Chair's Remarks

Bev said she enjoyed the Candidates Forum earlier in the evening. She started the year with lots of goals and promises to herself, none of which she has fulfilled. So she has recently begun a new nutrition program and Wii Fitness and intends to return to Zumba. She read this poem:

The Benefits of Exercise by Alan Balter

All my life I've been extra large, plus
I'm known as a very large fellow.
I would easily pass as a school district bus
If somebody painted me yellow.

"No secret to losing weight," I've been told.
"Just cut the fat from your diet."
"Get up and about even if it's cold."

September 10, 2018 Board of Governors Meeting Minutes

Once again, I decided to try it.

But jogging was something senseless to me,
And riding a bike seemed insane.
Joining a gym involved a large fee,
And lifting weights was a pain.

So for exercise I choose horseback riding.
It's fun and easier than it sounds.
It's a very effective form of dieting
'Cause my horse lost forty pounds.

Introduction of Visitors

Committee Reports

July 23, 2018 Finance Committee Meeting

Finance Chair Gerald said the committee discussed the year-end (Fiscal Year 2018) financial summary and presented it to the Board following the Committee meeting. Leila directed everyone to the draft of the transmittal memo that outlines the FY20 budget submission and will be submitted to the Fairfax County CFO and the County Executive in October.

MOTION #4

To approve the July 23, 2018 Finance Committee Meeting Report

Bill B. moved to approve the July 23, 2018 Finance Committee Report. Paul seconded the motion. The motion passed unanimously.

MOTION #5:

To submit the FY20 Budget Memorandum to Fairfax County

Gerald moved to submit the memorandum to Fairfax County. Bill B. Seconded the motion. The motion passed unanimously.

Board Member Input on Activities Attended

Paul attended the Back to School Bash on August 18. He attended the cardboard boat regatta at Lake Anne, which was an amazing event. He is currently recovering from South Lakes High School Marching Band's Tag Day. Paul and his wife were the chairs of the large fundraiser, and they were responsible for 140 students and parents fanning out all over Reston last Saturday.

Bill P. has been traveling, so he has nothing to report.

Vicky enjoyed this summer's Lake Anne Take a Break Concert Series and Monday's Candidates Forum. She recently had the privilege of taking her granddaughter to kindergarten at the same school her daughter attended. It was fun to point out the kindergarten room "where Mommy went."

Lisa attended the cardboard boat regatta. There were 22 boats last year (the inaugural year). This year's event had 40 boats. Next year, they are hoping for 60 boats, which would make it the largest cardboard boat regatta in the country. Lisa said it was a great event, and Lake Anne was packed on a sunny day. The event raised a lot of money for the Reston Historic Trust. Lisa talked to many visitors who said they previously had not known Lake Anne existed. Lisa went to several RCC concerts and donated to SLHS Marching Band Tag Day, as she has since 1975. Lisa's daughter, Nicole, is getting married on Saturday. She is hoping that Hurricane Florence will stay away. Anyone on the Board is welcome to come to the ceremony.

September 10, 2018 Board of Governors Meeting Minutes

Michelle went to the farmers market and boat regatta, which she said was phenomenal. She worked the Reston Kids Triathlon, as well as the Reston Triathlon on Sunday in the rain.

Gerald attended the Young Actors Theatre performances and has visited the farmers market. He is pleased Lake Anne Plaza in general is changing and has a good vibe. He went to Texas; it was hot. He has been busy with back-to-school activities.

Bill B. has spent the last few months in public hearings with Fairfax County Park Authority. Lake Fairfax Park's Master Plan should be passed by the Park Authority Board on September 24. They are making lots of investments and changes. He went to another public hearing on the implementation of the new drone policy that is based on a new state law that the park authority vehemently opposed. The state law says you can fly a drone anywhere at any time as long as it is not in a FAA-restricted area. The park authority is also working on a new alcohol policy for Tier 1-3 parks. The new policy introduces limited alcohol availability. He said the Northern Virginia Regional Park Authority is bringing in money with their alcohol policy and FCPA needs to get in on the game.

Bill K. worked at the Reston Triathlon on Sunday and "brought the RCC banner" to Fenway Park in August.

Bev said she and Bill B. participated in the final Hidden Creek Country Club focus group session. She said it will be interesting to see what comes of it. She has been in rehearsal for the Two Divas concert, which is scheduled for Friday but may be postponed by Florence.

Executive Director's Report

Leila showed the Board the Aquatics Renovation fact sheet, which has information about the "RCC Construction Pass," detailing where patrons can continue swimming during the renovation and other important information. She thanked the Reston YMCA, the Herndon Community Center and Reston Association for partnering on the effort. Leila said this is where our commitment to partnerships pays off; if you maintain partnerships consistently and create a real sense of collaboration, when you need your partners, they will support you. The Y is extending the same rates to our patrons as they did a year ago during our closure period. HCC will extend special pricing to our patrons; lower than non-resident pricing for those who don't live in Herndon. RA going to give a 10 percent discount in summer 2019 to pass purchasers who are not RA members. The fact sheet will be distributed next week.

RCC has about 500 pass holders. Leila said she hopes they will see this as a goodwill gesture from our partners and that this will give people someplace consistent for therapeutic exercise access to indoor and outdoor pools. Patrons will show their Construction Pass at the partner facility and pay the associated rate. A pass holders' age will be on the back of the card, so they can be charged appropriately. Leila is proud of the collaboration and is pleased the partners have been so generous. RCC is having an all-staff meeting on September 11 to discuss how to navigate the construction process.

DPWES is on the brink of the bid process for the pool construction. They will distribute information to pre-qualified contractors; this will eliminate the potential to receive bids from those who do not meet certain performance standards. The permits have been obtained. We are on time in terms of our timeline, and Leila hopes that will continue during her October vacation. She can be reached while in Italy, but the agency will be in John Blevins' able hands.

The wall has been built at RCC Lake Anne, replacing the folding doors at the Jo Ann Rose Gallery. Leila said the doors were getting dangerous and created problems for staff and people inside. This should dramatically improve acoustics and make Customer Service's job easier. We are awaiting installation of new audio-visual equipment, which should be here by the end of September.

The CenterStage floor has been completely removed. They have also finished grinding the cement around it. The new floor substructure is going in; the project is on time. The specialized traps will be put in place last. They will be lighter and safer.

September 10, 2018 Board of Governors Meeting Minutes

In personnel, Karen Brustché, the Lifelong Learning Director, was promoted as of August 20 as the Director of Leisure and Learning. She will oversee the process of replacing herself.

Summer concert season is finished. We had concerts at Lake Anne, Reston Station, classical and jazz at Reston Town Center Park, as well as Family Fun at the same park on Saturday mornings. Even though it rained a lot this summer, it turned out to be an average year for the number of washed out events. Attendance was up in all our locations.

Summer camp established a remarkable new benchmark, with 1,541 enrollments. Fall programs are filling fast, about on par with previous fall seasons.

Michelle added she is thrilled to see the Construction Pass. She has been deluged with questions. She is glad to see we will be sensitive to non-English speakers. Leila said staff will go to back to Fellowship House for a presentation on options for swimmers during the construction.

Old Business

There was no old business.

New Business

Bill P. said he agrees with the point brought up at the Candidates Forum that our website is sometimes hard to navigate. He said it may be worthwhile to look at how to make it easier.

Bev said we need to set up a nominating committee. She appointed Vicky and Bill K.

Leila will remind the Board of the Public Art Reston PARTY, and the ARTSFAIRFAX Arts Awards Luncheon – both occur October.

MOTION #5:

To Adjourn the Meeting

Bill B. moved to adjourn the meeting. Paul seconded the motion. The motion passed unanimously.

Bev commented on the seemingly nonstop rain. She served on the hiring panel for the new Deputy Director, and she introduced the new hire, John Blevins, to the Board. John said he is looking forward to joining the RCC staff next month.

Leila added that RCC received 135 applications for the job. Seventy-eight met minimum qualifications. The panel conducted seven interviews, and five of the candidates could do the work, the choice was made from a highly competitive pool of candidates. She said the panel is very happy with the selection of Mr. Blevins, who comes with extensive experience in Arlington County. He has deep familiarity with RecTrac, facility utilization platforms, capital improvements and community partnerships.

Committee Reports

June 4, 2018 Long Range Planning Committee

Michelle said meeting was a planning session for the June 18 Annual Public Hearing. The Board reviewed the highlights of the past year and looked ahead to the Aquatics renovation. The Board gave Leila feedback to shorten the PowerPoint presentation for the Annual Public Hearing.

June 18 Annual Public Hearing

Michelle said Leila and the Board communicated the highlights and the renovation plans. The latter led to some interesting questions from the community, as well as a letter to the editor in the Reston Connection. Leila responded publically to the questions posed in the letter.

MOTION #4:

Approval of the June 4, 2018 Long Range Planning Committee Report and the June 18 Annual Public Hearing report

Bill B. moved that the Board approve the reports. Gerald seconded the motion. The motion passed unanimously.

Board Member Input on Activities Attended

Paul has been focusing on Young Actors Theatre, which his daughter is attending with Gerald's daughters and is really enjoying the experience.

Bill P. attended the farewell team-builder event for Eileen Boone. He attended Planning and Zoning meetings, one of which went past 1:00 a.m. as they discussed four potential Reston projects.

Vicky has been enjoying the Lake Anne concerts from her deck.

Lisa did not attend Chalk on the Water, but saw the art the next day and was very impressed. She attended Reston Historic Trust meetings, and she said it is interesting to see how some people want to pass the torch (to the next generation of leaders) and some don't. She encouraged the Board to come to the August 11 Cardboard Boat Regatta at Lake Anne. The inaugural event last year was lots of fun and the plaza was full. It reminded her of the Reston Festival and other events in the 1970s.

Michelle also attended the Eileen Boone event. She has been at the Farmers Market and wrapping up the lake swim project. She has been swimming at RCC due to the rain and has a new RCC swim cap, which RCC is distributing to generate excitement before the pool closes for renovations and to remind our swimmers of their home base pool.

Gerald has been to GRACE and Public Art Reston events or meetings and concerts at Lake Anne and Reston Town Center. There have been large crowds at the concerts and the music acts are very talented.

Bill B. attended the Eileen team-builder. He went to the final meeting for the Lake Fairfax Master Plan revisions. The Park Authority is about to close public comment on that Master Plan next week and will approve it in September. Bill also went to meetings of the Hidden Creek Country Club task force. In a couple of weeks, that group will see the plan for the country club going forward. Last week, Bill helped dedicate the $1 million Bryce Harper Field at Fred Crabtree Park. He said the Park Authority will likely do another field with another Washington Nationals player next year. Bill said the Park Authority has gone through the accreditation process and will officially be accredited in October. Fairfax is the only park system that has gotten a perfect score twice, and he is hoping they will make it three for three. Bill thanked everyone for their cards and condolences for his mother, who recently died at age 97. Lisa said she felt like she knew Bill's mom through stories and videos Bill often posted on social media, and that she salutes her for a life well lived. Bill said she was a laugh right up until the end.

July 23, 2018 Board of Governors Meeting Minutes

Bill K. attended the Hidden Creek task force meetings and said he is eager to see where it will land. He has been to the Farmers Market. He agrees Lake Anne Plaza is really coming back; the brew house and coffee house have been good additions.

Bev went to the Eileen event, a Reston Multicultural Festival meeting and the Hidden Creek task force meetings. She is enjoying the current Hunters Woods art exhibit by John Mahlmann, who is also the vice president of the Reston Community Orchestra.

Executive Director's Report

Leila directed the Board to the FY18 transmittal memo, which shows savings due to personnel vacancies. Leila noted that many of the vacancies were from retirements, which means we went from the highest level of the pay scale to zero while the positions were unfilled; these savings will not reoccur. The total of the agency savings will be applied to the Aquatics renovation to cover the new estimated costs associated with it.

The Department of Public Works and Environmental Services (DPEWS) said the Aquatics cost is likely to be 16-20 percent higher (than estimated), which has translated to about $700,000 more than originally anticipated. Adding in the $300,000 for the roof replacement, that means another $1 million in costs. Also, $45,000 for replacement of the hot water heater is getting rolled into the project. We are going to be able to cover everything we need as far as the new construction cost estimate and associated contingencies are concerned and won't have to touch the reserves. We will still carry more than $1 million in reserves, and formulas will not be altered. FY18 also showed an additional $300,000 in tax revenue we did not originally project. We are in really good financial shape.

Leila said when we get to the conclusion of this major project, it may be time to revisit the structural budget of the agency; we may be being too conservative in our estimation of expenses at their highest possible level. It might be time to think about how we allocate costs and boosting allocations for outreach and other programs that are doing really well, and/or for administrative efforts that may be significant, one-time or other types of new expenditures. We won't do that until after the renovation. Leila said she is also concerned with potential rising cost due to tariffs, but is pleased our project is mostly concrete and not steel or other materials seeming to be targeted at present.

Bill K. asked when Leila thinks contractor bids will be submitted. Leila said DPWES has the 100 percent submission. We will have the comment review on July 30, then there will be a period of time to resolve any issues. Leila said the hope is there will be a pre-bid conference in September and the bid will be out in October. The award will be made at the end of October, and construction should start on time in January. Our current revised Total Project Estimate (TPE) is $6.5 million. The project has grown by $1,036,316 since the FY18 estimate, but the revised estimate includes the roof and the water tank which were not originally in the project as well as the impact of higher construction costs that have occurred since our original TPE.

Leila said the real challenge will be if there is not a sufficient number of competitive bids. DPWES does not seem anxious about that as there will be prequalified firms and an attractive timeline in which to do the project. She said DPWES has been very good at identifying issues during the design phase and fixing them immediately, so there will less to deal with down the line. She said they found an acceptable process for a filter mitigation system, which is saving RCC money by not having to rip out and replace the sanitary pipe in order to safely dump pool water. Supervisor Hudgins and the Board of Supervisors also approved waiving permit fees, which will save $100,000.

Paul asked whether we are still counting on 20 percent contingencies. Leila said the standard contingencies and escalations are included in the TPE. She also noted that the architect we selected had a solid track record of coming in with completion budgets within two or three percent of the original estimated budgets for their projects so she feels fairly confident about our allocation and its sufficiency.

Vicky said RCC has been prudent about looking at major issues ahead of time. Leila commended the Board for engaging with the community on this for six months. She noted attendance at the June Annual Public Hearing was light, which is a good sign that people are content with the plan. Leila added she is pleased with RCC's communication with Herndon Community Center and the YMCA for alternate plans for our patrons. We are looking at sharing instruction with other facilities as a way to further support our patrons. Plans should come together by the end of the summer, and we will print a FAQ sheet for our patrons that will begin distribution in September.

Leila complimented Renata and her team for an $11,500 carryover amount for this past year. They had to work very hard to get to the end of the year with that small an amount of expenses to add to the FY19 budget.

Leila said the doors to the gallery at Lake Anne will be replaced with a wall soon.

Leila directed the Board to the 2018 Preference Poll Candidates Handbook. She said there are no major changes to the handbook this year. Candidates whose terms are up are Bill B., Lisa and Gerald. Filing is open August 1-15.

Gerald asked about the stage floor replacement schedule. Leila said that will begin as soon as YAT is over. The seats will be replaced next year or the year after, with those house seats being reduced from 290 to 250 for better space between rows and staggering of the seats.

Old Business

There was no old business.

New Business

Vicky asked about RCC's role in the Coalition for a Planned Reston's (CPR) meetings on density. Leila said she has been attending as has Bill Penniman. They have contributed their views when needed or desired. Leila said it feels like déjà vu as everything that has been said was said in the course of the Reston Master Plan Task Force process. Paul said we should have a voice with Boston Properties and perhaps we will get a facility closer to the Metro station.

Leila said there have been serious talks with Boston Properties by the Planning and Zoning Committee and those have included RCC's priority facility goal for achieving a new performing arts venue in Reston. When their concept plan for development near the Reston Town Center Metro was recommended for approval by the county Planning Commission last week, it included a spot for a performing arts venue. That doesn't mean it is a done deal, but shows the Planning Commission is serious about it. Leila said she thought these CPR meetings were less antagonistic than previous ones and that people may be realizing that the zoning change contemplated is a function of a plan that has already been passed. Bill P. noted that he doubted that their opposition has changed, but agreed that the tone of the dialog was more productive.
