of the activities offered are for people who are retired Provide (or at least communicate) more ways to interact. I don't know how many channels RCC has for communicating, don't know what's available. I just walk across the street to my center every once in a while and see what's new on the wall or in the classes/program schedule.
Provide a ping pong table at the Hunter's Woods Reston Community Center
Provide additional after school programming or weekend programming for kids. Get new instructors (fresh faces) for some of your ongoing classes and offer new, interesting programming for kids and adults. So many of your programs and camps have the same people teaching year after year and these folks are just teaching the same stuff. Half the time, the program descriptions don't match the programming which is frustrating.
Provide classes/courses for residents, particularly seniors. Various kinds of music lessons would be great for all. Also, the prices for performances should be lowered, especially for kids, low income residents and those on a fixed income.
Publish quarterly e-mails with RCC offerings.
Reflect modern life. Connect with other Reston organizations, Reston Little League, or Reston Soccer for example and not just to rent out rooms but so they can use the RCC for some sort of activities.
Reopen the pool! Not a criticism, just to let you know how much I miss it!
reopen the pool, more trips, Reopen the pool. :)
Run a shuttle between community centers
Safety of Hunter Woods shopping center is a serious concern.
Same as I said above. More shows and trips for adults. And more trips outside of the wdc area.
Schedule more classes in the evenings
Schedule more family and kids programs on weekends schedule more performances in the afternoon, rather than at night
Schedule some classes later in day
See earlier answer on Tai Chi

See previous response. Also, emails for special events would be great.
see suggestions above

D2c- What could RCC do to enable you or your family to use RCC more?
Send email reminders or put events on RestonNow/Patch calendars. Offer discounts close to dates if not sold out.
some seniors still work! Please consider scheduling some senior activities/classes in the evenings or weekends
Sponsorship
Standing member ships for woodshop. Comparable Makerspaces (NOVA Lab & Makersmiths) charge 50 per month.
Stop assuming all over-55s are retired!
Tailor more classes and programs to adults <50 and for children.
Take away the automatic tax on residences and make the RCC a pay as you go organization. If it can't survive, it's not a problem because there are many other services available in the area. The only other thing that will make me use it more is retirement when I'll have more time. Also, if I have the choice now, I go to Loudoun for many of the benefits RCC provides. Loudoun is less crowded and their facilities are nicer.
Tell South Lakes to give less homework! :) Have some great one-time workshops that are not too expensive. Have drop-in activities like Ping-Pong, available at a couple of different times each week for different sets of users. Make the OLLI lectures a little bit earlier. Have more matinees for professional series. (I didn't check above that times are inconvenient because many times are perfect. But some times are not. I can mostly do things during the (school) day, and evenings are harder, even on the weekends, because we get worn out.)
The drop-in classes are too crowded to enjoy. The breaks between sessions are often too long. The smaller room at Lake Anne is awful, crowded, poor lighting; I stopped taking a class there bc I didn't like the room. Ambiance/aesthetics matter.
There should be a sliding scale fee for reston residents. For example, some families don't qualify for the scholarship but don't have the money to send their kids to camp and programs because it's cost prohibitive at full price. We need to help hardworking middle class families whose income is considered too high for financial aid and not high enough compared to the 6 figure double income earners. The families in the 50k- 99 k income range, kids really suffer so their participation is limited. Its all or nothing. Either be on welfare and get everything for free or make above 6 figures so you have no problem paying for everything.
Time is an issue. Weekend classes in pottery and clay sculpting would be good. I would like to take an oil painting class, but music and clay are priority interests at the moment.
Transportation picking up elderly and taking home.
Upgrade your catalogs/signups to modern standards. The current system is unwieldy and not user-friendly.
vary class schedules
Vary timing of popular programs
We are looking forward to the pool opening again
We need better choices for classes and programs with good prices. Current classes are not good and have high costs.
We use it so much!
We want more information about programs and classes

D2c- What could RCC do to enable you or your family to use RCC more?
We were very active RCC fitnesses programs users until you closed the pool for renovation and we had to join the Y. We don't think we will be back, we like it there. As for other programs, I don't know.
Week end classes
What RCC is offering is commendable
When celebration a party let the DJ bring all his equipment. I don't like to use the speakers that Reston community provide.
Workshops of interest are usually on days and times I do volunteer work (not your problem). Swim fitness classes usually in early morning - an issue for me.
Would like more drop in fitness classes
You're doing a great job!

E3aHW- What updates or renovations would you like to see done to the Hunters Woods facility?
24/7 police presence!! Or at least when the facility is open. This one change will make a HUGE difference in people using the facility.
A bigger performing arts stage.
a gym added, the kitchen updated, and more seating seating areas with tables for talking with friends while enjoying coffee and reading. A high top seating area with charging station a gym area with some weight lifting machines. also, some additional art facilities such as labs for jewelry making classes.
A kitchen/breakroom with hot water/coffee, etc. for staff that can be used throughout the day regardless of cooking classes that are scheduled.
A room with workout equipment. A yoga studio with wellness-related classes, a spin (cycle) studio, nice showers, and locker rooms, sauna, hot tub, lap pool, and a juice bar with healthy baked good and nice seating area. Also, an area for indoor dog training classes with agility equipment. And more outside events with open markets for farmers and artcients and maybe food. And outside music and entertainment like they have at Lake Ann and Reton Town Center.
A salt water pool
A total remake of the shopping center. Make front door of center more handicap friendly.
A workout facility; an indoor basketball court; remove the open spaces; improve utilization of current space. Most people in this area pay for a gym membership. If RCC HW had a gym facility (not in some windowless basement), more people may use it. Think like the county rec centers, which we don't have because we have RCC. We pay into this but we receive very little in return.
Acoustical sound of the performance hall
Acoustics Acoustics
Add a fitness center. Please!
Add a playground.
Add more handicap spaces out front
Add space to do cooking classes and renovate the pool area but I know that's being done. Have a nicer space to just hang out and read or meet others additional class room space
Additional outside lighting
An indoor track somewhere would be great.
an updated/expanded kitchen so cooking class could allow us to actually cook
Aquatics renovation is a welcome change
Art and clay studios art studio space; more comfortable space to sit and relax with friends
As stated please add an art studio (painting) to hunters woods!
Barrier between the open area and the smaller meeting rooms on the side. The noise from people in other parts of the community center is very distracting when there is a performance or presentation in the open area.
Better acoustics for concerts in Great Room!

E3aHW- What updates or renovations would you like to see done to the Hunters Woods facility?
Better acoustics for musical performances
Better acoustics in Community Room A better way to segment off the Community Room to make it more private when private functions are being held Better acoustics in general room
Better concert venue
Better cooking classes!
Better lighting in shopping center sidewalk to/from; security guards on patrol Better lighting, easier walkways, and general sprucing.
Better noise control when music is in the main area and meeting are in the rooms
Better performance space for the Reston Chorale Better registration process
Better sound acoustics in ballroom
Better sound in large room
Better sound management in the large area. Too much sound deadening creates poor acoustics bigger kitchen. The cooking classes for kids were always very crowded. Can't wait to see the new pool!
Bigger theatre? Then share it with SLHS or Langston Hughes MS which all have theatres that are too small.
Brighter dance studio, warmer pool
Brighter lighting, more modern decor and furniture, offer a coffee/cafe area.
Bring it up to date, it does not seem welcoming.
Continue availability of community space, aquatics,
Convert space to support athletic programs, better control / security at the entrance Covered walkway to street for car pickup.
Create a space for Ping Pong table create cardio fitness room in place or large open common space upstairs

Enlarge pool , more meeting rooms. Turn RCC into a Fairfax county rec center since dranesville district has none.
Exercise classes exercise equipment or at least classes Exercise room expand programs entailing wood shop more expand senior programs

E3aHW- What updates or renovations would you like to see done to the Hunters Woods facility?
expand size to include indoor basketball and tennis simply too small should be similar in size and facilities to other county community centers
Expand theater to allow large group such as Reston Chorale to sing on stage there in the theater.
Expanded hours, exercise equipment, sauna
Finish fixing the pool. Build a real gym (physical fitness...like Herndon's)
Finish the pool and keep the facility in good shape!
finish the swimming pool and locker rooms. Will there be a sauna in the new locker rooms?
Finishing the pool.
fitness center
Furniture update
General updates, new carpet, new paint, etc.
Get a plexiglass cage to enclose drummers at Center Stage events with full kit drums. This will give the audio tech much more control over sound levels.
Get it out of Hunters Woods. I don't feel comfortable with my wife taking my girls to swim practice after dark.
Get out of Hunters Woods or get real about the problems of the area it's in. The crime and perception of crime is a huge deterrent to participation. It doesn't matter how fancy the pool renovation is if people don't feel safe to use the facility.
Glad pool is being updated. Might like security outside there given recent incidents.
Gym equipment at either facility.
gym facility
Happy to see the pool renovated - and hoping that it will include a more kid-friendly space as well as a warmer environment overall, as the previous pool was always very chilly. Overall, more of a reason to come more often, like a fitness center or more kid/family activities that are communicated and advertised. Any improvements related to safety would make it more likely for us to visit, as the area has become more dangerous in recent years.
Have less open, wasted space which could be better utilized for classes and workout facilities. Increase the size of the auditorium/CenterStage space, as it is small and has limited seating.
Haven't participated recently
Hnters Woods is okay
Honestly, it could be completely renovated, would love a full gym with fitness capabilities, similar to Cub Run Recenter Hurry with the pool!
I am happy to see the pool renovations and trust they will be of high quality and welcoming to lap swimmers.
I appreciate the pool renovation that is underway.
I can't wait for the pool renovation to be done. I don't know of anything else that desperately needs done.

E3aHW- What updates or renovations would you like to see done to the Hunters Woods facility?
I like it now
I love the Hunterswoods facility
I think these should be driven by demand and wear and tear.
I will be happy when the pools are finished.
I wish the parking were closer to the building. The CenterStage is very nice.
I would like to see it operational. The pool was closed for too long
I'm not oriented to that facility and seldom go there.
I'd like an update to the structure; removal of RCC from Reston and incorporation into FFX County's other facilities.
I'd like to see some of the fitness programs move back to Hunters Woods
I'm excited about the renovations to the pool
I'm excited for the pool renovations. I'd like to see a quiet study room with comfy arm chair and tables and chairs for people to work in silence.
Improved restrooms, more fitness space, more dressing room space.
Incorporate more green construction. Gardens/green space. Security.
Increase handicapped parking space.
indoor track
Interior refresh, it's showing its age
Is there work out equipment?
It needs a make-over. It just feels old and dusty. What's with the dance floor in the middle? I never understood that.
I've experienced some HVAC & lighting issues in some of the meeting rooms in the past.
Just don't let things (maintenance and upgrades) get beyond you or it will become too expensive. Keep up with everything.
Just keep it functioning. I'm not aware of problems, but I usually go to Lake Anne RCC except for shows. We don't really use the pool, so I wouldn't know about that. The main space is wonderful. We keep meaning to go to the ballroom dancing, but haven't had a chance. Maybe someday.
Just keep the place looking good! Also, if it could be done without adding to the facility's footprint, adding more meeting spaces would probably be appreciated by the local community. Meeting space in Reston is scarce!
Keep it nice.
Keep the building functional
Land-based exercise options larger auditorium
Larger Concert venue larger main space
Larger Performance space
Larger performance venue to accommodate more types of performing artists!
Larger performing arts theatre. Less outside programming so local groups could have more access.

E3aHW- What updates or renovations would you like to see done to the Hunters Woods facility?
larger rooms for exercise classes
Larger rooms for musical groups to practice and perform.
Lighting and security
Looking forward to reopening pool looking forward to the lap swimming and drop in pool class situation when it re-opens.
Looking forward to using the new pool
Make better use of the grounds--especially in back.
Make outside area cleaner and safer.
Make surroundings safer make the area safer!! I hesitate to sign up for evening classes at that facility because I don't always feel comfortable walking back to my car alone.
make the big Community Room not so wide open to folks transiting it to reach other areas of the building. It is VERY distracting during performances, for example.
Make the seating (chairs, legroom) larger in the auditorium
Making the area feel safer.
Modernization of Center Stage
modernize lobby
More areas for displaying art and better lighting there. There is always a glare so you have to move a bit to see the artwork clearly.
More art studio
More arts classes more bathroom space, especially for women. Perhaps some classroom space for exercise. Do NOT change the theatre. It's a nice size for music and theatrical events and for lectures.
More bathrooms, add dance classes (swing dance)
More classrooms, bigger kitchen, better safety. Dance classes for children & woodworking are not de conflicted; lack of safety at backdoor - adults leave it open sometimes - very dangerous. Layout in area near woodworking is labyrinthine & not conducive to ease of movement.
More comfortable seating in the performance area.
More drainage
More fitness equipment & classes
More group event space
More rooms for childrens classes
More security
More security guards around the perimeter
The whole facility feels dated.
More stores! I do miss the Dairy Queen.
More swim lanes. Hot tub. Sauna.
More technology updates and modern conveniences
More welcoming front - behind a shopping center? Build a fitness center

E3aHW- What updates or renovations would you like to see done to the Hunters Woods facility?
Music equipment.needs improvement.the staff doesn't know how to operate when we ask them they don't know what to do.

pool renovation about to be completed
Pool, Fitness Facility, more parking, updated state Of the art event space
Pretty good the way it is. Clean. Good restrooms. Usually sufficient seating capacity for when we attend. Biggest problem we have had is occasional "SOLD OUT" and last minute seats not available and have to leave. Fortunately this doesn't happen too often. It's often pretty full, but we do get seats.
Put an actual workout center in there so people won't have to go all over Reston just to workout
Put in a weight room!
Redo indoor pool
Regular Maintenance.
Remove some of the sound baffles in the performing space, the 'dead air' and lack of acoustics ruins any music performances!
reopening the back parking lot (after pool renovations are done) and reserving as many spaces as possible for class/event participants Restrooms -- not adequate hot water. The faucets put out a spray of water that takes quite a while to heat. It suggests that the water pressure is lacking.
Roller skating nights.
safety - several incidents where police involved in front of community center makes concern for parents of small children attending camps in summer Safety measures --- more security guards walking around. Doesn't feel safe.
Safety of the shopping center - concern to leave children there for camps with increased crime. Was concerned by homeless that saw coming into RCC same time as kids camps
Security
Security cameras and more police. Hunters woods is scary Security in and around the building
Seems like we just went through a renovation.
Somehow some way make it a shorter, warmer less icy walk to and from the pool to the parking lot in the winter.
sometimes when all of the rooms are rented out, too many people are in a small room space for exercise classes

E3aHW- What updates or renovations would you like to see done to the Hunters Woods facility?
Speakers in the rental rooms
Swim facility update is really appreciated
Swimmig Pool
Swimming finished sooner
Swimming poor.
Tear the whole thing down, and start with something that can offer more for the community.
The air conditioning/heating units make it difficult to hear in the meeting rooms. Quieter or silent systems would be ideal.
The center room is acoustically very difficult for musical performances. A room like at Lake Anne is better, but both are too small. Better acoustics needed and/or larger performance spaces.
The CenterStage is too small and frequently booked very far in advance.
The continued upkeep of facilities is good- I would hate to see it lessen...
The pool
The pool is a great start.
The pool is a great update! Looking forward to it! It would be nice if RCC had some outdoor recreation areas/green space...parkour, perhaps?
The time and money spent on the pool renovations really yielded very little improvements to the facility. Reston and the Hunters Woods District (and SLHS) still lacks a competitive swimming and diving facility. Parking is inconvenient. Safety, in dark hours especially, is a great concern. Facility is lacking adequate space and is old/outdated.
The wood floors in main area need to be refinished. New non fabric furniture chairs. Get rid of carpet areas and have tiled floors.
They just completed the pool renovation which was needed
This facility is dark and dated. Recreation facilities now are light filled and airy, this one seems closed off and segmented. The elevator scares my kids because it is small and old.
Those in current plan.
To offer more classes there and organise more events. Most of the events are located at Lake Anne.

waitng for the pool

E3aHW- What updates or renovations would you like to see done to the Hunters Woods facility?
Water bottle filling stations at each water fountain Better acoustics in the community room water fountains that can also be used to fill water bottles Weekly
whenever I drop my son to swim, I like to have a quite study area to reading or work on my computer. The wifi is not very efficient.
Wish it was larger.
Wish you could take down the sound buffers in the multipurpose room because it makes singing in it awful. I realize the need for sound control for large parties.
Work station rental spaces; better outside patio areas and park space; handicap car drop off access for those with friends who have mobility issues; digital sign on Colts Neck to alert people to events and activities; a green mall area on the Hunters Wood shopping center, more trees and more visible security.
Would be great to have a larger stage, more seating, and a nicer ambient look and feel for the Reston Chorale and other live production performances.
Would like to see fitness programs offered at Hunters Woods and not just at Lake Anne
Yes, but I dont want this to cost us more on the fees or HOA cost.

E3aLA- What updates or renovations would you like to see done to the Lake Ann facility?
...more parking??????
A bit of a facelift, kind of stuck in the 70s:)
A green room space available for performers, a lounge area to sit with friends
A room with workout equipment. A yoga studio with wellness-related classes, a spin (cycle) studio, nice showers, and locker rooms, sauna, hot tub, lap pool, and a juice bar with healthy baked good and nice seating area. Also, an area for indoor dog training classes with agility equipment.
Acoustics and space
Acoustics in the main room

Art studio
Art studio: better lighting, screen, tables
Bathroom updates
Being able to swim in the lake will be great Better equipment for certain classes better lighting, more room, video monitors with computers to help in the display of presentations and online content Better soundproofing in the rooms for exercise classes could be nice when you have a peaceful class like yoga in the room next to an active loud class like zumba.
better temperature control in fitness rooms; secure the ceiling fan so that it doesn't wobble Better temperature controls for yoga classes. Often too cold or too hot.
Bigger classroom
Bigger rooms for fitness.
buildings definitely need refreshing

First of all, I wish that the governing board of the RCC would more heavily consult with the arts administrators before any big changes to the physical plant are made. There are visual and artistic concerns that have been overlooked when decisions have been made by those who do not necessarily have a strong visual arts background. An example of this is in the decision to remove all the extra doors on one side of the JoAnn Rose Gallery in order to replace those openings with a wall and TVs. While to some, that might seem a practical decision, to artists using the gallery, it has changed the visual access to the gallery from the hallway, closed in the space, and made the demeanor of the space to that of a meeting room first, art gallery second. Secondly, the physical plant of the Lake Anne RCC should be checked for mold issues. There have been occasional leaks in the building which has resulted in a sweet musty odor. Artwork hanging in the gallery for a month comes home with a strong moldy odor. The JoAnn Rose Gallery is maintained very nicely from a visual sense. This mold issue is a problem with the building itself and may need outside professional care from a mold company.
Fix potholes in parking lot!
Fix the a/c, heating and overhead fan in the yoga room. It's either too hot or too cold. The fan usually will go on for a few minutes and then stop completely.
Free weights added for a strength training class
Get rid of the roaches

i'm not really familiar with the lake anne facility.
Improve restrooms
Increased ceramics space. Add glass kiln and art space.
Indoor tennis
It is difficult to hear in the large Lake Anne RCC meeting room when the air conditioning/heating units are on. Quieter or silent systems would be ideal.
It is gloomy inside..
It would be nice if it had more space, but I understand that it's limited in the plaza.
It's needs to be cleaned, new walkways, and maybe some nicer landscaping. It looks a bit tired though the architecture is great.
It's a great facility and location.
Its very small and the work-out spaces are inadequate.
I've been in the facility, but haven't attended anything there, so hard to say.
I've only been in there once, so I can't say.
Just don't let things (maintenance and upgrades) get beyond you or it will become too expensive. Keep up with everything.
Keep art rooms up to date.
Keep equipment clean
Keep it nice.
Keep the building functional
Lake Ann seems fine
Lake Anne desperately needs renovation. But residents nearby stop it every time.
Lake Anne is a bit worn but it's fine for what it offers. If the Lake Anne area itself gets upgraded, that will be the time to upgrade the RCC facility there as well.

E3aLA- What updates or renovations would you like to see done to the Lake Ann facility?
Lake Anne needs more of a presence at the entrance. For a first time participant, it's difficult finding the facility. The classrooms are dark with low ceilings and no natural light. There is no pool so we only have hunter woods for indoor swim lessons.
Lake Anne space is just right

parking
Parking lot is horrible (potholes and not enough parking spots) and I feel unsafe leaving art class at night-which is why I prefer daytime classes
PARKING TRANSPORTATION
Pave the parking lot!! Make it look more inviting- use artistic talent to create some art at Plaza - needs some color and style other than Eastern Bock.
pools/swim classes at Lake Anne; hot tub; larger rooms for exercising; movie theater; Center Stage; picnic area Precious metal casting facilities.
Pretty good the way it is. Clean. Good restrooms. Usually sufficient seating capacity for when we attend
Put in a weight room!
Put water bottle fillers on all water fountains in both buildings
Really good sound-proofing, or stop allowing loud events in the gallery. It is unfair to staff and bothersome and unpleasant for other visitors. Similarly, it was shocking when there were renovations to see staff forced to work in unsuitable environment, and we have seen similar situations when there are other problems in the building (staff working in what seem like inappropriate work conditions). Renovations should have been done as they do (or hopefully do) them in schools, ensuring any functioning parts of the building are free from pollutants and excess noise. Also, it is sad that the small rooms that used to be able to be rented out by families, etc., at a reasonable rate are now unavailable. We used that several times, and it would be great if such space could be added (at Lake Anne and/or HW). Similarly, it would be great if perhaps the art workshop could be rented by small groups, if necessary with a staff monitor.
Redesign the studios used for fitness classes — such as the construction of a moveable or folding wall — so that classes of both larger and smaller sizes could be accommodated.
Regular Maintenance.

Sufficient parking
Tear it down and leave the rotting husk of Lake Anne.
That facility should be replaced. Find a better place. It is a depressing facility. If you don't want to move, come up with a major design of the space. It is the last place I would want to go to at Lake Anne Center.
The Art Lab is a little rustic and not warm and cozy. It has a cold feeling resembling a factory.
The artists' solo shows are wonderful. Some times I wish I could buy some of the school kids' artworks as they can be so colorful and amazing for their age. Will I ever be able to buy some of their work.
are so mature
The entire Lake Anne plaza needs renovation! The parking lot is in horrible shape, and the plaza facilities appear maintained just enough to keep functional.
The fitness rooms used for the drop in fitness classes need to be larger
The Halls
The women's bathroom has newer toilets but the whole room could be so much nicer and more pleasant. Herndon's rec center is a good model. I mean, a little paint and accessorizing might improve it a bit. See previous answer re. the small fitness room.
Those in current plan.
Totally unaware of any activities that take place there.
Update bathrooms.
Updated restrooms
Updates to the entrance. It doesn't look very welcoming to passersby.
While "homey," it could use some "spiffing up." More rooms - if adjoining space becomes available.
Would like to be able to purchase tickets for Center Stage at Lake Anne
Yes, but I don't want this to cost us more on the fees or HOA cost.

E10_4_TEXT: When property values rise in our area, revenue raised from property taxes goes up, too. If more tax money was available to RCC due to new revenue, which of the following statements comes closest to your view? RCC should... "Something Else (please specify)"

Add a fitness center

Add a gym and lower the price on the pool

All the above.

allof the above- a bit o each depending

Any renovation of facilities should come from this. No new taxes and no deals with Boston Properties, which would almost certainly double or triple fees and gouge us for parking as well. If that happens, expecty boycotts as RTC has been boycotted by many.

Augment the pay for instructors

Better instructors for some of the classes

Build a decent concert venue

Build an endowment so that RCC could be self sustaining and not rely on tax dollars.

Build bigger/better facility. Performing arts groups are struggling because of lack of venue space.

Change the Hunter Woods facility to allocate more space for swimming and sauna/steam room, less space for "arts".

CLEAN AND UPGRADE THE BUILDING.

Close

Close RCC and cease the tax collaborate and create a larger venue combination of above

Consider lowering tax rate

Continue to increase access and rsepond to community needs. Invest in other programs/partnerships that meet needs.

continue to offer high quality programs and advertise more

Create a higher-value facility

Create green rooms for performers

cut operating costs

Decrease the tax rate from 4.7 cents per 100 dollars.

Disolve RCC as an entity separate from FFX County Rec Centers

do all of the above three choices

Don't raise my taxes

Eliminate RCC tax district and change facility to be a Fairfax county rec center .

Eliminate STD5

Expand to offer programs to immigrant families residing in Reston

Experiment with all the above.

figure out a novel way to pull people in and let them know what is going on. We no longer read newspapers or read the mail coming into our mailboxes. You can increase programming all you want, but if people don't know about what is going on, they won't come.

Get rid of tax district #5
Greater outreach, I'm totally unaware of all of this Hard to chose between the first two options-- it critical that these programs that are so enriching not be limited to those with $$ Health club like facility for us to use, and wellness classes like yoga and also more dog training.
Hire and pay for more competent staff in RCC.
Hire off duty Police Officers to keep the area safer.
improve existing Improve infrastructure!
Improve safety with police cooperation
Invest in schools in Reston invest it for unexpected repairs
Invest the money in infrastructure improvements that will create long term gains (specifically building improvements) or invest the money in a reserve fund that could be used for larger expenses so that the tax rate wouldn't have to increase in the future or could increase at a slower rate. Don't overspend a windfall, act like it's not going to last instead and make sure you employ long term thinking and strategies to lessen the impact of the tax rate on Reston residents who are already struggling.
Just don't
Keep doing what you're doing. DONT build another building.

LOWER THE TAX RATE!!!
Lower the tax rate.
Lower the tax we pay each year
More ambitious/expensive programs more bus tours
More decent parks for kids (i.e. turf, , updated play areas)
More good music - not noise more visibility
Most folks work. More evening exercise events
New performing arts center
No more taxes not interested
Not sure Boston Property's will be on the lookout of the community interest. Isn't Boston properties who charges for parking at RTC making it less accessible?
Not sure, but costs are already low. Perhaps subsidize for low income, but an across theboard cut seems unnecessary.
NOTHING
offer pay what you can Partner with Boston Properties to build a performing arts center
Police presence at HW
Provide more free programs.
RCC funded by tax district should be stopped
Reduce my tax rate. The benefit of living in this tax area doesn't equate with the value I gain in discounts if we sign up for a class. Everything you offer should be FREE if we live in the tax district given I am already paying $300 per year to support the center.
Reduce RCC tax rate.

Some sort of balance between the first two--lowering prices somewhat for accessibility plus increasing range somewhat.
Stop gearing such a large amount of programming to over 55 wealthy
STOP RAISING TAXES EVERY YEAR
Stop taxing residents.
Tax is too high for many. My home is now appraised at $780000 so I am paying around $400 for RCC and I went to two Reston Chorale events there in the last year. I am on a very low fixed income & cannot afford to go to most of the events. The middle class and elderly are being aged out. Reston Assn is doing a much more equitable job than rcc.
Tear the place down and stop taking my money
THERE are Many programs from GMu and other local universities , public facilities and some businesses that are free that could be added to RCC programming Update the community centers to be less drab. Loudoun County Center's are more updated and modern.
we should not fund this with our taxes and using more taxes to do anything else is bad and wrong
Why don't we have facilities like Oak Marr? Where does our Fairfax County taxes for recreation go to? Why can't we have that money??

E11_6_TEXT: RCC provides a fee waiver program to help people with limited economic means still participate in RCC programming. Qualifying for fee waiver status is based on income levels. Those participants pay a nominal fee to enroll or purchase tickets or passes. Qualified fee waiver patrons with children may enroll them in as many summer camp programs as desired (paying a nominal fee per offering). To what extent do you favor continuing this type of program to provide economic accessibility to RCC?

“Depends (please specify)”

As a single working parent I have in the pass struggle to pay and placed on waiting list. I have witnessed people bumped on waiting list on scholarships...I'm willing to pay but don't consider fare that some recipients of scholarships take priority when waitlists forms. I no longer participate if classes for my children...but remember struggling to "make it" sometimes

As long as there is also access for all members of the community, depends on what % of participants take advantage of this...

Didn't know this program existed.

Don't care

Extent of support given and to which programming and how often honestly i don't care. i cannot believe you get thousands of dollars from taxes AND charge a fee

I didn't know about this

I'd like to see stats about how this is used.

No handouts. If I have to pay to have access to this programming, everyone else should to. Designate a couple of programs as being free instead.

Not supportive if the end result is the after school programs equate to free daycare. I'm already paying $1400/month for daycare... my $300/year for the RCC shouldn't be used to subsidize something else on how financial need is assessed on how objective the it is in determining who qualifies see previous question, do not spend any more money of developer's ideas of what they think Reston needs.

Some abuse this privilege

Methodology

About the Survey

The Reston Community Center (RCC) contracted and funded the Center for Survey Research (CSR) to conduct the 2019 Reston Community Center Survey. The purpose of the survey was to assess awareness and support for RCC, to understand current and projected use of programs, to identify barriers to RCC use, to assess the level of support for a performing arts center, and to identify accessible sources for information on leisure activities.

Responses were collected by mail and online among probability and non-probability samples. The probability address-based sample (ABS) was based on all households in Reston, and ABS sample members were contacted via postal mail following a mail-forward design with a staggered invitation to complete online. The probability sample provides the survey's basis for statistical inference to the Reston population. To ensure all Reston community members could voice their perspectives and participate in the survey, non-probability methods were included in the study design as well. First, an open-source online version of the questionnaire was posted to RCC's website and available for any individual to complete. In addition, RCC had paper copies of the questionnaire publicly available for community members to pick up, complete, and mail directly to CSR.

Survey Development

On February 4, 2019, CSR presented a survey proposal to the RCC Board of Governors. Based on trends in response rate and cost, this proposal advocated for a shift in the survey design from phone (which was the mode used in the 2009 Citizen Satisfaction Survey) to a dual-mode design of paper and web. In addition, the 2019 survey proposal included non-probability methods as a supplement to the probability design. After receiving support from the Board of Governors on the initial proposal, CSR returned to Reston on March 11, 2019, to present a more detailed scope of work and budget to the Board.

Questionnaire Design

In early 2019, the RCC Board of Governors Long Range Planning Committee designated the following key topic areas for the 2019 survey:

- RCC identity and funding
- Programs and services
- Barriers to participation
- Facilities
- Communications

Together, CSR and Leila Gordon, Executive Director of RCC, developed a conceptual outline around the Board's topic areas. Using the conceptual outline and consideration of the 2009 survey, CSR prepared an initial questionnaire.

This questionnaire was pretested by a focus group held at RCC on June 4, 2019. RCC recruited participants, and CSR moderated the pretest. Twelve participants attended the focus group, where they were provided dinner and given $20 as compensation for their participation. During the focus group, participants were asked to first complete the questionnaire individually. In group discussion, participants were then given the opportunity to provide feedback on the content of the questionnaire and pose questions regarding the intent of the survey. Based on pretest feedback, significant edits were made to the questionnaire, including clarification of the survey's purpose, reformatting of the questionnaire, and reorganization of questions to improve flow and facilitate conditional question logic.

The final questionnaire was formatted for paper and programmed online in Qualtrics. The questionnaire was available online in English and Spanish, and was available on paper in English, Spanish, Chinese, Russian, and Arabic. A full copy of the paper questionnaire can be found in Appendix E.

Sampling

As noted, the survey employed both probability and non-probability recruitment methods. The non-probability version of the survey was available to any adult interested in sharing their feedback and was not limited to residents of Reston. This open-access survey was important to allow non-Reston residents to still participate in the survey as RCC serves not just residents but also individuals who work in Reston. The probability sampling method is described in detail below.

Probability Sample

The population of interest for the probability sample was Reston residents. To reach this population, CSR purchased an address-based sample of residential addresses from Dynata, Inc. (formerly known as SSI or Survey Sampling International), a nationally recognized vendor for scientific survey samples. The sample is based on the address lists compiled and maintained by the U.S. Postal Service. The sample excluded addresses listed by the post office as businesses, vacant or seasonal homes, and P.O. Box addresses. The sampling vendor appended names of household occupants to the addresses where those were known, using data from white pages telephone directories and other sources.

In an effort to maximize the number of completes from all areas of Reston, the sample was stratified based on the Census Bureau's Low Response Score (LRS) of Census tracts into three stratum: Low response propensity, average response propensity, and high response propensity. Households in the low response propensity stratum were then sampled at a higher rate in an attempt to increase the number of survey completes from these seemingly harder to reach respondents. Likewise, households in the high response propensity stratum were sampled at a lower rate since a high response is expected from households in that stratum. Specifically, households in the low response stratum were over-sampled at a rate of 1.083, those in the average response rate stratum were sampled at a rate of 1.033, and households in the higher response stratum were under-sampled at a rate of 0.896.

After refining the stratified sample to only include households within Reston (Small Tax District 5), a final sample size of 5,500 households was achieved. The table below presents the breakdown of the final sample across the strata.

Table 1-H. Sampling Stratification Summary

Stratum	Category	Number of households in final sample	Percent of households within final sample
1	Low response propensity	1,336	24.3%
2	Average response propensity	2,571	46.8%
3	High response propensity	1,593	29.0%
Total		5,500	100.0%

Out of the 5,500 addresses to which mail was sent, 464 addresses (about 8.4%) were identified as bad addresses and returned to CSR by the post office. However, since it is not known whether these addresses were actually unoccupied or non-residential units, we do not exclude these cases from the denominator when computing response rates.

Data Collection

The survey launched on July 3, 2019 with the mailing of an advance letter to the ABS sample of 5,500 households. The open-source web survey launched on August 5, 2019. Data collection, across all samples and modes, closed on September 16, 2019. The probability data collection followed a confidential protocol to facilitate targeted follow-up to non-respondents. The non-probability data collection followed an anonymous protocol. Greater detail across each mode of data collection is provided below.

Probability Data Collection

The first contact with the 5,500 households in the ABS sample was the mailed advance letter (signed by RCC Board of Governors Chair Beverly Ann Cosham) on July 3, 2019. This letter was followed by the questionnaire packet, mailed on July 15, 2019. The questionnaire packet included a cover letter (signed by CSR Academic Director Tom Guterbock), questionnaire booklet, foreign language request postcard, and prepaid return envelope. After the first packet was mailed, it was discovered an insert of program type descriptions was mistakenly left out of the packet. The insert was intended as a reference to guide respondents when reporting on their participation across RCC's various program types. To address this omission, CSR separately mailed out the insert accompanied by a cover letter explaining the error and reminding households to participate in the survey. This reminder letter was sent on July 25, 2019.

The second questionnaire packet was mailed to non-respondents on August 15, 2019. The second packet included a modified cover letter that included a short url and unique access code to allow participants to complete the survey online. As a final contact, on August 30, non-respondents were sent a closeout postcard that encouraged immediate participation as the survey would soon close. The postcard also included instructions to complete the questionnaire online. Data collection closed on September 16. The full production timeline can be seen below.

Non-probability Data Collection

Data collection for the online open-source survey began on August 5th, 2019. RCC managed promotion of the non-probability, publicly available survey. Participants could access the public link to complete the questionnaire on the RCC website. The first question in this version asked the respondent if they were accessing the questionnaire on either a personal computer/device or a public computer/device (e.g., at a library, school, etc.). A setting was programmed for the open-source online questionnaire that permitted only one completion per IP Address for respondents who indicated they were using a personal device. This setting was enabled to inhibit the same individual from taking the survey multiple times, also known as "ballot box stuffing."

As an alternative to the web, CSR provided RCC with 400 paper survey packets to make publicly available for community members to pick up. The packet was identical to the one that the ABS participants received, including a language request postcard and prepaid return envelope. These paper packets were made available in early August, around the same time the open-source web survey was launched. Data collection for non-probability responses ended on September 16, 2019.

CSR managed the tracking of responses and performed data entry for all paper completions. Data entry validation was performed on 15% of submitted questionnaires.

Survey Response

In total 1,906 completed responses were collected. This completion count includes probability and non-probability cases across both paper and web completions. The specific breakdown is presented in Table 3 below. Probability responses were de-duplicated across the two modes of data collection to ensure only a single response per household was recorded. In instances when a household completed the questionnaire more than once, the first submission was accepted and subsequent entries dropped from the data file.

Response Rate

Among the probability sample, 1,089 respondents submitted a completed questionnaire.¹ Following the American Association for Public Opinion Research (AAPOR) disposition codes and response rate calculations,² this number of completes yields an estimated response rate (RR3) of 19.8%. Table 4 presents the counts of final dispositions of all households from the probability sample using AAPOR dispositions.

In addition to the 1,089 completions, five individuals opted-out of the survey. One individual logged into the online survey, but did not answer any questions. Twenty-seven additional, non-duplicate questionnaires were returned to CSR but received after the data collection window had closed. These 27 questionnaires are neither included in the final data file/analysis nor the response rate calculation. The single miscellaneous case refers to an individual that requested a Chinese language version of the questionnaire, and a translated paper questionnaire was sent but the participant never returned it. Four hundred and sixty-three households in the sample had bad mailing addresses and could ¹ A response rate cannot be calculated for the non-probability completions as there is not a starting target sample from which to calculate response. In other words, it is unknown the number of individuals who were aware of the opportunity to participate in the open-source survey yet did not complete a questionnaire for a given reason.

Data Preparation

CSR carried out the data preparation for analysis, which required the labeling, cleaning, and merging of paper and online data across both sample types. While the probability and non-probability data were aggregated, the data were analyzed separately. A comparison of the two sample across all survey questions can be reviewed in Appendix B. All data preparation and analysis was carried out using SPSS.

Weighting

As noted, the probability sampling design for the study included stratification across three strata as a means to increase representativeness across Reston. The low response propensity stratum was sampled at a higher rate while the high response propensity stratum was sampled at a lower rate. To produce accurate survey estimates of Reston as a whole, the probability data were weighted so that each household receives a weight inverse to its probability of selection under the specified sampling design. This weighted adjustment to accommodate the effects of the sampling design is known as base weighting, and was applied to the probability sample.

Once the base-weights were applied, an additional step known as post-stratification weighting was performed on the probability data. When surveying the general population, the demographic profile of the survey respondents rarely matches the profile of the population under study. To address this, post-stratification weighting adjusts the survey data to match the population on selected demographics. By doing so, representativeness of the sample data is improved. Further, to the extent that answers to survey questions are related to the demographic variables included in the weighting, these post-stratification adjustments also reduce biases in survey estimates.

For this study, CSR weighted the probability data on one variable: race by homeownership. This variable contained eight categories: White homeowner, White renter, African American/Black homeowner, African American/Black renter, Asian homeowner, Asian renter, Multiracial/Other race homeowner, Multiracial/Other race renter. A statistical method called 'rim weighting' or 'raking' was used to adjust the sample proportions on this variable to closely approximate the population proportions on this same demographic.

As can be seen in the table below, renters were under-represented across racial/ethnic affiliations, and White homeowners were over-represented. Post-stratification weighting helped to bring the probability sample in closer alignment to the Reston population on this measure.

Table 5-H. Sample and population distributions across race by homeownership

The Reston population figures used in weighting and shown in these tables are from the U.S. Census Bureau's American Community Survey (ACS) 5-year Estimates (2012-2017).

Demographic Overview

While the post-stratification weighting only incorporated race by homeownership in its statistical process, other demographic proportions within the weighted probability sample were impacted by weighting.

As seen in Table 6, approximately 61% of the weighted probability respondents were female. The non-probability sample had an even larger portion female (78%). Slightly more than a third of the weighted probability respondents (34%) were over 64 years old, 29% were between the ages of 50 and 64, 13% were aged 40 to 49, and 24% were under 40 years of age. The probability respondents were slightly younger than respondents from the non-probability sample, though both still skewed older than the population. The average age of the weighted probability sample was 55 years old.

Approximately 62% of weighted probability respondents were married, with 21% of weighted probability respondents reporting that they had children living in the household. Both the probability and non-probability samples reflect the population well in the proportion of households with children.

Five percent of probability respondents identified themselves as being of Hispanic or LatinX origin, which is a greater proportion than represented in the non-probability sample, though both survey samples show underrepresentation compared to the population of Reston.

Nine in ten weighted probability respondents (92%) reported English to be the primary language spoken in their household, compared to 73% in the population. Of those reporting languages other than English, nearly one-quarter (24%) reported Spanish and an additional one-fifth (20%) reported Chinese as the primary language spoken in their household.

As seen in Table 7, 54% of weighted probability respondents were working full-time, an additional 10% were either working part-time or were self-employed, and 28% percent were retired.

Of those reporting their income, 12% had annual household incomes less than $50,000, over one-quarter (28%) earned $50,000 to $100,000, one-fifth (22%) earned $100,000 to $150,000, and two-fifths (39%) earned $150,000 or more. The survey samples did skew towards a higher average income than the general population, though representation is fairly well matched in the middle income categories from $50,000 to $149,999.

Approximately 15% of weighted probability residents' highest achieved educational level was some college or less. Twenty-nine percent had attained a four-year college degree. Over half (56%) had done some graduate work or completed a graduate program. Both survey samples skewed toward more education than the general Reston population.

Margin of Error

The margin of error for the probability sample³ is approximately +/- 3.7 percent at the 95 percent level of confidence. This means that if the survey was repeated with 100 different random samples, the results of the survey would be within 3.7 percentage points of the population mean in 95 out of those 100 iterations of the survey. If there were no other sources of error in the survey besides sampling error, it would also mean that these probability survey results have a 95% chance of being within 3.7 percentage points of the results that would have been obtained if all households in Reston had been surveyed and all had responded. Note that there are other sources of error in surveys besides sampling error that can be difficult or impossible to measure, these include measurement error (problems with question wording) and non-response bias (differences between those who respond and those who do not).

The margin of error is affected by the weighting of the probability dataset. The estimate of +/- 3.7 percent takes that design effect⁴ into account. The margin of error also takes the finite population correction factor (FPC)⁵ into account. Note, that every question on the survey has its own margin of error. The overall calculation presented here is for a question answered by all respondents with a 50-50 response distribution. Margins of error would be larger for questions answered by smaller numbers of respondents or for subgroups in the data. On the other hand, questions with a lopsided response pattern (e.g. an 80-20 response pattern) and answered by all respondents will have a smaller margin of error.

⁴ The design effect due to weighting is 1.625.

⁵ The probability sample's finite population correction factor is 0.978. The FPC is appropriate when the sample is drawn without replacement from more than 5% of the population, which applies to this study's probability sampling technique.
